WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Bus Routes Checked

BERKELEY (AP) — Police are rechecking the bus routes missing University of California coed Judith Williamson used to get to school from her nearby Albany home.

The 18-year-old pre-medical student's parents said she took the same bus Monday through Friday, to reach the Berkeley campus in time for 8 a.m. class.

But yesterday, the bus driver and a regular passenger passenger on the route reported the girl took the bus three or four times a week, not five.

Blast Sinks Ship

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI) — An explosion in the engine room of the Earl of Desmond, an oceanographic research ship, last night blew a hole in the ship's starboard side and in its deck. No one was injured in the explosion and firemen confined the fire to the engine room. The ship settled to the bottom a block from the U. S. Naval Academy.

Kennedy Stamp

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A U.S. postage stamp will be isued to honor the memory of former President John F. Kennedy.

President Lyndon B. Johnson yesterday asked Postmaster General John A. Gronouski to confer with Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and other members of the family on the design of the stamp.

Giant Panda

TOYKO (AP) — Red China says the first giant panda ever born in captivity has been born in the Peking Zoo.

Plane Hijacked

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP) — Terrorists hijacked a plane over eastern Venezuela today and flew it to Port of Spain.

Five men and one woman among the 14 passengers seized the plane after it left Ciudad Boliver on a 110-mile flight to Maiquetia, six miles north of Caracas.

Mikoyan Thumbs Up

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Anastas Mikoyan returned tonight with a thumbs up gesture from talks in Washington with President Johnson and said he was "very satisfied" with his trip.

Mikoyan left the airport immediately, presumably to brief Premier Nikita Khrushchev on his talks with Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Kroeger Appeals

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ralph Kroeger, convicted with his wife of killing two persons, asked the State Supreme Court yesterday to dismiss his conviction, contending his wife's actions at the trial were unfair to him.

De Gaulle Criticized

PARIS (AP) — A leading Socialist criticized President Charles de Gaulle's attire at the funeral of John F. Kennedy and accused the Gaullists of using the trip to Washington for personal publicity purposes.

Gaston Defferre, mayor of Marseille, said last night he was shocked that De Gaulle wore his uniform. "We did not elect a general, but a president of the republic," he said.

Actress Divorced

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Linda Darnell's angry courtroom outburst against her third husband — whom she accused of fathering Yugoslav actress Vera Violetta Gregovic's child — paid off in divorce.

Miss Darnell, 40, won an uncontested decree yesterday, divorcing Merle R. Robertson, 43, an airline pilot.

College Of Marin Student Critical —Struck By Car

Girl Crossing Highway At Ignacio Intersection

A College of Marin student was in very critical condition today in Letterman General Hospital, San Francisco, after she was struck by a car yesterday while walking across Highway 101 at the Entrada Drive intersection, Ignacio.

Witnesses said the light was against Patricia Ann Helm, 19, as she stepped off the center strip island, about 6 p.m., according to the California Highway Patrol. She was hit by a car driven by Russell Dale Johnson, 22, of 15 Elisio Drive, Larkspur, who said he was going about 45 miles an hour.

Miss Helm, of 601 San Jose Boulevard, Ignacio, suffered a concussion, skull fracture, multiple internal injuries and multiple fractures of the right arm.

Johnson told officers he saw the girl step off the curb in front of him and he braked and started to swerve. He said the girl stepped forward, then back, and finally forward again, into his path.

A University of California student riding a motorcycle home for the holiday weekend was seriously hurt yesterday in a five-vehicle rear-end accident on Highway 101 north of the Terra Linda overpass.

Michael Smith, 19, of Santa Rosa, was in "satisfactory" condition today in San Rafael General Hospital with pelvic injuries and internal bleeding.

According to the highway patrol, Smith and drivers of three other cars, Fred Hall, 60, of Alameda; Semes Thornton, 37, of 443 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood, and Russell Meinke, 25, of Fort Meade, Md., were all stopped at 5:45 p.m. northbound because of a traffic snarl.

A car driven by Laurence Schmidt, 45, of 538 Fernando Drive, Novato, hit Meinke's vehicle. Smith was pinned between the Meinke and Thornton cars on his small Japanese motorcycle.

Officers said Schmidt would be cited for unsafe speed.

A 13-year-old Idaho boy was reported in satisfactory condition with back injuries in Hillcrest Memorial Hospital, Petaluma, today after four-vehicle crash on Highway 101 near Entrada Drive, Ignacio at 3:30 p.m. yesterday.

Doug Hapke, the injured boy, was riding in a small foreign car driven by his father, Leon Hapke of Pocatello, Idaho. The car was hit by a tractor and semi-trailer behind, driven by Lawrence Joseph Terra, 40, of Hayward, according to the highway patrol.

The car was pushed forward into one driven by Walter R. Johnston, 61, San Luis Obispo, who hit, in turn, a car driven by Richard Harmon Prange.

Terra told officers he had been distracted by a chain saw operated to his right, and started to roll forward after stopping at a red light. He said he thought the light had changed but was not looking ahead. When he did look, he realized his truck was pushing and crushing the car in front, patrolmen reported.

Metta Marie Mullens, 1-year-old daughter of driver Joan Mullens, 34, of Petaluma, was treated at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital after a two-car collision on Highway 101 across from the entrance to the Loma Verde subdivision.

Mrs. Mullens' car collided with one driven by Bonnie Margaret Gebhardt, 51, of Santa Rosa. Officers said Mrs. Mullens had apparently slowed down suddenly because she had intended to turn left from Highway 101, but had missed the chance to move into the turn lane, when her car was hit from behind.

Clean Bill Of Health For LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — "You can give Lyndon Johnson a clean bill of health. His heart is in excellent condition," says Dr. George W. Calver, official physician to members of Congress.

Calver said he gave Johnson a complete physical examination within the last six or eight weeks — including an electrocardiograph test.

The then vice president was found to be in excellent shape, the physician said in a telephone interview. He is in Florida.

Johnson suffered a heart attack in 1955.

"I'd bet that Lyndon Johnson is as good a health risk as anyone you could get hold of, considering his age and everything," Calver said.

Asked whether the strain of the last several days may have had an adverse effect on Johnson's health, the physician answered, "I doubt it."

"He doesn't worry about himself," Calver said. "He carries on and he does a very good job."

'GIVE OF OURSELVES'

Student Paper Has Message For Today

The Black 'n' White, student newspaper at San Rafael's Davidson Junior High School, appeared yesterday without school news. Instead, a single-page issue was devoted to an editorial, "A Time of Thanksgiving and Sorrow."

The editorial, which Principal Hanlon P. Tharp said resulted from a joint effort of the 15 members of the school's creative writing class, said:

"This Thanksgiving will be different. It will be hard to feel the spirit of the occasion after the events of the past week end. There may be those who feel no urge for the giving of thanks. Perhaps this is truly the most important time to feel the impact of the Thanksgiving celebration.

"Our land has been blessed with a succession of fine leaders, we enjoy the necessities and privileges of life as have no other people in history, and our nation has daily found the ways for peace in a time of worldwide peril. For this we should be thankful.

". . . How can we, the inheritors of struggle for liberty, influence our world for the good of all mankind? Perhaps we should follow the example of our late President — give of ourselves.

"1. Give of our time to read and understand the struggle in our nation and the world for the possession of men's minds and bodies through power or persuasion.

"2. Give of our wealth so that others might share in the generous benefits of our society.

"3. Give our our compassion and assistance to all neighbors who are attempting to gain the rights which are granted by law.

"4. Give of our efforts to insure that each American becomes personally involved in learning to live together and cooperate with all people.

"This is a time for much thought in our Thanksgiving."

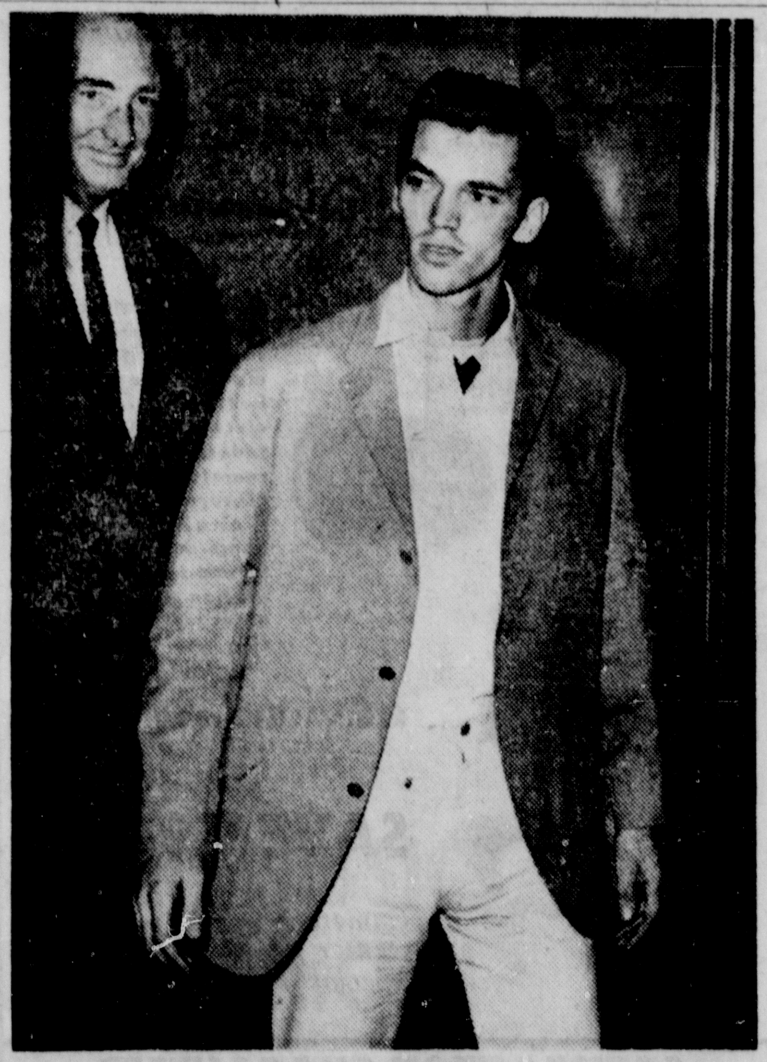
The Black 'n' White, a mimeographed paper, is produced three times each month by the creative writing class, under teacher Alfred E. Sparks. The class also produces the school annual.

The class "did not feel the usual school news would be appropriate this week," Principal Tharp reported.

Helicopter Lines Get Certification

San Francisco-Oakland Helicopter Airlines, which is seeking a terminal in Marin, yesterday was awarded the first permanent certification for a non-subsidized helicopter service ever issued by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The CAB adopted the recommendation of examiner Herbert K. Bryan that the certificate be granted for service linking San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, Palo Alto, Sunnyvale, and Marin and Contra Costa counties.



BROUGHT BACK TO JUSTICE

Paul Myles Meredith (right) is led to Marin County Superior Court by Chief Deputy Sheriff Ellis Seibert after extradition from Youngstown, Ohio. Judge N. Charles Brusatori said he would decide Monday on a new date for a trial on charges of robbery and auto theft for Meredith Meredith, 23, an airman from Hamilton Air Force Base, was arrested by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents in Ohio after he jumped bail in Marin and in Sonoma County, where he is charged with kidnaping a 15-year-old girl. Each county has now set new bail at $52,500. (Independent-Journal photo)

U.S. Gives Thanks In Veil Of Grief

President Planning Address

Combined AP & UPI

Americans throughout the world gave thanks through a veil of grief this Thanksgiving Day. President John F. Kennedy's death appeared to have given deeper meaning to an observance uniquely American.

Christians and Jews pray together in many services.

President Kennedy's Thanksgiving Day proclamation, issued before his death, was to be read in many churches.

FAMILY DAY

Most public celebrations were canceled and Thanksgiving became essentially a family day.

President Lyndon B. Johnson, addressing a joint session of Congress on Thanksgiving eve, urged the nation to "resolve that John Fitzgerald Kennedy did not live — or die — in vain."

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and her two children today missed a flight scheduled to take them to Hyannis Port, Mass., where they had planned to spend Thanksgiving Day with other members of the late president's broken-heartened family.

Making the flight were other members of the Kennedy family, including Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver.

ADDRESS PLANNED

It was learned that Mrs. Kennedy was at the White House at the time of takeoff.

There was an unconfirmed report that Mrs. Kennedy planned to pay a visit to the gravesite of the late president at Arlington National Cemetery.

President Johnson marked Thanksgiving today by attending church. The rest of his day included a scheduled television address to the American people and a traditional holiday dinner with his family.

The new president was scheduled to speak to the nation at 6:15 p.m. (EST) by television and radio. The White House described his talk as a "personal" address to the citizenry.

Johnson began his work day with a 10 a.m. EST briefing by Central Intelligence Agency director John A. McCone. The McCone visit lasted about half-an-hour.

The president's foreign visiters yesterday were Prince Norodom Kantol, prime minister of Cambodia and Gens Krag, Denmark's prime minister.

The Cambodian said he and Johnson had a general discussion "In terms of the friendship between Cambodia and the United States."

The nation's deaths during the early hours of the Thanksgiving weekend today appeared running near normal for a non-holiday period.

PLUMBER GETS THE BIRD AS TURKEY DOES A TROT

KANSAS CITY (AP) —- There will be no turkey for today's Thanksgiving dinner at the Jack Smith home. It escaped.

The bird, tied in the basement, kept Smith awake with its gobbling early Wednesday morning. He went down to quiet it.

"The basement side door was open," he said, "and the turkey broke loose and out the door it went." Smith took off in pursuit at 2 a.m.

"Some guy ran out with a shotgun and told me to stop," Smith said. "I yelled, 'don't shoot, I'm the plumber down the street and I'm chasing my turkey.' This guy started laughing so hard he put down thme shotgun and followed me."

The turkey was last seen running through a park.

Frank's Valley Site Purchase On Agenda

Marin County Board of Supervisors will meet in special session tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. to consider the purchase of the 15-acre Roy Scott property in Frank's Valley, bordering Mount Tamalpais State Park.

The county has the property under two-year lease, with an option to buy for $50,000. Rentals totalling $1,200, raised by conservation groups, have been paid thus far to Scott, a San Francisco resident, under the lease agreement. The 15-acre parcel is known as Muir Woods Terrace.

County Counsel E. Warren McGuire said he received a telephone call yesterday from the State Division of Beaches and Parks that the state will purchase the property for addition to the state park.

The special supervisors' meeting was called because if the county exercises its option to buy before Dec. 1, the $1,200 rental paid thus far can be deducted from the $50,000 purchase price. The state will then reimburse the county for the purchase. The amount of reimbursement will be based on new appraisals which the state will make.

The property is a grass-covered knoll on the uphill side of the road leading from Panoramic Highway to Muir Woods National Monument.

Officials See Possibility Of Early Western Summit

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Western summit meeting in the early part of next year remains a possibility.

High U.S. sources noted that North Atlantic Treaty Organization meetings include gatherings by government heads from time to time, and that four of the five big NATO powers—the United States, Britain, West Germany and Italy—recently have had changes at the top.

President Johnson has tentative agreements for talks with French President Charles de Gaulle, British Prime Minister Alec Douglas-Home and West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard early in 1964.

Precise arrangements for these meetings have yet to be worked out. One alternative is to have the leaders meet as a group. This possibility could be discussed at the NATO foreign ministers meeting starting in Paris Dec. 16.

Proposals for such a top-level parley have not yet come under active consideration, U.S. sources said. Johnson first has much domestic business to tend to.

Further in the future is any meeting between Johnson and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. U.S. sources believe that Khrushchev, like the U.S. leadership, is inclined against a summit conference without preparatory work and conditions likely to make the meeting fruitful. In the U.S. opinion, such circumstances do not exist now.

Anastas I. Mikoyan, Soviet first deputy premier who was Khrushchev's representative at the funeral of John F. Kennedy, was reported not to have mentioned the subject of a Johnson-Khrushchev meeting nor pressed other business during his talks here with Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Soviets Claim Shakespeare Russian

By LEO HEIMAN
Worldwide Press Service

JERUSALEM — Soviet scholars have come up with another Russian "first." Following so-called "well-documented" claims that Russians have invented or discovered everything from the sewing machine and submarine to penicillin, Soviet scholars have now "discovered" that William Shakespeare was really a Russian.

The Bard, whose identity has long been the subject of controversy, was, they claim, a seafaring Russian adventurer whose real name was Wladimir Shikospurov and who happened to settle in Britain.

The Department of Russian Literature at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, recently received a mimeographed 92 - page monograph published by the Soviet Institute for Literary - Historical Research in Leningrad. Co-authored by Professor Vsevolod Golubiev and Dr. Kazimir Sadilski, it is titled "Who was Shakespeare?"

It is typical for the first test - shots of a ridiculous Soviet claim to be fired in an obscure publication with a limited circulation—in this case, to literary historians. If their reaction is not ridicule and total rejection, the next step will probably be a bigger treatment in one of the ideological literary monthlies, such as Oktiabr, Neva, Moskva, Yunost or Novy Mir.

And if this succeeds, the next step will be for the Soviet Academy of Sciences' Department of Literary - Historical Research to meet in special session and "canonize" William Shakespeare as a "true son of the Russian people."

Professor Golubiev and Dr. Sadilski have allegedly discovered an old diary written by a Russian adventurer and writer named Wladimir Shikospurov. His father, Voyevada (Governor) Yuri Shikospurov, was a Boyar (Baron) at the Court of Czar Ivan IV.

Following the Russian Civil War and the Polish Army's intervention and temporary occupation of Moscow, Yuri Shikospurov was tortured to death by his captors. But his son Wladimir fled with a small band of Tartar mercenaries to Kazan and Astrakhan.

For the next 10 years, Wladimir Shikospurov wandered through the Moslem-Tartar kingdoms of Bokhara and Khorazm. He learned the local Turkmen dialect and the Arabic language and translated many Moslem folk tales into Russian.

His travels brought him to the Persian Gulf, from whence he had planned to return to Russia aboard a British pearl - trading ship, via Africa, the Iberian Peninsula and the Bay of Biscay. However, the ship sank off the Spanish coast, and the Russian adventurer was picked up by a Venetian galley and taken to Italy where he stayed five years, travelled a great deal, and learned Western languages.

He wanted to visit England and arrived there shortly after the defeat of the Spanish Armada. He soon fell in love with an English lady, who happened to be married to a lord, and composed his first sonnets in her honor.

He remained in England until his death in 1616, somewhere along the way changing his name to William Shakespeare.

A few years before he died, however, a Russian ship from Archangelsk happened to call at the port of London and Shikspurov, now Shakespeare, happened to meet it and his countrymen. He reportedly wept as he recalled the days of his youth in Russia, and then turned over to them his 900-page dairy, asking that it be delivered to his surviving relatives in the town of Tula.

As if this weren't plot enough for a 12 - reel movie, further documentation is offered to prove that William Shakespeare, renowned as a British literary genius all these years, was really a Russian.

The Soviet scholars draw anologies between Shakespeare's plays and old Russian, Tartar and Turkomen folk tales and legends.

For instance, they claim that "Hamlet" is based on the plot of an old Kiev-Russian folk tale called "The Evil Prince of Halicz."

"Othello" is nothing but a rehashing of the popular Tartar legend, "The Lover From Khorazm and His Sweetheart," the Soviet scholars declare, adding: "The plots, events, characters, and even some phrases in the two works are identical."

Likewise "The Merchant Of Venice" has been adapted by Shakespeare-Shikospurov from the traditional Turkmen tale "The Merchant Mansour And Zinat El Mawasiff." Since there were no Jews in Britain or Russia in the period of the play, Shakespeare — to obtain his knowledge of Jewish customs and traditional ghetto life in Venice — would have had to visit some sizable Jewish community, the Russian scholars point out.

The Bard's biographers say William Shakespeare never visited Venice. But Wladimir Shikospurov did. He also visited the thriving Jewish ghetto at Bokhara.

Moreover, this "great son of the Russian people" has not only adapted folk tales and legends to create the masterpieces of world literature. His alleged diary is said to contain, in the Russian language, the outline of a tragic love story which some years later appeared in English as "Romeo and Juliet."

Scholars here who have studied the Soviet "scientific monograph don't know whether to laugh or to weep.

"Why not make Lord Byron a Russian too?" suggested one. "After all, there may have been a Russian nobleman named Byronski or Byronov who once visited England too."

But if non - Communists laugh this off as too ridiculous to be taken seriously by anybody, they might remind themselves that there are Russians today who believe that America was discovered by Cossack Ataman Ivashka Brutsenko in 1485. After all, it is so listed in the Soviet Geographical Encyclopedia.

Sanitary District Accepts Project

Richardson Bay Sanitary District Tuesday night accepted the salt works canal pumping station and sewer relocation project as completed.

The station was moved, over a two year period, from the south side to the north side of Tiburon Boulevard to make room for highway widening, according to secretary Samuel A. Fletcher.

Timber Losses Reported Down

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The Department of Conservation says preliminary reports indicate a slight reduction in timber losses from bark beetles and other forest pests.

The drop is the result of more favorable climatic conditions and insect eradication efforts of several state agencies, the department says.

People spend about 26 per cent of their eating time in consuming snacks, a recent survey revealed.

B'nai B'rith Dinner Is Slated Dec. 7

Marin B'nai B'rith Lodge will celebrate its 25th anniversary at a dinner Dec. 7 at 8 p.m. at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, Ignacio.

Honored guests at the dinner will be Marin Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori and Yale Smulyan, second vice president of the B'nai B'rith district.

Brown Is Given Alternate To Udall Water Proposal

California Commission Reports Recommendations

SACRAMENTO (CNS)— The California water commission has transmitted to Gov. Edmund G. Brown a proposal for California features of a regional water plan, as an alternative to the Pacific Southwest Water Plan advanced by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall.

Reports of official state comments on Udall's plan were due Nov. 28 but were expected to be delayed because of the death of President John F. Kennedy. Brown, in a telegram to Udall, asked that the deadline for comment be extended somewhat and said his comments would be forwarded no later than Dec. 5.

The commission report and recommendations, contained in a letter to Brown, were expected to have considerable impact on the comments the governor eventually submits to Udall. Ralph M. Brody, chairman, is a former deputy director of water resources and special assistant to the governor on water matters. All members of the commission are appointed by Brown.

Reports from the State Department of Water Resources, 31 pages of comments, were forwarded to Hugo Fisher, resources agency administrator, as were comments of other departments involved, and Fisher also was expected to give recommendations to the governor.

Unlike a number of comments on the Udall plan, the water commission report dealt scarcely at all with criticism of the plan as such. It noted it could have rejected the plan summarily but felt the best interests would be served by suggesting "a program which would enable us to receive some outside assistance in meeting what is a serious problem not only to southern California but to our entire state."

The commission said it was unrealistic to assume congress would approve Udall's plan in time to permit use of federal funds for current enlargement of the state water facilities — primarily an increase in the capacity of the southern California aqueduct.

"It is our judgment that a preferable alternative, from a time standpoint, would be to provide the necessary added transmission capacity in the proposed east side unit of the Central Valley project to serve growing southern California needs," the commission said.

The commission said it agreed with those who insisted any plan for exporting water from Northern California would have to provide full protection to the areas from which the water was taken.

It said also that, at the same time facilities are constructed to transport water to areas of need, authorization also should be obtained for construction of added water conservation facilities.

The alternative plan suggested to the governor by the commission included:

1. Early authorization and construction of the east side division of the Central Valley project, with provision for an added capacity of at least 1.2 million acre feet, conditional upon contractural arrangements with local agencies.

2. Concurrent authorization and construction when needed, of Trinity River and South Fork Trinity River projects, or comparable projects.

3. A sea water conversion plant in Southern California.

4. A water salvage program as generally contemplated in the PSWP.

5. Fish, wildlife, and recreation projects as set forth in the report.

6. Satisfactory assurances that the Sacramento-San Joaqin Delta will be fully protected.

7. The commission said it did not feel it was appropriate to suggest which units should be included for other states. However, it said it had no objection to the inclusion in the regional plans of units listed in Phase I of the PSWP (which did not include the exporting of the 1.2 million acre feet to Arizona, which came under Phase II).

8. Authorizing legislation should provide that the secretary of the interior should, during construction of the above units, conduct negotiations with affected states and interests for the setting up and utilization of a regional development fund.

9. Elements contained in Phase II of Udall's plan should be subjected to further study. Such studies should include the Pacific Northwest as a possible future source of supply and area of benefit. The commission said it also was impressed with the proposal of the Los Angeles department of water and power for the Snake-Colorado project and this should be included in the study.

10. An interstate, or river basin, commission should be established to assist in future planning and formulation of a regional development area and fund. Such commission should have representatives from each of the states in the areas of surplus and each in the area of deficiency.

On the whole, the report and recommendations would seem to fit in well with the thinking Governor Brown has expressed recently on the PSWP. Brown criticized those who had rejected the project flatly and said a regional approach was desirable. If any of the plan were left at all, it could be considered a modification of the plan, Brown had said.

Securities Volume Up

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The total volume of securities offering cleared by the Division of Corporations during October was almost double that of the previous month, the division reported.

The October figure was 998.4 million dollars while the September total was 497 million dollars.

Permits issued during October also overtook the previous month. A total of 1803 permits were issued in October, compared to 1,350 in September.

Mill Valley Youths Selling Light Bulbs

Many Mill Valley youngsters of ages 10 to 14 will go door-to-door this week end selling light bulbs, proceeds of which will be contributed to the community and youth center fund drive.

Light bulbs will also be sold by youngsters this week end at the Mill Valley Safeway store. Bulbs will be sold in all sizes, singly and in packages of eight. "If a person only buys one bulb, it will help," said Jack Benjamin, director, adding "Our goal is to sell $1,000 worth."

In other fund drive activities boys from Tamalpais High School have erected a Christmas tree lot on C's Drive In property, 501 Miller Avenue, and expect to begin selling trees tomorrow.

Boys who erected the lot equipment include Dennis Thran, Terry Keast, Elwood Frink, Jim Kott, and Bill Hall. Decorations to be placed on the lot are under direction of Taxi driver G. W. Robertson and Postmaster John T. Little is erecting the lighting.

Collected so far in the $25,000 drive is $4,360, Chairman Richard L. Parino reported. Of this Mill Valley clubs have given $300, Rotary, $250, Lions; and $100, Optimist.

Two sections of the tri-sected center, the former Colonel's Ranch Wagon, were moved onto the new cement slab at Project 17 this week and a third section is expected to be placed before the week end, City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants said today.

DONATION DUE WIDOW

The San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce has voted to send a donation to Mrs. J. D. Tippitt, widow of the Dallas police officer who was slain by Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

The junior chamber will forward to Mrs. Tippitt any donations residents of Marin County care to send, said William A. Henderson, president. Donations may be made payable to Mrs. J. D. Tippitt and sent to the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce at 801 B Street, San Rafael.

Pilot Soars To Fringe Of Space In X-15 Test

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (UPI) — Test Pilot Milt Thompson soared to the fringe of space yesterday in an X-15 rocket ship equipped with an electronic brain for flying to extreme altitudes.

The fledgling space agency flier, who had flown the X-15 only once before, reached an altitude of 92,000 feet and a speed of 3,100 miles an hour to familiarize himself with the No. 3 version of the rocket ship. The flight was described as successful.

The electronic brain automatically senses the strange flying characteristics in space and reacts to help the pilot control the hypersonic bullet-shaped craft.

Thompson is the only man so far to fly the M-2 vehicle, America's first experimental manned spacecraft, and also is the only civilian who has been selected for the Air Force X-20 Dyna Soar orbital spacecraft program.

GOP Committee Support Johnson

Support for President Lyndon B. Johnson was pledged by the Marin County Republican Central Committee as "a part of the loyal opposition" last night.

The pledge was contained in a resolution unanimously adopted by the committee "deploring the atrocious, shocking and vile act resulting in the tragic death of our president" and extending "deepest and most heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family of our respected late chief executive."

The resolution urged that all Americans unite behind President Johnson.

Mrs. Kennedy Will Move Next Week

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and her two children will move into the Georgetown home of Undersecretary of State and Mrs. W. Averell Harriman late next week, the White House announced yesterday.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said the Harrimans had offered the use of their house to the widow and her children for an indefinite period of time. Mrs. Kennedy has accepted the invitation.

The home is located a few blocks away from the home that Mrs. Kennedy and her husband used to occupy when he was a senator and later president-elect.

The Harrimans will move into a hotel during the Kennedy family's stay at their home.

Kidnapers Say They Will Release Colonel Saturday

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Police combed Caracas today for a U.S. Army officer kidnaped by persons identifying themselves as pro-Castro terrorists. All exits from the Venezuelan capital were blocked.

Persons who said they were members of the outlawed Armed Forces for National Liberation — FALN — telephoned newspaper that Lt. Col. James K. Chenault, 47, Sherman, Tex., would be released Saturday afternoon, on the eve of Venezuela's presidential election.

Chenault, deputy chief of the U. S. Army mission in Venezuela, was abducted by four armed teen-agers yesterday as he was about to enter his car outside his home in the capital.

Two hours later, the U. S. Embassy received a call from a man who said he was an FALN member.

"We just want him for propaganda purposes," he said. "We are not going to harm him."

It was Chenault's second personal encounter with the FALN. He and his son, James K. Jr., 16, were at the U. S. Military mission's headquarters last June 5 when eight terrorists invaded the building and burned it out. Neither was harmed.

The government announced special security measures for all members of foreign military missions. The United States has more than 70 officers and men in Army, Air Force, Navy and Marine training mission in Venezuela.

Four Directors For Chamber

Four directors elected to two-year terms on the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce board in mail balloting were announced at yesterday's board meeting.

They are: Clyde E. Beasley, controller and personnel director, Golden Gate Baptist Seminary; Frank C. Hickman, Hickman's Chevron Service, and incumbents Charles F. Berlenbach Jr., southern Marin district manager, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., and Eddie R. Pedersen, south Marin district manager, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. The terms begin Jan. 1.

Directors and the directors-elect will meet Dec. 11 at noon in the Mill Valley School District board room to elect officers for 1964, Granville L. Beedle, secretary-manager, said.

Poster Of Nude Dressing Up Poles

LONDON (AP)—Posters showing a nude on a motor scooter are going up in the London suburban towns of Dagenham and Chingford despite church opposition.

Officials of the two towns decided Wednesday night the rear view of a girl wearing only a crash helmet would advance the cause of road safety. The only words on the poster are "but always wear a helmet."

Average annual yield from a natural rubber tree is about 700 pounds.

Planners Approve Master Proposal

Novato Planning Commission last night approved the master plan for the Pinheiro property of 165 acres west of Highway 101 and on both sides of San Marin Drive, after a second public hearing.

Vote was unanimous by the six members present, with no objection being raised during the hearing, reported planning director Robert Lagle. Commissioner Samuel E. Young was absent.

Preliminary maps for the Medeiros and Lynn Court subdivisions were rejected, the former because of inadequate access and the latter because the 50-foot lots were considered too narrow for the steeply sloping terrain.

WILLIAM B. RYDER JR.
Succeeds botulism victim

Marinite Named To Dental Unit

Dr. William B. Ryder Jr. of Belvedere was appointed yesterday by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to succeed the late Dr. G. Thomas Quigg of San Rafael on the State Board of Dental Examiners.

Doctor Ryder, who is 57, has his dental practice in San Francisco. He was born in Alameda and grew up in San Francisco. He is a graduate of University of California School of Dentistry and a licentiate in dental surgery of the Royal College of Surgeons in London.

He is assistant professor of dental medicine and instructor in post-graduate education at U.C. School of Dentistry, and on the faculty of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of San Francisco. He is a fellow and former regent of the American College of Dentists and a former president of the California State Dental Assn. He was a member of the subcommittee on dentistry of the National Research Council.

During World War II, Ryder served as chief of dental services at three medical installations in England and France. He was awarded the Legion of Merit, Bronze Star, and Croix de Guerre with star. He holds a reserve commission as Army colonel.

Doctor Ryder, his wife, the former Dorothy Martha Jennings, and their two daughters reside at 49 Peninsula Road, Belvedere.

Doctor Quigg died Nov. 3 of botulism poisoning.

'Textbooks Brainwashing Children'

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — A band of angry mothers charged yesterday that there is a conspiracy afoot to brainwash children with schoolbooks that slip pleas for world government into examples of bad grammar.

Twenty-six women appeared before the Mississippi textbook purchasing board at the invitation of Gov. Ross Barnett to demand that seven state school books be discarded.

SUPPORT OF U.N.

In addition to propagandizing for world government, the women said, the books support the United Nations, the National Council of Churches and "belief in the brotherhood of all people."

The board voted against any immediate purge of the books although chairman Barnett sided with the women.

Mrs. Harry Artz Alexander of Grenada, long-time leader of the Daughters of the American Revolution and chief spokesman for the group, said children are "victims of a conspiracy."

Another woman told the board that refusing to throw out the books would let "atheists and Communists take over."

Mrs. Alexander said she and her companions, members of the Citizens Educational Assn., came to the meeting at Barnett's request.

'SUBTLE WAY'

"We're not stopping until we have completely made available to young Mississippians the proper textbooks," she said.

Teachers, she suggested, cannot "recognize subversion."

Mrs. Alexander held aloft a copy of "English in action," which she said "tells the child that if he is prejudiced, he is wrong."

"This whole book concerns racial agitation," she said.

She pointed to an example of faulty sentence structure which read: "In my opinion, I think world government is necessary and attainable."

"Did you ever see a more subtle way of teaching a child that world government is good?" she asked.

The textbook "challenges to American youth," Mrs. Alexander said, promotes "the National Council of Churches . . . the social gospel . . . the brotherhood of all people."

"God is not the father of all," she announced. "He is the father of those who believe in him. There is not a brotherhood of all people."

Teeners To Send Money To Widow

The Marin Teen-age Republicans last night voted to send $30 to the widow of Dallas policeman J. D. Tippitt, killed by the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Members of the teen-age group heard Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) discuss legislative procedures and discussed the assassination. The group plans a debate with the Young Democrats of Marin on the subject of the House Un-American Activities Committee. The debate probably will be scheduled sometime next spring at a San Rafael High School Student Assembly, said Ron Clausen, Teen-age Republicans president.

Next meeting of the club will be Dec. 11 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 222 in the courthouse.

Contract Awarded For Alarm Room

Contract for converting a room of the main Novato fire station into an alarm room was awarded last night to Thomas McCormick of Novato, low bidder at $5,351.

Four bids were opened by the Novato Fire District commission. They ranged to a high of $7,890.

Team Wins Run-Off, Then Loses The Re-Run

The team that won the run-off lost the re-run of the run-off.

It happened at College of Marin, where students balloted for the second time yesterday in a run-off election for a team of basketball season song leaders.

In the initial election, none of the candidate teams won a majority of votes. So a runoff was held last Friday between the Pep Steps and the Tartles.

It was announced the Tartles had won, with 257 votes to 222 for the Pep Steps.

But two students objected to the student executive council that nobody had been checking voters at the ballot box. It could have been "stuffed," they contended.

So the council called for a re-run of the run-off. Yesterday, students balloted again—with a faculty member watching the box all the time and checking off names of voters.

This time, the vote came out: Pep Steps, 183; Tartles, 163.

Members of the Pep Steps are Judith Hoffman of Belvedere, Lurie Schwartz of Corte Madera, Patricia Partridge of San Rafael, Mary Jeannie Hansen of Ross, and Dorind Dustman of Novato.

Assassination Scene Re-Enacted By Police

DALLAS (AP) — A gray convertible, similar to the black one in which President John F. Kennedy made his last ride, rolled past the Texas School Book Depository building.

A man and woman sat in the back seat, just as President and Mrs. Kennedy did last Friday. Two men were in the front.

Looking down on this scene yesterday were investigators and a cameraman. They perched in the same window from which the fatal shots were fired.

They were re-enacting Kennedy's assassination.

An officer said the re-enactment was done "merely to get the sequence of events straight."

Police accused Lee Harvey Oswald, 24, a Communist sympathizer, of firing rifle bullets into the head and throat of Kennedy. Oswald, who was killed before authorities finished questioning him, had maintained throughout the interrogation that he did not kill the president, or anyone else.

Oswald, who once lived in the Soviet Union, was felled by a bullet fired by Jack Ruby, a Dallas night club operator. Ruby has been indicted on a murder charge and is in Dallas County Jail.

Investigators have learned that Oswald and Ruby apparently were former neighbors, the Dallas News reported today. It said unnamed peace officers disclosed that a man matching the description of Oswald once rented a room close to Ruby's home.

"This could be the key that we have been seeking," the newspaper quoted one officer as commenting.

FBI agents were in Laredo, on the Texas-Mexico border, yesterday tracing Oswald's activities there and in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico.

A Laredo clerk said the investigators told of finding a receipt from the store among Oswald's personal belongings. The receipt was dated Sept. 26, coinciding with the one on which Mexican immigration records indicate Oswald crossed into Mexico at Nuevo Laredo. He returned Oct. 3.

The Houston Chronicle quoted an informed source as saying an agent of the Dallas office of the FBI tried to talk to Oswald two weeks before Kennedy was slain.

The newspaper said an agent, identified only as Hosty, appeared at the home of Mrs. Michael Paine, where the Oswald family was living, and asked to talk to Oswald. Oswald was not there.

Wallace Wants Record Straight On His Views

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace says Gov. Edmund G. Brown is mistaken if he thinks Wallace has changed his stand on segregation.

Wallace sent Brown a telegram yesterday asking him to "set the record straight" about a Tuesday news conference in which Brown was quoted as saying Wallace told him "I might be wrong about Negroes." "I have not altered my position at all," the Alabama governor said.

"If I have breached a confidence," Brown replied in a telegram, "I apologize.

"My recollection of our conversation was that we agreed that hatreds must be diminished and understanding among men be increased if President Kennedy's death was not to be in vain.

"If I was wrong in that, then I am truly sorry, not only for myself but for our nation."

Novato High Crowns Queen

Gwen Smith, daughter of a former superintendent of Novato Unified School District, was crowned last night as Novato High School football queen.

Miss Smith, whose father is William J. J. Smith of 740 Eucalyptus Avenue, was elected in balloting by the student body on Nov. 22. Results of the election were announced last night at a football dance, which had been postponed from last Friday because of the death of President Kennedy.

Other candidates for queen were Peggy McFarland, Sue Nieri, Frani Hasik, Linda Thomas, and Lerona West. All were nominated by members of the football team.

More than 400 attended the dance in the high school gymnasium.

Tennis Courts To Be Kept Open

The Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission last night in regular session decided to keep the new tennis courts open throughout the winter season in the town park.

Robert Riboli, chairman, said enough good weather can be expected to warrant the action.

The commission approved a request from Neil Cummins Elementary School for about 24 assorted trees for landscaping purposes and also decided not to install a block-long fence along the park facing Tamalpais Drive.

Agent Made Johnson Duck Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The moment a Secret Service agent trains for came last Friday in Dallas to Rufus W. Youngblood.

An agent for 13 years, Youngblood was riding with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, two cars behind the presidential car, when he heard the shots that mortally wounded President John F. Kennedy and seriously wounded Texas Gov. John B. Connally.

He could not be positive that the reports were shots, but Youngblood, from his position next to the driver, turned and pulled Johnson to the floor, shouted "get down," and then half-sat and half-sprawled on top of him.

"It could have been a firecracker, a bomb or a shot," Youngblood, 39, said in an interview. "I recognized it as a abnormal sound and realized some action had to be taken. I saw quick, unnatural movements in the president's car."

If the assassin was in the warehouse that the caravan had just passed — as police assume he was — then Johnson's car at this point was closer to the killer than the presidential car.

Youngblood said Mrs. Johnson and Sen. Ralph Yarborough (D-Tex.), who were riding in the rear seat with the man who became president not many minutes later, also responded to commands and got down below window level.

Youngblood kept the three down during the five-minute drive to Parkland Hospital, where Kennedy and Connally were taken. The next day, Johnson wrote a letter to Secret Service Chief James J. Rowley, suggesting that Youngblood's action "deserves the highest commendation your service can offer for his tremendously courageous action."

Salesman Jailed On Check Charge

Gerald W. Teegarden, 56-year-old salesman, was in Marin County jail today on felony charges of passing a worthless $200 check last August.

Bond for Teegarden, of 310 Paloma Avenue, San Rafael, is set at $1,100.

San Rafael police said he allegedly passed the check Aug. 20 to Philip Sheridan of 79 Woodland Avenue.

Ida McLennan, Novato, Dies

Ida McLennan, 65, of Novato died early today in a local hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. McLennan resided at 49 H Lane. She leaves two brothers in Richmond.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Schmidt and Dickson Funeral Home, Richmond.

OBERT OLSON

Obert Olson, 68, retired owner of Lansdale Grocery in San Anselmo, died yesterday of a heart attack at his home, 909 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo.

He and his wife, Mary, lived in San Anselmo since 1944 and operated the grocery until his retirement several months ago. He was a native of Wisconsin.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Mill Valley Planners Advise Against Gas Station Changes

The Mill Valley Planning Commission agreed Tuesday night to write a letter to Wilshire Oil Co. advising it not to make alterations to the exterior of its service station at Miller and Montford avenues without first getting approval from the Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee.

Minor changes have already been made at the station, the commission was informed.

Edward J. Boessenecker was reappointed commissioner for a four-year term. He had been filling out the unexpired term of Robert Hyer, which ends Dec. 19.

A workshop session was set for 8 p.m. Tuesday to discuss a proposed planned residential zoning ordinance. The regular Dec. 24 meeting date was changed to Dec. 30.

More Meter Raids Reported

San Rafael police reported another in a series of raids on parking meters occurred at the city parking lot at Fifth Avenue and C Street at 12:16 a.m. yesterday.

Officer Bart Stinson, on foot patrol, saw a suspect in the lot and gave chase, but the man got away. Six meters on the east side of the lot were opened, Stinson said. Police had no estimate of the loss.

Tuesday police reported that between $100 and $250 has been stolen from meters since Thursday, and Charles Robert Herren, city meter collector, estimated that $500 has been stolen in the past two weeks.

Bands Will Perform At Football Game

The San Rafael and Terra Linda high school bands will perform at halftime during the Oakland Raiders-San Diego Chargers football game in Oakland on Dec. 8.

The game was originally scheduled for Dec. 1, but was put back a week following the death of President Kennedy. The bands are being sponsored by the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce. Information about tickets may be obtained from the chamber office.

Parts of Asia were hit hardest by the 1963 drought. More than 300,000 Pakistanis were forced to abandon their homes in West Pakistan to seek food and water.

Non-Farm Jobs Hit New Record

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Non-farm employment in the state during October totaled 5,512,800, a record for the month, the Department of Industrial Relations reported.

The figure also was 3 per cent higher than ay ear ago, or 170,600 more than the number employed during October 1962.

Total civilian employment of 6,611,000 also set a record for the month.

$329 Million Deal For Oil Companies

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Humble Oil and Refining Co. and Tidewater Oil Co. yesterday jointly announced a 329-million-dollar cash deal in which Humble has agreed to buy certain western properties of Tidewater.

The properties include Tidewater's refinery at Avon, in the San Francisco Bay area, with a capacity of 135,000 barrels of crude oil daily.

The deal also includes marketing facilities and certain of Tidewater's transportation facilities in California, Washington, Idaho, Oregon, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii, and five foreign super-tankers.

Tidewater will retain title to all properties except those specifically mentioned. It was understood the transaction will not affect the Houston division office which is entirely exploration and production.

Tidewater will continue in the West, Mid-continent and Southern areas as an oil and gas producer, and in the East as a refiner and marketer.

Tidewater said the funds will be used to reduce its substantial debt and to expand production operations in its Western and Southern divisions, and to become a more effective competitor in refining and marketing in its other marketing areas.

Humble is one of the nation's largest crude oil producers, and has no refinery on the West Coast. It is well established in marketing in the East, Southwest, parts of the South and in the Midwest.

With acquisition of the Tidewater properties, Humble said it expects to become a strong competitor in the West Coast markets. It will then market in 46 of the 50 states.

The transaction is expected to be consummated as soon as the details are all worked out.

Tidewater is one of the nation's older companies, tracing its origin back to 1878. Tidewater Oil Co. became a big operator in the East and Mid-continent.

Associated Oil Co. operated in Pacific Coast states. They were merged as Tide Water Associated Oil Co. in 1926, and the name was shortened to Tidewater Oil Co. in 1956.

U.S. Teen-Agers Have 10 Billion Dollars

NEW YORK (UPI)—The total annual income of U.S. teen-agers exceeds 10 billion dollars, almost all of which is spent, according to an article in Sales Marketing Today magazine.

The survey also noted that teen-age boys get only 22 per cent of their income from allowances and gifts while the girls get 40 per cent of their income from the same sources.

Bids To Be Called On School Site

Reed School District trustees Tuesday night instructed the architectural firm of Callister and Rosse to call for bids on the site development of the Granada Elementary School, scheduled to be opened next fall.

Bids are to be returned to the district office, 1155 Tiburon Boulevard, not later than 5 p.m., Dec. 17 and will be opened at the trustees' meeting at 8 p.m. that day at the Reed School.

The trustees also directed the administration to plan for the construction of a second school for sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils at the Reedland Woods site not later than five years from now.

International Affairs Talk Set At College

The use of scientific data to predict the course of international affairs will be explained to College of Marin students at a lecture Thursday noon at Olney Hall on the Kentfield campus.

The talk by Dr. Ricard A. Brody, assistant director of Stanford studies in international conflict and integration, is sponsored by the Mariner Discussion Committee. The title of his speech is "Peace Through Automation."

Instead of license plates, the royal limousine of the Maharana of Udaipur carries a brilliant gold sun disk, the family symbol for centuries.

Little Switzerland Is Mighty And Enjoying A Super-Boom

By CHARLES LA ROCHE

ZURICH, Switzerland (UPI)—Little Switzerland is enjoying an economic super-boom. Figures tell the story.

No number is quoted with more pride than the 142 unemployed counted last August 31 in a population of 5 million—a record that's no one - shot economic quirk. There were only 148 unemployed at the end of July, and only 171 at the end of September.

This situation reflects not merely the "total employment" formerly regarded as just an economic theory. Switzerland suffers from a severe case of over-employment.

At the end of August, 1963, there were 690,000 foreigners working in Switzerland on short-term permits, an increase of 7 percent over August, 1962. This would be comparable to the United States importing the whole population of Canada within one decade to keep its economy going.

Thirty-five per cent of all industrial workers in Switzerland are foreigners; in some branches, such as textiles, 50 to 60 per cent.

But these are not the only stunning figures.

Since 1951, when the superboom really started rolling, popular income doubled from 19,020,000,000 Swiss Francs ($4,423,000,000) to an estimated 38,000,000,000 Swiss Francs ($8,84,000,000) in 1962.

The basis of the boom is undoubtedly the sustained demand for Swiss goods and services both at home and abroad.

Curiously, the Swiss were helped, in a way, by a grave miscalculation on the part of their notoriously overcautious and pessimistic government.

Expecting an economic crisis and large-scale unemployment after the war, the government permitted a backlog of public works to accumulate during the war, when military service siphoned off eonugh workers to eliminate the unemployment problem.

At the same time, private industry was nudged into creating "crisis reserves," for the expected post-war slump.

With Swiss banks, their vault bursting with money, cheering from the sidelines, Swiss industry, as soon as it saw there would be no world economic crisis, went on the investment binge in Swiss history. New factories were strewn over the landscape by the hundreds — but nobody bothered to reckon seriously how these factories would be populated in a country that never had much unemployment before.

The big investment spree was, of course, helped not only by the "crisis reserves" and the cheap credit, but also by Switzerland's low taxation, the lowest of any highly-industrialized country. The low taxes eased the ploughing back of profits into expansion.

Seven hundred thousand foreigners brought into Switzerland to fill the work force gap did their share to stimulate sales and home constructions.

The Swiss themselves modestly attribute their unique boom largely to a combination of lucky coincidences. But economic discipline played its part.

Switzerland's business leaders demanded "discipline" not only from their workers, among whom a work week of 44 hours or less is still the exception rather than the rule, but also from their stockholders, who got relatively meager dividends. The argument was that sustained expansion was more important than short-term wealth.

Discipline also was necessary to withstand the temptation to let workmanship and quality of goods slip. The efforts of decades to build the image of Swiss exports as not exactly cheap, but always worth the money, from watches to cheese, from machine-tools to chocolate, from turbines to pharmaceutics, were sustained.

Today, Swiss business leaders are beginning to worry about keeping this high standard, because they fear many of the foreign workers imported cannot match their Swiss counterparts in skill. But enough of the reputation of high quality remains to permit the Swiss to beat the Common Market bogey: While neither a member of "The Six" nor associated, Switzerland has steadily increased its export to the Common Market countries over the last four years.

Experts see some dangers in the present situation. For example a stroke of the pen by some Italian official, calling home the 40,000 Italian short-term workers in Switzerland, could spell disaster to Swiss production.

But empty factories, because there are no workers around, are still preferable to empty factories because there are no orders on the books.

High Army Award Goes To Marinite

Edward F. St. Germain of San Rafael has received the Army outstanding performance award for his work as chief of the financial management office at Oakland Army Terminal, the Army announced today.

St. Germain is scheduled to leave for Panama where he will be program manager for the logistics section, Army Forces, Southern Command, Fort Amador, Canal Zone.

'MOST WANTED' — Alfred Oponowicz, accused of bank robbery and escape from custody in Cleveland, Ohio, has been placed on the Federal Bureau of Investigation's list of "10 most wanted" criminals. Oponowicz, the FBI warns, "has stated he will not be taken alive," and allegedly travels with a machine gun under the front seat of his automobile.

Group Wants To Know Of Land For Heliport

The Marin County Airport Advisory Committee wants to know what land is available in southern Marin County for a heliport, Eugene R. Trombley, committee chairman, announced today.

Public agencies or private owners having usable property are requested to let the committee know if it is available, Trombley said.

The site must be level, approximately 200 by 200 feet, with access from Highway 101 and preferably close to San Francisco Bay, he said. "A heliport location from Alto south is highly desirable."

Further information may be obtained from Carroll Snyker, committee secretary, at the Marin County Development Assn.

Bridge Traffic 'Critical Issue'

Traffic congestion on the Golden Gate Bridge has become "a critical issue," according to a bulky report received yesterday by the bridge district board, and some means must be found to "provide maximum speed of travel through the toll gates."

One possible solution, called feasible by the report, will be considered by the board at a special "fact-finding" session Dec. 6—one-way bridge toll collections.

The time a motorist spends at the toll gates should be kept to a minimum, and elimination of tolls for traffic one-way would obviously reduce time and congestion, according to the report from Arthur C. Jenkins, district traffic engineer.

His 189-page report, called "Financial and Traffic Projections Under Present and Reduced Toll Rates," made these conclusions:

1. One-way toll collection is feasible as to "practical and economic aspects, and within reasonable limits there would be no conflict with legal requirements."
2. Average reduction in traffic time for a motorist crossing the bridge southbound, if tolls were collected northbound only, would be about 20 seconds.
3. Annual savings in operation costs for the district under one-way toll collection would be $52,000, with an extra $19,000 a year saved if commuter tickets are abolished.
4. However, if one-way toll is 25 cents, the district would lose about $2,000,000 a year in revenue. (Toll revenue for the 1962-63 fiscal year was $5,027,508) This expected revenue loss takes into account Jenkin's estimate that traffic would increase by about 800,000 vehicles the first year tolls are reduced.
5. The bridge district will have net accumulated reserve funds of $27,900,000 at the end of the bond redemption period July 1, 1971, if present tolls are continued. The extent of any improvements or reduction in tolls would "obviously curtail" the reserves or result in deficits.

Advantages of one-way collection, the report said, would include reduction of accident hazards at the toll plaza, elimination of commute tickets if 25-cent tolls are adopted and fewer toll gates to maintain.

Disadvantages include "adverse reaction" on financing of second crossings because of possible confliction in bond issue requirements: "There may be many problems of bond underwriting and interest rates if a system of one-way tolls on the Golden Gate Bridge should be in conflict with potential earning capacity of a second bridge."

One-way tolls might also "discriminate against single-trip vehicles although imbalance of annual north-south traffic is of relatively small proportions."

Regardless of possible adoption of one-way tolls, the Jenkins report emphasized that "satisfactory handling of bridge traffic cannot be fully attained" until these "critical deficiencies are met."

Modernization of the toll plaza; widening of bridge approaches on the west side of the south end; completion of a freeway program connecting San Francisco streets to the toll plaza; completion of a freeway link between the Presidio and southern bridge approaches.

Thomas D. Hardcastle, one of Marin's bridge board directors, emphasized there are "two questions to consider. First, can we speed up traffic by one-way tolls? Second, can the district afford to reduce tolls. These issues should not be confused."

Park Named For Kennedy

NAPA (AP)—Napa's newly-acquired 350-acre recreational area was named yesterday the John F. Kennedy Memorial Park.

The action was taken by the Napa City Council in honor of the late president.

The area, located along the Napa River just south of the business district, was acquired from the state. It formerly was Napa State Hospital farm land.

Napa intends to build a golf course, a small craft marina, a cultural center with a bandshell, a little theater, botanical gardens, zoological gardens and picnic and recreational grounds on the acreage.

Sympathy Letter Sent Mrs. Kennedy

A letter of sympathy signed by nearly all of the 1,980 students at Redwood High School was sent yesterday to Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy after the students attended a memorial service for the late President.

The students told Mrs. Kennedy of their request to the district school board to name Redwood's new library the John Fitzgerald Kennedy Library and enclosed a copy of the special memorial edition of the Redwood Bark, student newspaper.

Redwood students will work this weekend to raise funds for the National Foundation for Mentally Retarded Children, in the name of President Kennedy for the widow of Dallas policeman J. D. Tippitt and for the school's foreign exchange program.

Student body president Lawrence Herst and Principal Donald Kreps presided at the memorial service, which was concluded by a moment of silent prayer.

Open House Re-Scheduled

The Marin County superintendent of schools open house, which was scheduled Tuesday at the Civic Center, will be held Dec. 10.

Supt. Virgil S. Hollis announced the schools offices on the fourth floor of the Civic Center will be open to the public from 4 to 9 p.m. on Dec. 10.

The open house was postponed because of the assassination of President Kennedy.

Turkey Production

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Although California turkey production dropped 14 per cent this year, the state still ranks first in the nation in the number of gobblers grown, the Agricultural Council of California reported.

Garden Club Sets Dinner

Redwood Shade Garden Club will hold its Christmas dinner and installation of officers Dec. 6 in Whitaker Hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Belvedere.

Dinner will be at 7 p.m., according to Mrs. Janet Taylor, publicity chairman.

To be installed are Andrew Sturm, president; William Thompson, first vice president; Mrs. Miriam Grbac, second vice president; Robert Gill, recording secretary; Mrs. Mildred Howie, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Alice Oldag, treasurer. Reservations may be made through Mrs. Ottar Dahl, Tiburon, or Mrs. Edward Johnson, Mill Valley.

Strep Infections Lead Disease List

Streptococcic infections, with 27 cases, led the list of communicable diseases reported to the Marin County Health Department last week, but mumps were close behind with 25 cases.

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, also reported two cases of gonorrhea, one case of measles and one case of mumps meningo encephalitis, a complication arising from mumps.

RUBY TRIAL JUDGE — Judge Joe Brown of the Criminal District Court of Texas will preside over the trial of Jack Ruby, indicted on charges of murdering Lee Harvey Oswald, the man accused of assassinating President John F. Kennedy. Trial is set for Dec. 9 in Brown's court in Dallas.

Paperback Book Fair Is Slated

Novato High School library club will sponsor a paperback book fair in the school's parking lot from Dec. 9 through Dec. 13, according to Mary Bono, student chairman of publicity for the club.

The fair will be held in a mobile book truck which will have 2,000 paperback books from which to choose, Miss Bono said.

Profits from the sale of the books go to the library club.

In Kennedy's Honor

The Marin County Historical Society will hold its quarterly meeting at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley at 1 p.m. Sunday in memoriam to President John F. Kennedy.

Christmas Outdoor Decoration Contest

Deck the walls and mail in your entry blank. The Christmas Outdoor Decoration Contest is on again.

Sponsored by the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Independent-Journal, the contest is open to all in Marin County. Entry blanks must be filled out and mailed to the chamber office, 801 B Street, San Rafael, no later than Dec. 19. An entry blank is printed in today's Gift Guide in the I-J.

The newspaper is putting up the prize money with $50 for first, $25 for second, $15 for third and $10 for fourth prize. The next eight prizes will be electric clocks donated by the Christmas Lighting Assn. The association has also donated ribbons for award of merit and honorable mention.

Judging will be from 6 to 9 p.m. on Dec. 20, 21 and 22.

Winners will be announced Dec. 23.

Judging will be based on:

Christmas theme, 35 points; artistic merit, 25 points; originality, 20 points, and ingenuity 20 points.

Additional entry blanks will be carried in subsequent announcement ads. But don't wait too long if you plan to enter.

Huber Elected To GOP Group

Robert D. Huber, former mayor of Mill Valley, was elected Tuesday night as a member of the Marin County Republican Central Committee to fill the vacancy by resignation of David Winslow of Tiburon. Huber, an attorney, was a former member of the committee.

Charles Daniel Jr. was elected chairman of the headquarters club committee, which is investigating the possibility of a year-around headquarters club in Marin, chairman Gerald E. Misner said. Paul Haerle was named editor of "Trumpetings," the official Republican periodical in Marin County.

The committee meets the fourth Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m. in the county courthouse.

Commemorative Stamp Postponed

First day sale of a five-cent "American Artists" series commemorative stamp for John James Audubon has been postponed until Dec. 7 at Henderson, Ky., it was reported today by San Rafael Postmaster Warren H. Williams.

The stamp has been scheduled for first day sale tomorrow, and for general sale at other post offices Saturday. It will not go on sale here until Dec. 8, Williams said.

Marinite Captain Of Polaris Sub

Cmdr. John H. Nicholson of Vallejo, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Nicholson of San Rafael, is captain of the Stonewall Jackson, a Polaris-carrying submarine that will be launched at Mare Island Naval Shipyard at noon Saturday.

Commander Nicholson formerly was captain of the submarine Sargo which sailed under the North Pole.

Thanksgiving Dinner Set On Oil Barge

The crew of the oil drilling barge, Glomar II, will have its Thanksgiving dinner at the Shell Oil Co.'s lease off Point Reyes today.

The company announced that drilling will be resumed at a 4,398 foot test hole about three miles off Point Reyes.

The drilling was suspended late last month because the Glomar I was unable to operate in rough seas.

The Glomar II, a larger rig and better able to withstand the seas, sailed from Cook Inlet in Alaska to drydock at Alameda for repairs and then sailed to the Point Reyes lease last night.

The drill site is in 250 feet of water at one of 49 California offshore leases, totaling 266,000 acres, acquired by Shell at a federal sale in May at a cost of $11,440,000.

Timber Rules Strengthened

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The State Board of Forestry has strengthened its regulations requiring timber operators and owners to notify the state of proposed timber harvesting operations.

The board said the regulations were strengthened so that adequate inspections may be made before operations begin.

The new regulation is a requirement of the Forest Practice Ace as amended by the 1963 legislature.

State's New Disaster Plans To Be Ready Within 60 Days

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The state's new disaster plans — both in event of natural or enemy-caused emergencies — should be ready for distribution within 30 to 60 days.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown had announced at his statewide disaster preparedness conference last week that the state's plan had been revised. While, in listing the plan, it indicated possible changes in philosophies, this actually was not the case.

Harry Van Wyk, deputy director of the California disaster office, said the main change in the state's plan will be in the way it is presented to local authorities. The present plan is all in one big section, but the new plan will be broken down into the various services—such as fire protection, police protection, etc.

This will permit local jurisdictions who are interested in a particular phase of preparedness to obtain the specific state plan for that phase, rather than having to go all through the overall plan.

The new plan also puts a bit more emphasis on local options for smaller communities. While the state concept for disaster operations now is for the use of fallout shelters, rather than mass dispersal, smaller communities may elect to provide for evacuation if it is indicated.

Highlights of the plan presented by Brown included: emphasis on fallout shelters and de-emphasis on evacuation; military forces which have not been committed to combat will assist local authorities in continuing vital functions of local government; the warning system is changed so the public, when it hears air raid sirens, will simply turn on the radio. Detailed instructions will be broadcast to the public.

Local radio stations would be provided with information on the disaster situation, as well as instructions for the public. This system will replace the old CONELRAD system which was abandoned some months ago.

Aboard Transport

James O. Pearson, Navy radarman seaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fort Pearson of 47 Crooked Avenue, San Anselmo, is serving aboard the attack transport Noble which returned to San Diego recently with other ships of Amphibious Squadron One after a nine-month tour of duty with the Seventh Fleet in the western Pacific.

Cloak And Dagger Men Now Run Digital Computers

Finishing School For 'Spies' Puts Emphasis On Eggheads

By ROBERT BUCKHORN

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There was a time when all a man needed to get into the spy game was a hollowed-out bootheel and the nerve of a door-to-door salesman.

But the cold war is producing a new breed of cloak-and-dagger man—one who puts his faith in a slide rule, a high-speed digital computer and a guaranteed government pension.

In the United States, the finishing school for these "egghead" spies is the National Security Agency (NSA), a super secret organization tucked away on a nearly 1,000-acre slice of Fort Meade, Md., some 20 miles from Washington.

Inside the walls of a huge, well-guarded building is one of the best collections of engineers, physicists and mathematicians the government can muster.

How many there are, what they do, and how they do it is a government secret. For the record, officials usually admit only that the agency is under the Defense Department; that its boss is Air Force Lt. Gen. Gordon A. Blake, and its projects are top secret.

Others put it more vividly: They describe NSA's job as secret code making-and-breaking along with the development and use of radar and radio intercept equipment. In short, electronic espionage.

It was not so long ago that this sort of work was considered to be an ungentlemanly peacetime occupation. In 1925, incoming Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg was amazed to learn the State Department had a code-breaking section. He promptly closed down the so-called "black chamber" and found new jobs for its staff.

But things are different in the era of the cold war. To feed its banks of computers, to work its "seldom seen array of instrumentation," and to read and write obscure languages, NSA goes to the college campus for its manpower.

Despite a distinct competitive disadvantage in trying to match industry offered salaries, NSA makes no attempt to play up the glamorous angle of its job.

Instead, a would-be counter intelligence agent is offered civil service protection, low-cost insurance, liberal vacations and employment in a building equipped with "three banks of escalators, nine snack bars, and a modern cafeteria."

But it does not take too much between-the-line reading for a bright student to figure out that NSA works best in the shadows.

In its recruiting literature, there are subtle hints that there is more to the job than can be told publicly.

For example, math majors are told that NSA has developed "an entirely new mathematical science." This was necessary, it says, because knowledge in some math fields "is not sufficiently advanced to satisfy our requirements."

Since electronic computers are keystones in NSA's work, the engineer is told cryptically that he will search "endlessly" for ways to increase the reliability of the computers with particular emphasis on speed. Language majors get an oversimplified job description. They will be assigned to translation duties or may be taught an entirely new language, NSA says.

Despite its fetish for secrecy, most of what the public knows about NSA came from the unreliable mouths of two code clerks who defected to Russia in August of 1960.

They were William H. Martin and Bernon F. Mitchell, admitted Communist sympathizers and accused sexual deviates.

In a Russian-staged propaganda show, Martin and Mitchell held a news conference in Moscow and gave the world their version of what NSA does.

According to them, the United States deliberately sends planes along Russia's borders to trigger radar devices. While the Russians are monitoring the planes, American-controlled ground stations tune in on their frequencies. The information collected by the ground stations is then sent to NSA where analyists break the communications code system used by the Russians, the two defectors said.

All told, Mitchell and Martin said the United States has "more than 2,000" communications intercept positions around the world.

(Mitchell at one time lived in San Rafael.)

When it is not busy spying electronically, the pair said NSA is cracking codes, both those of its friends and its enemies.

According to them, this country reads the coded messages of more than 40 nations. Another division develops the sensitive radio and radar equipment needed for electronic espionage work.

When Mitchell and Martin chose the way of the turncoat, NSA got what it wants least—publicity.

In Congress two investigations were opened, one by a House armed services subcommittee and another by the committee on Un-American Activities.

Both committees asked basically the same question: Is the National Security Agency secure enough?

As was to be expected, Congress divulged little information on what NSA does. But in its report on the investigation issued in August, 1962, the committee on Un-American Activities admitted that it felt Mitchell and Martin possessed knowledge about "the organization and operation" of NSA.

It was also reasonable to presume, the committee said, that their "disclosures" to the Soviet Union "adversely affected the security of the United States."

However, the lawmakers admitted that NSA's function was "so highly classified" that they did not attempt to "learn the products of this agency."

But the investigation did result in a tightening of NSA's personnel screening.

Under the new system, the committee report shows the least a college graduate can expect if he takes a sensitive job with NSA is:

A lie detector test.

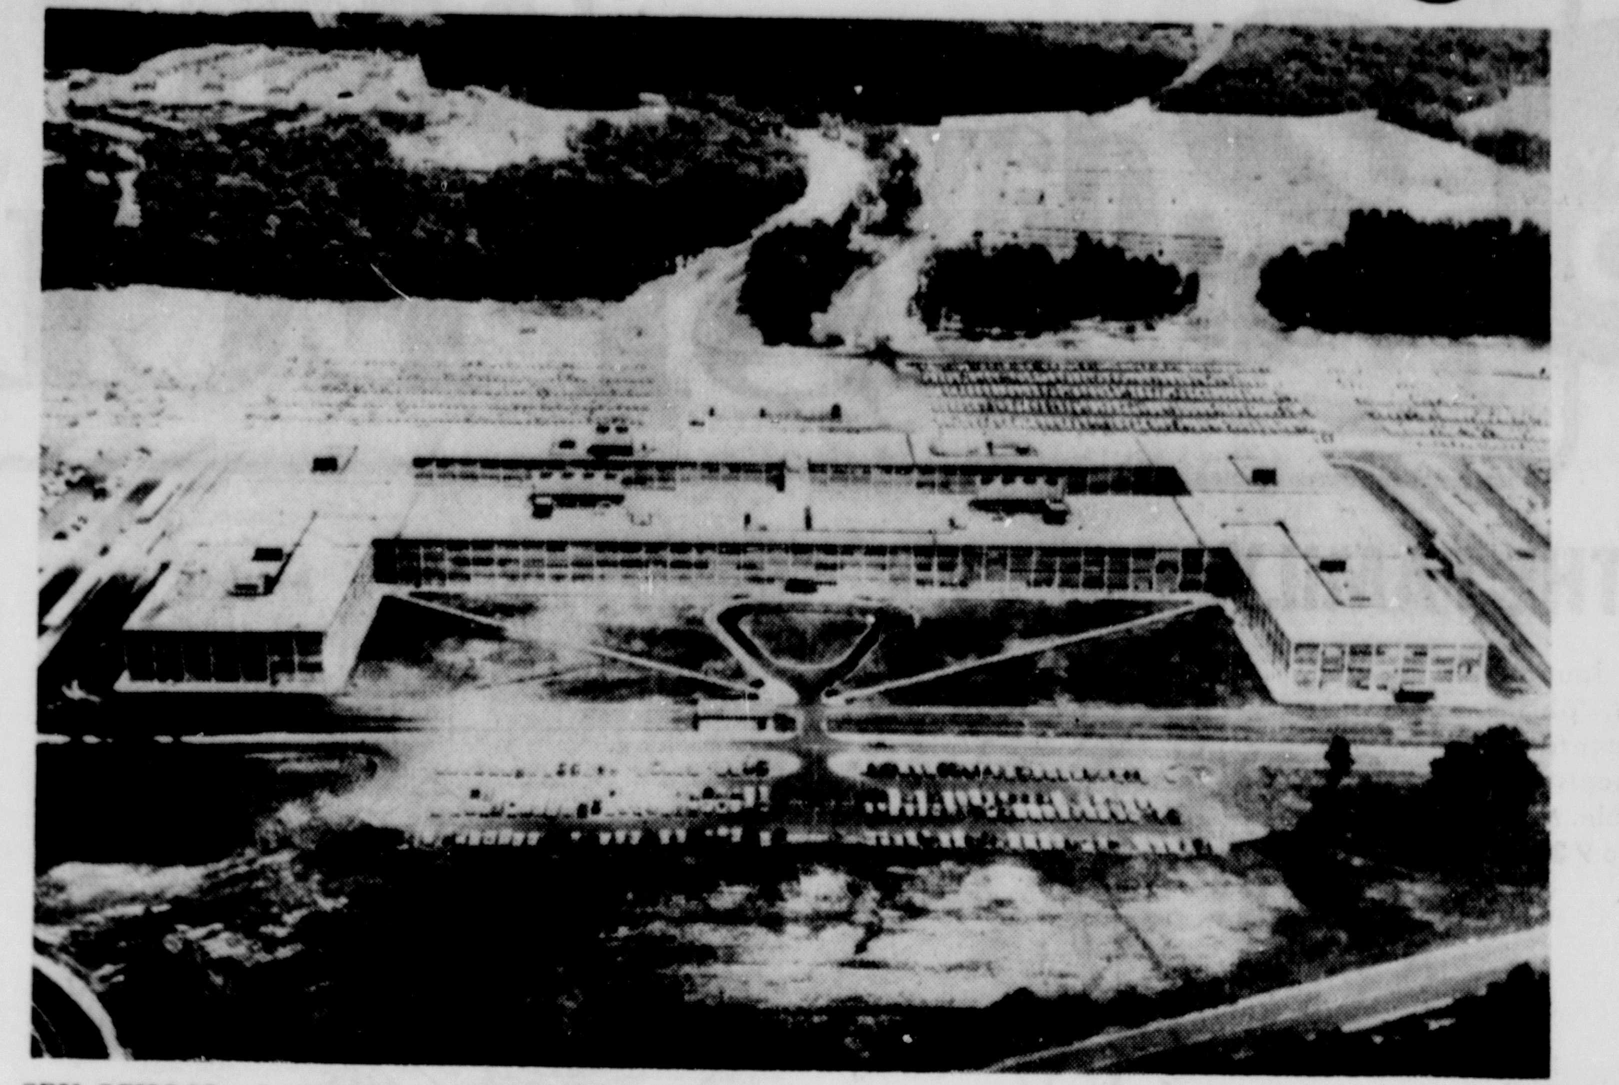
Questioning by a psychologist and a psychiatrist.

Indoctrination on a "security guide for individual conduct."

An FBI investigation.

A NSA-initiated "full field background" investigation.

In sum, work at NSA is undoubtedly vital and unique, but it is not a place for a man who wants to answer his wife when she asks: "And what did you do at the office today, dear?"



SPY SCHOOL—In the United States the finishing school for egghead spies is the National Security Agency, a super secret organization at Fort Meade, Md., 20 miles from Washington. This is an air view of the UNA building. (UPI photo)

Money Piling Up For Tippit Family

DALLAS (AP) — Thousands of dollars are piling up at Dallas police headquarters ear-marked for the family of patrolman J. D. Tippit, shot down by President John F. Kennedy's alleged assassin.

Although most of the money is for the Tippit fund, officers said contributions also are being received for the widow and the infant children of Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused killer. Oswald in turn was slain.

said the total amount donated probably never will be known because of the many places—and various funds—to which well-wishers over the world are sending money.

Plant Rejected Oswald For Job

DALLAS (UPI) — Lee Harvey Oswald was refused a job he applied for at a printing plant which was on an alternate route of the president's motorcade, the Dallas Times Herald said yesterday.

The printing plant, marked with an X on a map found in the rented room of the accused assassin, turned Oswald away because of a combination of lack of ability and "communist tendencies" on a former printing job, the newspaper said.

The map found in Oswald's room also had an "X" marking the Texas School Book Depository, from which Kennedy was shot, the paper said.

Greek Coin Found In Hem Of Dress

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Wilson Beatty is still wondering how a Greek coin found its way into the hem of a tightly stitched dress.

After the dress was dry-cleaned once, she noticed an unusual weight, investigated and discovered the coin. There was no tear anywhere in the garment.

The coin was a 10 drachma, worth about 3½ cents in U.S. money.

A Tribute To Thanksgiving!

As was done by the Pilgrims many years ago, we give thanks for the bountiful harvests since that first Thanksgiving, with which God has so enriched our lives.

It is fitting that a plump roast turkey is the symbol of Thanksgiving Day. Yet it is fitting too, that we should pause in our celebration of material endowments, and give spiritual thanks for the richness, strength and variety of America, and the special privelege of living in our corner of it, Marin County.

Let us be reverent for a moment this Thanksgiving to appreciate, with humility, the blessings we enjoy.

CONNALLY TELLS WHAT JFK LAST RIDE LIKE

Governor Says Mrs. Kennedy Cried 'My Husband Killed'

DALLAS (UPI)—Gov. John B. Connally, wounded in the assassination said today that Jacqueline Kennedy cried, "Oh, my God! They've killed my husband!" As the bullets thudded into him. The president gasped, "oh!"

"We had just turned the corner (onto Elm Street) and I heard the shot," Connally said during a closed-circuit television news conference from his bed in Parkland Memorial Hospital.

"I think the man did what he intended to—shoot both of us," Connally said, wiping his eyes as he spoke.

When the first shot hit the president, he said: "I turned to the left.

"The president had slumped. He said, 'Oh.' Then I was hit. I knew I was hit bad.

"Mrs. Kennedy said 'Oh my God! They've killed my husband! Jack! Jack!"

Connally said his wife, who was sitting next to him on a jump seat facing the Kennedys, said: "My God! They are going to kill us all."

Connally said that after he was shot the president was shot again.

This means the president was hit first, Connally was hit by the second bullet and the president was hit with the third and last shot fired by the sniper, hidden in the Texas Schoolbook Depository building 100 yards away.

It could have happened anywhere, the 46-year-old governor said. "It was a manifestation of extremism.

"I feel President Kennedy has been asked to do something in death that has not been done in life:

"To so shock and stun the nation and the world that it will realize what is happening —that cancerous growth affecting all of us . . . breeds hatred and intolerance."

Asked when he knew the president was dead, he replied: "Saturday, after I was conscious enough to understand.

"Nellie told me. It was no news. I was almost sure he was killed after the two shots I knew he had taken.

"I felt I had been killed, too, after I was shot."

Saved by four hours of surgery, Connally had been shot through the back. The bullet fragmented. It broke three ribs, cut a lung, shattered his right wrist and made a slight wound above the left knee.

"My God! What a horrible, horrible tragedy!" he said.

"We were so happy, so happy. We had had tremendous ovations. And in a second, this thing happened that changed all our lives.

"This is how a moment of joy can turn to sorrow," he said. "It was a beautiful day. Two young men, almost the same age, with the most beautiful women in the world as wives. In seconds, it turned to tragedy."

He said there had been "real warmth and understanding" by the people who crowded the motorcade route in Dallas Friday to see the president.

He said he tried not to acknowledge the ovation because it was John Kennedy's

"Not thirty seconds before the tragedy, Nellie said, (to the Kennedys) 'You can never say that some people in Dallas don't love you.' "

Connally, who had been Kennedy's first secretary of the Navy and had resigned to run for governor, said:

"Within the space of a few seconds, you can't believe what can happen. You go from great joy to great tragedy."

There should be a monument to Kennedy in Dallas, he said—marble or granite.

"But the people should not erect it out of penitence. The hate in our society manifested itself in this thing in Dallas."

The same hate was present he said, in the bombing of the Negro church in Birmingham last summer when five children were killed.

Lying in his hospital bed, he said, he thought of many things and "Why my life was spared."

"I know there has been some speculation that I was the intended victim. I have traveled many thousands of miles all over the state, riding in cars and making speeches in public many times. I could have been easy prey at any time. With no security, no protection."

Questions had been prepared in advance and brought to him by one reporter while others watched on closed-circuit television outside the room.

What about the new president, fellow-Texan Lyndon B. Johnson?, he was asked.

"I think I have been as close to him as any man," Connally replied." "I went to work for him in 1939 and we served in the Navy together."

He said President Johnson is "A person of many complexities."

He noted that he was the man who managed Johnson's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960 and failed.

"In some ways, he (Johnson) is unlettered. But in some ways he is as literate a person as you will ever know, wise in the ways of human understanding.

"He is a man of great poise and at other times he is determined and almost rude."

Purpose of the closed circuit arrangement was to prevent crowding Connally's sick room.

Connally's color appeared excellent. He seemed full of energy. There was a wooden bar over the bed which he uses to chin himself with his good left hand for exercise.

He went into Johnson's early background.

The new president, he said, was born in "rugged country in arduous times. He pulled himself up by his bootstraps. He understands the heartbeat of the nation, probably as well as any man in the United States.

He turned to his wife at his bedside and said:

"Isn't that the way you would sum it up, sweetheart?"

"Yes," she said.

"If I had to have a man to deal my hand, it would be him," Connally said.

Peace Corps Crews Like Old Pioneers

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI)—Today's younger members of the Peace Corps are the youngsters who once would have headed for the Old West, according to a University of Rochester educator.

Dr. Helen Nowlis, associate dean of students and a professor specializing in the psychology of adolescence, observes that the "idealism of youngsters who join the Peace Corps is typical of the period of late adolescence."

Russ Magazine Says U.S. Starts Latin Revolutions

By NEIL A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dial "R" for revolution?

According to a Russian humor magazine, that is the thing to do these days among the Washington cloak and dagger set.

It seems, it said, that whenever Washington wants a military coup or civilian dictatorship in Latin America, it simply orders one by telephone.

These and other caustic comments on U.S. influence in Central and South American politics were published recently in Krokodil (Crocodile), a Soviet tri-monthly magazine.

In a two-page spread entitled "In the Region of the Banana Presidents," the publication accused Washington and "North American companies" of keeping Latin American governments "bustling with war-like activities."

"So much so," Krokodil continued, "that the entire area is bursting at the seams . . . (and) threatens to sweep revolutionary Cuba from the face of the earth."

"With shaking fists," the periodical added, Latin American dictators and "presidents" declare "that there is no democracy in Cuba."

"What they really mean," Krokodil concluded, "is that there is no military junta in Cuba, similar to those ordered regularly from Washington by telephone."

The commentary was accompanied by a drawing which showed Latin American politicians dangling puppet-like from strings manipulated by a hooked-nose American capitalist wearing dollar-sign cuff links.

The magazine took a journalistic jaunt through seven Central and South American countries to acquaint its readers with "Washington's small but highly dangerous provinces" and to "create a picture in our satirical journal of what's happening there."

The Soviet propagandists "toured" Honduras, Colombia, Ecuador, Venezuela, Haiti, Costa Rica and Nicaragua and said they found pretty much the same thing in each country.

The Latin American politicians, Krokodil added, are selling out their native countries to North American companies to "better their bank accounts." And with Washington's protection, it said, the republics "change governments like one changes gloves."

It said that Latin American dictators and presidents contend "that democracy — real freedom—exists in their dictatorial patrimony. But in reality the president does whatever he wants to. If he wants to execute the democrats in his country, he does so."

Congress passed the first National Mining Act on July 26, 1866, basing it largely on regulations drawn up by miners during the California gold rush.

For the acceptance which enabled us to expand . . .

We are grateful to Marin

With our move to new facilities just a matter of days away, it is particularly fitting that we take this opportunity at the traditional day of Thanksgiving, to express our own sincere thanks to the wonderful people of Marin.

Without the acceptance and support of the people of Marin, Ames Ford would not be in a position where expansion to new and vastly enlarged buildings and area was absolutely necessary.

We pledge to continue our policy of merchandising as you have indicated so conclusively you want us to.

Like most people, we don't like "left-overs," so we offer a wide variety of pre-moving specials to reduce our stocks

EDUCATION PROBLEMS

U.S. Bill Of Rights Should Be Taught

(Fourth in a Series)
By Education News Service

If the California Legislature passed a law forbidding the possession of firearms, would the average high school student know that one of his basic rights was being denied?

Is he aware of the meaning of "equal protection of the laws" in relation to current tensions in this country?

Does he relate the recent Supreme Court decision on prayer in the public schools or the frequent book-banning controversies to his own basic rights as an American?

A committee of State Board of Education members believes the answer is "no" in all three cases. And it intends to do something about it.

The group is the committee on teaching of the Bill of Rights. It is one of 10 "task forces" of state board members named to begin preparation of a master plan of public education for California. Members are Bishop Gerald Kennedy, chairman, William A. Norris, Nathaniel S. Colley, and Thomas W. Braden, state board president.

The problem, as outlined at the committee's first meeting, is not that high school students are not exposed to the Bill of Rights—the first 10 amendments to the U.S. Constitution.

Historical treatment of the Bill of Rights in the schools apparently is adequate, said Richard M. Clowes, associate state superintendent and chief of the division of instruction.

"But too many of our young people do not understand the meaning of the Bill of Rights. They lack the ability to apply it to the contemporary scene and its problems."

Braden said the board will go on record with a strong statement on the teaching of the Bill of Rights, "to stimulate local districts to tackle the Bill of Rights more adequately."

Teacher training for the job is most important, according to Clowes.

"Teachers themselves must have a clear understanding of every amendment, not just the first 10 to the Constitution—a better understanding than they now have," he said.

Colley, taking note of Clowes' report that little or no interpretation of the Bill of Rights is given in the schools in relation to current events, commented, "The teachers themselves are not qualified to interpret the Bill of Rights."

Colley suggested that possibly a course outline on the Bill of Rights should be worked out.

Braden suggested the board could exercise some influence in the treatment of the Bill of Rights in elementary textbooks. He pointed out that some texts ignore the 13th Amendment, which assures the right to vote, because Southern school boards would refuse to buy such a book.

Clowes doubted how much influence the board could exert, however, since California schools purchase only about 10 per cent of the text books published in the nation.

Job Discrimination Cases Are Reported

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The State Fair Employment Practice Commission reported it has had 133 cases involving alleged discrimination in hiring or promotions because of race, creed or color in school districts in the four years since it has been in existence.

The FEPC said 82 of the complaints were in Southern California, mainly in Los Angeles county. These included both individual complaints and general investigations initiated by the commission itself.

The commission said it currently is investigating the teacher placement and assignment practices of the Los Angeles City Unified School District, the second largest public school system in the U. S.

In addition to speaking before several professional organizations of school personnel, Daniel Panger, FEPC consultant, brought superintendents and principals in contact with civil rights groups and cooperated with the county commission on human relations in referral of Negro teachers.

The FEPC said progress is indicated by the fact that in September, 1959, only 10 of the then 104 school districts in Los Angeles county employed Negro teachers. At present, 51 of the present 98 districts employ Negroes as teachers.

"There have been a few instances of hostility by district residents when Negroes were first employed," Mrs. Carmen Warschaw, FEPC member, said, "but timely action by superintendents and community leaders ended them peacefully."

The FEPC said the Oakland City Unified School District also is the subject of a major review of employment practices. About 100 schools have been visited, with principals and faculty members interviewed and suggestions made.

Woman Is Hurt In Auto Crash

Lillian Borba Moore, 57, of Oakland was examined for minor injuries at San Rafael General Hospital Tuesday after the car she was driving was hit by another car at Bellam Boulevard and the ramp leading to the San Quentin Road.

The California Highway Patrol said Mrs. Moore made a left turn into the path of a car driven by Arthur Peter Domingos, 29, of Petaluma at 5:50 p.m. She was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

U.S. Fort Built To Keep Indians Apart

FORT ATKINSON, Iowa (AP) —Slumbering on a bluff overlooking the Turkey River in northeast Iowa is what remains of old Fort Atkinson — only Army fort in American history built to protect one Indian tribe from another.

Fort Atkinson might never have been built if northeast Iowa hadn't been so plentifully supplied with game.

For centuries the area was the favorite hunting ground for Indian tribes, and they fought over it.

The Sioux to the north and the Sac and Fox to the south were carrying on sporadic warfare among themselves to preserve their hunting rights in northeast Iowa when the first white settlers pushed into the lands east of the Mississippi River. Uneasiness over the encroachment of the white man heightened the tension between the two tribes.

The United States then stepped in as peace maker. It established a "neutral line" running from the Upper Iowa River south and west through the Turkey River bottom southwest of Decorah. The tribes agreed to stay 20 miles on either side of the line.

That's the way things stood until 1840, when the War Department moved the Winnebago Indians into the strip from the land east of the Mississippi which they had ceded to the whites.

The plan was to give the peaceful Winnebagoes tools, educate them and let them farm the land. But the Indians took a dim view of it.

The Winnebagoes were fearful of being wiped out by the war-like Sioux on the north and the Sac and Fox on the south. As far as those tribes were concerned, the Winnebagoes were usurpers in their traditional hunting grounds.

To protect the Winnebagoes and induce them to stay, Brig. Gen. Henry Atkinson ordered the fort erected. But the plan didn't work out.

Nine years later 2,500 Winnebagoes and 1,600 ponies were moved by Army wagon north to Blue Earth, Minn., then part of Iowa territory. The last troops left Fort Atkinson later that year.

A sequel was that the Winnebago, terrified of the Sioux and in closer proximity to them than ever, moved to Nebraska and found refuge with the Omaha Indians. They still live in Nebraska.

After the troops moved out, the old fort here fell into disrepair. Settlers salvaged glass, hardware, windows and doors from the stone buildings, and used the old stockade for firewood.

The War Department sold the remaining buildings in 1855 for $3,521, and the land was sold to settlers at $1.25 an acre. The present caretaker of the partly reconstructed fort, S.W. Pavlovec, recalls having played in cornfields on the site as a boy some 50 years ago.

The state of Iowa acquired the fort site in 1921, but it wasn't until a year ago that it was dedicated as an historical point of interest.

The old blockhouse has been rebuilt and now houses a museum. Still intact are the old cannon and magazine buildings and the foundation of the officers' barracks can be seen.

San Rafael Chamber Unit Elects

Members of the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce elected one new director and re-elected five directors in mail balloting that ended Tuesday night.

Re-elected were Leroy Rudolph, Bank of America; Wishard Brown, Independent-Journal; William Costello, Macy's; Paul Kent, Fairchild Semiconductor, and Dr. Russell R. Klein. Newly elected was George Henderson of Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

The directors will serve two-year terms starting Jan. 1. Three more directors will be appointed within the next two weeks, according to Jack Phillips, chamber manager. The nine new directors plus six holdover directors will constitute a 15-member chamber board.

Officers will be elected at a meeting of the board Dec. 10 at noon at Dominic's Restaurant in San Rafael.

AT DRAKE HIGH SCHOOL

Indian Education Minister Visits Marin To Get Ideas For Homeland

The joint secretary of the ministry of education of India was in Marin County yesterday to study aspects of public education in the United States that he would like to apply in his home country.

Raja Roy Singh spent most of the morning at Sir Francis Drake High School, where Principal Harold Allison answered many questions on curriculum and organization.

Signh explained that in India, where compulsory education stops at age 11, the emphasis in high schools is on preparation for college. He would like to see more comprehensive high schools such as Drake. There are only two in India now where students can either learn a trade or prepare for college, he reported.

Higher education in India has followed the English system with testing at an early age deciding the fate of the pupil. A comprehensive high school represents the American influence which Singh said he would like to see take hold in India.

Singh is on a three-week tour of the United States. He has visited schools in New York City, Albany and Washington. The tour is sponsored by the Agency for International Development.

With him yesterday was Dr. David Ferell, professor of education at San Francisco State College. After visiting Drake, Singh went to College of Marin, where he was a luncheon guest of Dr. Stephen E. Epler, college president.

Scotland Yard On Trail Of World Airline Swindlers

Massive Ticket Deals Cost Firms Millions Of Dollars

By JOSEPH GLADSTONE
Worldwide Press Service

LONDON — The world's airlines are being swindled by a multi-million dollar racket which is highly organized and growing fast.

The crime syndicate is international in scope, operating in at least 40 cities around the world. But its headquarters are apparently here in London, thus Scotland Yard and the security forces of the State airlines, BOAC and BEA, are leading the effort to capture the operators before the airlines go broke.

In the first nine months of this year the racketeers have cost the British airlines over one million dollars.

They began on a small scale, by stealing or forging tickets which they then sold at a discount. Often they planted an employee in the carrier's office and he, or she, disappeared with the stock.

But since those early days the operators here in London have become far more subtle and ambitious. For example, the syndicate often makes a bid to buy up a travel agency. As soon as the deal is agreed on, they move in their own manager and staff who promptly sell every ticket in stock by offering discounts. In one case they drummed up business so efficiently that they cleared the place in two days.

Once all tickets have been sold, they clear out leaving the agent or carrier to take the loss.

In the largest operation of this kind here, the syndicate's representative promised one agency a lot of new business on condition that one of their own men be allowed to work there. Within a couple of months he had sold an amazing number of tickets. But it turned out that they all went at 50 per cent discount, and to travel agents who were not approved by the International Air Transport Assn.

For his service to the latter, he received $600,000—and promptly disappeared.

Sometimes the syndicate forms an export-import company dealing in luxury goods. After a few genuine transactions, the company pleads expanding business and asks airline agents for tickets on "short-term" credit. Then they, the tickets and the credit disappear.

Sometimes the syndicate purports to be selling massive quantities of tickets to Pakistanis or Indians, who are coming to this country to work in increasing numbers. The first month's supply is paid for. But the second month's—increased because of "religious festivals" at home or "more jobs available" here—will not be paid for.

Recently 2,000 European travel agents were circulated in a plot of this kind, from which the syndicate anticipated a profit of 1.5 million dollars. Due to an informer's tip-off, they got "only" $90,000.

This correspondent learned the following background from one of the top detectives at Scotland Yard, handling the investigations.

The ticket-swindling syndicate was started in London by a high-powered businessman who, the police feel certain, is not a criminal with a record. He began a legitimate business of selling airline tickets at cut rate. When the airlines cut their supply to him, he decided to get them by illegitimate means.

He and his organization in this country have since linked up with similar syndicates around the world. Thus the conviction of the Yard that they are up against an international network of criminals.

The activities of the British organization have extended to other crimes as well—currency manipulation, gold smuggling, and, it is suspected, dope running.

Last year, for example, the security forces of the British Overseas Airways Corporation cracked wide open an international gang of gold smugglers.

But the airline operators and the Yard believe they are now faced with something far more serious, since the ticket?swindling is on such a fantastic scale. As the Yard man says: "Unless we can clamp down on it, and quickly, the world's airline companies are fated to lose millions of dollars in a very short time."

Tomales High Bond Election Head Is Named

Charles R. Reilley of Point Reyes Station, a trustee of West Marin Elementary School District, was named chairman of the Tomales High School citizens election committee at its organizational meeting Tuesday night at the school.

The committee is to support either a bond issue or the tax increase to raise $175,000 to bring buildings at the high school up to state earthquake-proof standards. The issues will be before voters of the district Jan. 14.

Reilley named Mrs. Roy Parks of Tomales to head an information committee; Joseph Mendoza of Point Reyes to head a finance committee, and Mrs. Kent Lawson of Dillon Beach to head a publicity committee.

"The committee discussed the possibility of supporting the tax issue which would require about 85 cents per $100 assessed valuation increase for two years, or the bond issue which would cost more but be spread over a longer period of time," Mrs. Lawson said.

The tax increase would require only a simple majority, while the bond issue requires two-thirds approval, she noted.

Next meeting of the committee was set for Dec. 10.

Steak Requires A Lot Of Hay

FARGO, N.D. (UPI)—When you sit down to eat a steak, stop and think of what went into it—about 17 pounds of corn, four pounds of hay and two pounds of protein supplements.

According to North Dakota State University, livestock people figure it out this way: a 10-ounce cooked steak represents 1.3 pounds of carcass beef, or about 2.2 pounds of live steer.

Since a feeder steer gains about two pounds a day, one steak is equal to about a day's red meat production of the steer. The feed figures are the approximate daily diet of the average steer.

'PEEPING' CLAIM

Hungarian, Austrian Rift Over Tower On Red Border

VIENNA (AP) — An observation tower with the entrance in Austria and part of the staircase in Hungary has caused a border incident. The Hungarian Communists apparently did not like the "peeping tower."

Austrian officials said they believed the Hungarian Communists provoked the incident because they did not want Westerners to get a good look at the barbed wire fences and mine fields put up by the Hungarians on the Iron Curtain.

Before the border incident, the 59-foot-high tower on Geschriebenstein Mountain in Austria's Eastern Province of Burgenland was a major tourist attraction.

The tower, situated on the 3,000-foot-high mountain, offered a close look on a long stretch of the Iron Curtain with its minefield "death strip," double rows of barbed wire and watch towers on the Hungarian side. The tourists, on clear days, saw as far as Lake Balaton in Hungary.

The Hungarian border guards tried hard to ignore the steady stream of visitors.

Things changed recently, however. Hungarian guards told their Austrian counterparts ascension to the tower was a "border violation" because the border line runs straight through its foundation, placing the entrance on Austrian territory and part of the staircase in Hungary.

"Anybody climbing up on the staircase violates the Hungarian border," the Hungarian guards said.

Soon afterwards, the Hungarians showed that they mean business. When a Viennese tourist mounted the tower, the guards called to him in Hungarian. The man climbed down in a hurry, but the Hungarians nevertheless fired two warning shots.

"This was the first border incident here since the Iron Curtain was put up," Austrian border guards said.

"We have had a relatively good relationship with the Hungarians so far," they said. The Hungarians even consented to the renovation of the tower last year, although the Austrians had to work partly on Hungarian territory. "They did not help, though," the Austrians added.

Since the incident with the Viennese tourist nobody has dared to mount the tower.

Some Good Reports Received On Hunters Bagging Their Pheasants

STEVENS

Had you driven through Oakland, Berkeley, San Rafael or Hayward on Monday, you might have marveled at the emptiness of the streets. Many stores displayed black draped pictures of our slain President. An air of somberness pervaded all.

Not so, however on the water and in the fields. With the exception, I believe, of China Camp and other Marin County boat landings, all harbors and resorts were going strong. The pheasant hunters trudged the fields with gun and dog en masse.

THIS IS no criticism. Most of the anglers and hunters merely wished to tear themselves from their television sets and try to forget for a time the tragic circumstances being iterated from Friday on.

Hal Boenner of Lee Anderson's in Oakland told me he went to Grizzly Island on Monday, to see what he could see. Said there were about 400 nervous nimrods awaiting a chance to stalk a ring-neck. He had to wait for the second line to get a chance, and managed to bag one nice fat rooster. "I had no dog, Ralph, and missed a couple of easy shots. I saw hunter after hunter pass with his two birds, but most of them were hunting behind dogs. Skipper Frank Matthews of the Sea Horse was there with his wife, Bernice, and son, Franklin. They had six fine birds."

HAL ALSO verified the angling action in Richardson Bay. "The herring are in the bay and there is some wild and wooly fishing with surface lures as a result. The lads who know their stuff are trolling Richardson Bay early in the morning, picking up part of the catch while the birds are working, and finishing up trolling in Racoon Strait. On Monday the R.S.P. boated 12 nice bass to 10 pounds, and the Troller netted six limits to nine pounds. Joe DeSilva did a solo stunt aboard his boat the Cherokee and took a limit to 10 pounds on Monday in the Racoon Strait, also."

An old time angler, "Red" Ceramelli, had himself a ball plug casting at the Norwalk Harbor near the Moore Shipyards on Tuesday morning early. Red used a Pikie Minnow to limit out.

Nadine Lessley of Dowrelio's Crockett Harbor reported very good fishing the past four days, mostly limits or near limits aboard all party boats. On Saturday the Sunfish brought in 18 limits of bass, and averaged a fish-and-a-half per rod on Monday. The Millie Linn scored limits on Friday and Saturday, and netted a 10 and a 15-pounder on Monday.

JOE NAVARRO of Sportsmen's Center in Castro Valley reported Stan Hernandez landed a 13, 14 and 18 pound bass at Sacramento Point on Saturday. Joe closed shop on Monday and with his wife, Carmen, and the Cozzis, Pete and Peggy, subtracted 22 nice big catfish from the population at Three-Mile Slough.

The shallow water off Hercules was bountiful to George Gordon and Jim White on Saturday and Sunday. Beautiful fish from 15 to 20 pounds taken on LIVE bullheads — four each day.

The Sportsmen's Center was closed on Monday and Joseph's Harbor at Rodeo was closed, I was told, until noon on Monday.

The Rodeo Marina reported lots of action on Monday with some really large bass coming in.

Tetherball Play In San Rafael

The San Rafael Recreation Department will hold a tetherball tournament tomorrow at the Coleman School from 10 a.m. to noon for all boys and girls 7 through 11. Sign-ups will be taken at the playground.

Joseph D. Rodota, head of the department, also announced there are still openings in the Saturday basketball program for elementary and junior high school students in the district.

Sign-ups for the programs are being taken at Davidson Junior High School and Terra Linda High School. For additional information, persons should get in touch with the recreation department.

Gal Shoots Ace At Las Gallinas

Mrs. Charles Vincent shot a hole-in-one at the Las Gallinas Women's Golf Club, the first ace ever recorded there since the club was formed, Tuesday.

She got her ace on the 60-yard second hole during the afternoon golf action. Also on Tuesday, Mrs. Herbert H. Samuels was elected the new captain for the year. Elected co-captain was Mrs. H. R. Sites.

Pirates Get Freese For High Price Tag

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Gene Freese has returned to Pittsburgh, the team he began his major league career with eight years ago.

General Manager Joe L. Brown announced yesterday the Pirates got the 29-year-old infielder from the Cincinnati Reds for a sizeable chunk of cash and a minor league player to be named later.

Just how much cash the Pirates handed over was not made public, but Brown said it was the most they have paid for talent in the eight years he's been with the team.

Where will Freese, mainly a third baseman, play for the Pirates? The third sacker last year was Bob Bailey, the $175,000 bonus baby who turned in a disappointing season at the plate.

The Pirates had pinned a lot of hopes on Bailey, trading veteran Don Hoak to Philadelphia and giving the 20-year-old rookiean unobstructed shot at the job. But in 154 games, he batted only .228, hit 12 home runs and had 45 RBI.

Freese was a big factor in the Reds' pennant winning drive of 1961, banging the ball at a .277 clip and hitting 26 home runs while knocking in 87 runs.

Due to a broken ankle, he got into only 18 games in 1962. He spent some time in the minors last season but returned to the Reds in mid-July and batted .244 in 66 games.

Football Banquet To Honor All Marin Grid Participants

The sixth football banquet, sponsored by the First Baptist Church of San Anselmo, will honor all varsity, junior varsity and freshmen football players in Marin prep and junior college football Saturday night.

The banquet will be held at the church fellowship hall, starting at 6:30 o'clock and will be open to all high school football players and coaches, plus the coaches and players at College of Marin.

Guest speaker will be Bob Heydenfeldt, former All-American gridder at UCLA. Bill Rose of the Oakland Tribune will show pictures of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes summer camp at Ashland, Ore.

Stickles To Start Sunday

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — End Monty Stickles moved back up the San Francisco 49er first string yesterday as the team prepared for Sunday's meeting with the Los Angeles Rams at Kezar.

Stickles, who has been hampered by a knee injury during the league season, replaces Gary Knafelc as a starter for the first time in six weeks.

"We follow the policy of starting the man who's doing the best job," Coach Jack Christiansen said. "Gary didn't play very well against the Packers, so Monty gets the call."

No other changes were made in the lineup, but halfback Bill Kilmer ran his final football patterns since he injured his right ankle last Dec. 5.

"Unless something unforeseen develops," Christiansen said, "Bill definitely will be invited back to camp next year. Then it'll be a question of his making the team, as it is with every player."

It's Work As Usual Today For Cal, Stanford Squads

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — It was "work as usual" today for Stanford and California football teams as they pushed ahead with their final preparations for Saturday's 66th annual "Big Game" at Stanford.

Stuffed with turkey, just like the rest of us, the gridders went out to practice again this afternoon — slightly slowed from the heavy load of food, but still determined to get in tip-top shape for the season's most important battle.

Coaches Marv Levy of Cal and John Ralston of Stanford both put their men through hour-long workouts — the last before the 1:30 clash on Saturday.

A crowd of "upwards of 80,000" will see the battle in Stanford Stadium that was supposed to have been held last week but was postponed because of the assassination of President Kennedy.

The forecast is for clear and warm weather.

Both coaches agreed that the week's delay helped their cripples get ready for the big test.

"We have five or six men who would have played, but would not have been up to their full capabilities due to slight injuries, who now will be at top speed," said Levy.

"We get Steve Thurlow in top condition for the game," said Ralston. "He would have played anyway, but not in the condition he'll be for the game now."

Thurlow is Stanford's "bread and butter" man with his pass-run option plays and has been the Indians' top ground gainer.

Ralston said his team would have to score "more than" three touchdowns to defeat California.

"We fear greatly the play of quarterback Craig Morton and halfback Tom Blanchfield," said Ralston. "They have a high powered attack that has been averaging nearly 30 points a game for the past three games."

Levy will not reveal what he fears most in the Stanford attack. Under questioning, he says he expects they'll both pass and run — and that was to be one of the understatements of the year.

How Long Can Wilt Go Without Missing?

BOSTON (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain gets a chance tomorrow to extend the record for consecutive field goals he set yesterday by dumping in 18 straight from the floor.

Since the Stilt retired without missing after his string, he can continue it at Baltimore tomorrow. Chamberlain's burst of marksmanship — from within six feet of the basket — led the Warriors to a 118-89 runaway over New York.

The old record was 13 straight, set by Larry Costello of Syracuse, in a contest also at Boston, on Dec. 8, 1961.

Chamberlain scored 38 points in all, with Tom Meschery contributing 15 to the San Francisco cause. The Warriors held a 74-41 bulge at halftime, and Wilt sat out the fourth period.

Mrs. Bevan Is Golf Winner

Mrs. William Bevan was the December trophy winner at the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club with an 84-13—71.

Winners in the Turkey Shoot were Mrs. William Bevan, Mrs. Warren Smith, Mrs. William May, Mrs. Charles Zapelli and Mrs. Lynn Sumpter. The winners were awarded turkeys.

The women's club will hold another turkey shoot on Dec. 7 for both men and women.

Novato Wrestlers Win

Novato High School downed Las Lomas of Walnut Creek 31-28 in the first official Marin County wrestling meet of the season. Outstanding performers for Novato were Earl Lowe, Kit Kody and Rich Rotchy.

MAKING THE HOLIDAY PARTY SCENE

This is a party dress—color it "festive"! That's just what Stanton Jr. Petites has done by styling it, at left, in shimmery Star Lustre of Celanese nylon and mylar. They've seamed it in the princess manner, belted it low with a glow of satin and ended up with as pretty a picture as ever graced a holiday setting. Make the fashion scene in this circular skirted swinger by Junior Theme, at right. Shaped in a flirty-flower brocade of Celanese acetate, this fashion is a kind of perky party-goer that's almost bound to make your gayest evening more so!

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Family Dinners Mark Thanksgiving

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Thanksgiving is not a happy time this year as the nation mourns the death of the late President John F. Kennedy. However, family gatherings are being held today throughout Marin. One of the largest will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoefer of Belvedere. With them will be their daughter, Mrs. Peter Witter (Susan Hoefer) her infant son, Joel (Sue's husband is stationed at Subic Bay in the Philippines), the Hoefers' other daughter, Mrs. John Pelkan of Belvedere, her husband and their daughter Jennifer, the Hoefers' son, John Foster Hoefer, a freshman at the University of California, John Hoefer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John James Hoefer, their daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Newbrang and her daughter, Martha, all of San Francisco, John Pelkan's parents, Doctor and Mrs. Carl Pelkan of San Jose, Sue's Delta Gamma sorority sister at University of California, Miss Nicole Peter of San Francisco and Peter Witter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Witter of Ross.

The Hoefers were among the 400 people who attended the twenty-fifth reunion of the class of 1938 at University of California Friday night at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco. Because of the death of President Kennedy, the committee considered postponing the dinner but as people had come from all parts of the United States and from countries as far away as India, and as the hotel had completed dinner arrangements, the reunion went on as scheduled. Also attending from Marin were the John Cahills, the William Millikens, Chester Carlisle (he was class president) and his wife, the Robert Ingrams and the Edgar Reeds.

MR. AND MRS. HARRISON LEPPO of Mill Valley have as their Thanksgiving dinner guests, his mother, Mrs. Clara McNear Leppo of San Francisco and the Leppos' son, Robert, a junior at Stanford University. Saturday night the Leppos will host a small dinner party at their home.

The Gus Niederholzers will have a small Thanksgiving dinner at their home. With them will be their daughter, Nancy, who was the homecoming queen at San Jose State College. Last summer Nancy traveled through Europe with another San Jose State College student, Raelene Hermann of Lafayette.

They had an unhappy experience in Milan, Italy when all their clothing and baggage were stolen from their car.

The Niederholzers' other daughter, Mrs. James Finn (Sue Niederholzer) and her husband are having dinner with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Koenig Jr. of Sausalito.

NOVATO RESIDENTS are also enjoying the Thanksgiving holiday with their families and friends.

His first taste of the traditional American turkey will be enjoyed by a foreign exchange student Robert Stephens of Australia, who is making his home with Mr. and Mrs. William Dresser, of Novato, and the Dresser's three sons, Don Charles and Richard who are spending Thanksgiving with Mr. Dresser's brother, Duane and his family in San Mateo.

The Joseph W. Wright family are welcoming home their eldest son, William, who attends University of California.

Marin Women

Mrs. Hale Gets Thanksgiving

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

On the last Thursday in November, 1863, a small but regal lady of 75, her dark brown curls untinged by time, was quite possibly the happiest woman in the United States.

She was Sarah Josepha Buell Hale, and because of her, the whole country was sitting down to Thanksgiving dinner that day.

For 17 years she had buttoned governors to plead the cause of a unified holiday. She had corresponded with thousands of people, writing each letter herself with quill pen.

As time wore on she took to badgering Presidents, but only in the most genteel manner.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN was her pigeon.

On Oct. 3, 1863, he issued a national proclamation, which began: "It is a time peculiarly fitting to give thanks since in the midst of Civil War peace has been preserved with all nations, order has been maintained, the laws have been respected and harmony has prevailed except in the field of military conflict . . . "

It ended with a request that fellow citizens "set apart and observe the last Thursday of November next as a Day of Thanksgiving."

WHO WAS THE indefatigable Mrs. Hale?

She was the editress (Victorians loved to discriminate between the sexes) of Godey's Lady's Book, a 19th century McCall's until she died at 90.

She wrote some two dozen sentimental novels and helpful books on cooking and housekeeping, plus hundreds of poems (including "Poems for Children—written to inculcate moral truths and virtuous sentiments" but all she is remembered for is "Mary's Lamb."

She championed women's causes, got the first women medical missionaries sent abroad, persuaded Matthew Vassar to drop the odious word "Female" from Vassar Female College, organized the Seamen's Aid Society, sent bills to Congress to ask for free normal schools for teachers, talked a New York store owner into employing the first women clerks in town, advocated elementary education for girls equal to that of boys, started the first day nursery, raised the money to finish Bunker Hill Monument, and on and on.

In short, Mrs. Hale was a crusader—but a ladylike one.

LEFT A WIDOW at 34 with five small children to support, she tried millinery and failed, started writing books and at 40 became the first woman editor of a magazine in the country.

She never antagonized her Victorian public, but for 50 years she cajoled it into one reform or another. As she said at one time: "Every woman has a mission on earth. There is something to do for each one; a household to put in order, a child to attend to, some degraded and homeless humanity to befriend."

CONSIDERED a striking beauty who never showed her age, all her life she wore her hair in side curls, because her husband had liked it that way.

Her only beauty secret: Strips of brown butcher paper soaked in fresh apple vinegar applied to her temples at night to discourage wrinkles—a remedy considered old-fashioned even then. She nearly always wore silk "because it shook the dust", indulged in costly laces, hated earrings, deplored tight lacing in girdles as injurious to health, preached the healthful virtues of exercise and cleanliness.

HER URGE FOR a country-wide Thanksgiving Day started early. She was 1 year old in 1789 when George Washington first proclaimed Thanksgiving Day.

In the years after, each state fixed its own date, if it celebrated it at all. Some governors appointed the time just after harvest, others after public canals closed, on Long Island it was observed after the cows were driven home from sea pastures.

"It matters much religiously and nationally that all observe the same day . . . " she wrote editorially and proceeded to do something about it.

AS EARLY AS November, 1846, she suggested all the states adopt the last Thursday in November. She repeated it patiently each year and carried on voluminous letter-writing.

She relaxed briefly after Lincoln came through so gallantly, but three years later, when Andrew Johnson succeeded to the Presidency she felt a little uncertain. She made a neditorial plea for a Presidential proclamation. Johnson responded the way Mrs. Hale intended, and so have all Presidents since.

New President Of Auxiliary Formerly Lived In Tokyo

MRS. LANSDON

Mrs. Floyd Lansdon of San Francisco is the new president of the Sausalito Yacht Club Women's Auxiliary.

Mrs. Lansdon is a comparative newcomer to the Bay Area, having resided here for only five years. Before that she spent five years in Tokyo, Japan, where she was a member of the WAC and worked in the public relations department for two and a half years. After leaving the military service she spent another two and a half years as a civilian in Japan.

In Tokyo, Mrs. Lansdon was president of the Catholic Women's Club, of which both she and Mrs. Douglas MacArthur are charter members.

Rosemarie Lansdon was born in Mansfield, Ohio, and attended the University of Detroit and Lewis and Clark College in Portland, Ore., where she majored in business administration.

Her husband is news editor for the Associated Press in San Francisco. Both Floyd and Rosemarie enjoy sailing and are owners of a 31-foot sloop, the "Dolphin."

The new president served on the auxiliary's board of directors during the past year.

Heart Attack Types Put In Classification

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—The scientists who divided men and women into "As" and "Bs" are still unable to say precisely why the former should have a much higher incidence of heart attacks than the latter, but their evidence is pointing toward differences in body chemistry at the root of it.

To the "A" by this system of human classification you have to be always in a hurry, feeling time is the essence of any situation. You must also be an exceedingly keen competitor and be powered by a strong drive to get things done—your way.

To be a "B" you are an opposite of an "A" in these respects. Passing time is no constant prod and your competitiveness and "drive" are not conspicuous among your traits. Statistically the advantage of being a "B" is a comparative freedom from heart disease.

Dr. Meyer Friedman of Sausalito and Ray H. Rosenman of the Harold Brunn Institute and Mount Zion Medical Center, San Francisco, fascinated heart research scientists with this finding several years ago. Since then they have been trying to find the explanation of the statistical fact.

What would occur to anyone occurred to them, of course. This is the obvious possibility that "As" by their way of life put more wear-and-tear on their hearts than do "Bs." Friedman and Rosenman cast about for a method of recording the minute-to-minute and hour-to-hour mechanics of "A" hearts and "B" hearts.

With the help of Alvin E. Brown, electronic technician of the Lockheed Missiles and Space Laboratories, they rigged a lightweight electronic wristwatch which continously registers its wearer's heart rate without in any way calling attention to itself.

They got 21 men to wear these wristwatches continuously through several periods of 24 hours each. Ten of the men were strongly "A" by all psychological measurements of competitiveness, "drive" and hurry-hurry-hurry. The other 11 were no less clearly the opposites of these 10.

The results showed that the average daily heart rates of the "As" were approximately the same as those of the "Bs." As an additional check the scientists had men with known heart disease wear the wristwatches and their average rates were no different.

It came out this way although the "A" men smoked more cigarettes, drank more whiskey and more coffee, and walked less during the 24-hour test periods than the "B" men.

If heart rates can be taken as "crude indicators of the general mechanical or physical activities of the heart, then this organ is being subjected to no greater duress in the subject with pattern 'A' than in the subject with pattern 'B'," they said in reporting to Circulation, technical organ of the American Heart Assn.

Whereas there were no differences in heart rates, the "As" had higher levels of cholesterol and other blood fats, and their blood in laboratory tests had faster clotting times. These were "possible pathogenic (disease-causing) facets aligned with behavior pattern A," they said.

Fifty-two per cent of the nation's population never spend a night away from home.

Doctor's Bags Are Stolen

Doctor's bags were stolen stolen from automobiles of two Mill Valley doctors Tuesday night, police reported today.

Dr. John Lee reported that during the night someone pried open the right front wing window of his car at his home at 178 Tamalpais Avenue and took a bag containing drugs, four syringes, four needles, and other medications.

Dr. Thomas Stone reported someone entered his unlocked convertible, parked at his home at 250 Tamalpais Avenue and removed the bag from the luggage compartment. It contained an otoscope, stethoscope, other diagnostic instruments, plus morphine, demorol, other drugs, syringes, and needles.

TB In Marin Cows Reported Very Low

Incidence of tuberculosis in cows in Marin is less than one-half of 1 per cent, the State Department of Agriculture has reported.

The county is one of several that have been redeclared "modified accredited areas" for a six-year period by federal and state agriculture departments, which carry on continuous testing of tuberculosis in livestock.

U.S. Helicopters Crashed For Study Of Air Injuries

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Ten large military helicopters have crashed at the Deer Valley Airport north of Phoenix in the past three years.

Within six months, two four-engine transports probably will smash into a nearby mountainside.

Neither poor pilots, faulty aircraft nor sabotage is to blame.

It's done on purpose by the Aviation Safety Engineering and Research Division of Flight Safety Foundation, Inc. The object is to find out what causes injuries in aircraft crashes, and to test equipment designed to minimize such injuries.

The division began crashing helicopters in 1960 under a contract with the U.S. Army Transportation Research Command. The experiment with transports, tentatively scheduled for February and March, will be done under contract from the Federal Aviation Agency.

"The aircraft we are crashing are obsolete and on their way to the junk yard," says division manager Victor E. Rothe. "We have to dig up parts to make some of them work."

Rothe says that information gathered from the tests has resulted in safety modifications for helicopters being flown in South Viet Nam.

Inside the helicopters are instruments, dummies, standard equipment and experimental devices designed by the division. Manufacturers also may have new designs aboard.

"Fire is the big killer in crashes," Rothe says. "If you can reduce and prevent injuries, persons have a greater chance to escape once the whole thing has come to a screeching halt.

"We feel that as long as there is living space within the aircraft, the crash is survivable.

"Our emphasis is in what causes injury to people in crashes. You always end up with hardware — something involved in the design of aircraft."

In addition to the tests, the organization also investigates about 30 military, private and commercial crashes each year.

The non-profit research organization began in 1942 at Cornell University. When the division moved to Phoenix with only a few employees. Now there are 52.

Woman Reports Being Beaten

A San Rafael laborer was jailed Tuesday after he allegedly hit Emma Mickens, 42, over the head with a frying pan at her home at 330 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

George Kotch, 56, who lives at the Lincoln Hotel, was charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Bail was set at $1,575.

Miss Mickens telephoned Mill Valley police at 10:59 a.m. "Come quickly." She said Kotch forced his way into her home, struck her on the head with a pan, then struck her with his fists and dragged her onto the porch, continuing to beat her.

Youth Is Injured In Cycle Accident

James N. Scurzi, 18, of Pacifica was treated for a sprained ankle Tuesday night at Marin General Hospital after the motorcycle he was riding turned over on Bolinas Road, one-fourth mile east of Shoreline Highway at 9:45 p.m.

Joseph Richard Wiegard, 19, of San Francisco was driving the motorcycle west on Bolinas Road when he swerved to miss rocks in the roadway, according to California Highway Patrol.

Sausalitan Jailed For Burglary

A 31-year-old Sausalito cook was arrested by police Tuesday and charged with the $570 burglary of Pete's Pier at 2007 Bridgeway on Nov. 13.

Johnny Brdius (Boy) Walker, who lives in the rooming house attached to the restaurant at 2009 Bridgeway, denied committing the burglary and was jailed under $2,750 bail. He gave his occupation as cook on the Charles Van Damme, a restaurant at Gate Six, Waldo Point.

Sausalito police said fingerprints found on the office door leading from the rooming house into the restaurant have been identified as Walker's. The door bolts had been removed from the door on the night of the burglary to gain entrance to the restaurant. Walker is on parole for burglary.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Let Us Today Be Thankful, But In Great Humbleness

Soul-searching rather than complacent gratitude should be the spirit of this Thanksgiving Day.

We are all still deeply shaken by the horror of recent events, and by a sense that we have lost more even than a leader of great stature and promise. Something of national pride and honor and international prestige suffered last week in Dallas. Complacency was, we trust, hit hardest of all.

Yet Thanksgiving is an occasion deeply rooted in American life. This is true at least as much in Marin County as in the New England whence it sprung.

There is, after all, much of the old New England flavor in Marin today. Here we even have a "first New England" where Point Reyes' white cliffs in 1579, some 41 years before the Mayflower's Plymouth landing, recalled to the homesick eyes of Sir Francis Drake those other white cliffs of Dover.

But the matter runs deeper. Marin residents feel themselves close to the soil, even when their living is made in high buildings not in this county. As much as anywhere in presentday America we have something of the Pilgrim spirit. So it would be unfitting if we were to let ourselves be jarred out of the usual annual awareness that the time to be thankful has come again.

Of course we have much to be thankful for—almost too much, some present soul-searchers may incline to think. In such matters gratitude sometimes emerges in inverse ratio to the things for which one ought to give thanks.

But at any rate we are all in a mood to evaluate maturely, without conceit, in the spirit of this day when our nation was young. Today is a day for us not merely to stuff our stomachs but to exercise our minds and consciences.

We have (most of us) a reasonable amount of freedom, and we boast of it. We preen ourselves upon American democracy without troubling to share it with all Americans equally. Want is not too frequently met, and the state draws on taxpayers to cope with want at its worst in any event. Mostly we eat well.

Just how fitted we are to preach to other nations about how they should operate their affairs is a question we might well put to ourselves today. Yet it can't be gainsaid that by and large, most of the affairs of this nation and of most of us prosper.

We are more than lucky in the resources of our land, whatever our personal deserts. And we have, it is true, tried of late to share though often ineptly.

Let us be thankful certainly. But let us do it in humbleness and soul-searching this Thanksgiving Day, 1963.

Bald Eagle Headed For Extinction?

Is that noble bird, the Bald Eagle which is our national symbol, in danger of going the way of the dodo bird and the passenger pigeon? Yes, say the experts.

These regal predators are still being shot in large numbers, according to the Research Director of the National Audubon Society, Mr. Alexander Sprunt, IV. There is also speculation that the Bald Eagle is quite susceptible to DDT poisoning.

In a recent survey only 38 of these birds were reported in California. They simply are not producing enough young to maintain themselves.

The situation is by no means hopeless, however. Florida is the biggest Bald Eagle state, outside Alaska. The experts feel that an education campaign is needed to enable the public to recognize and protect this great bird.

CONGRESS MIGHT ACT

Public Anger Stirs New Efforts To Avert U.S. Assassinations

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON — Public anger at presidential assassinations in the past often found expression in demands for restrictive action by Congress.

At least two successful assassinations — Presidents James A. Garfield's and William McKinley's — gave impetus to new statutes.

Attempts on the lives of Presidents Franklin Delano Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman brought demands for changes in the internal security laws.

Garfield was shot on July 2, 1881, at the railway depot in Washington by Charles J. Guiteau, a disappointed office - seeker who wanted a foreign appointment.

HIS DEATH has been credited with giving a major push to civil service legislation to end the spoils systems under which government job appointments were left to the whim of the party in power. In 1883, Congress passed the Pendleton Act, which remains the basic civil service act.

The act provided competitive examinations, established a Civil Service Commission and made other reforms to end the spoils system that had become rampant in governments after the Civil War.

McKinley's assassination by a professed anarchist on Sept. 6, 1901, in Buffalo, N. Y., assisted the eventual adoption of the statute which bars anarchists from the United States. He was shot by Leon Czolgosz, a factory worker.

THEODORE Roosevelt, McKinley's successor, said in his first annual message: "We should aim to exclude absolutely . . . all persons who are known to be believers in anarchistic principles or members of anarchistic societies."

Roosevelt himself was the victim of an assassination attempt in Milwaukee, Wis., in 1912, during a presidential campaign. He was shot and wounded by a saloon keeper, but no new legislation resulted. The assassin, John N. Schrank, opposed a third term for Roosevelt. Schrank, like the man who killed Garfield, was declared to be insane.

An attempt was made on the life of Franklin Delano Roosevelt in 1933 at Miami, Fla., by Guiseppe Zangara, a bricklayer. The shots, however, killed Chicago Mayor-elect Anton J. Cermak, who was with the President, and wounded five other persons.

ZANGARA'S assassination attempt brought demands for anti - Communist measures. Zangara said he was not a Communist, but before his electrocution he said he was against "all capitalists."

The attempt on the life of President Truman in 1950 by two Puerto Rican nationalists who tried to shoot their way into Blair House produced speculation that major tightening of immigration and subversive activity laws might result. This did not occur, however.

What might have happened during the period after the Civil War had Abraham Lincoln not been assassinated in 1865 has been a matter of much speculation. There has been no disagreement, however, that the reconstruction period was made more difficult for the South than it would have been had Lincoln lived and been able to implement his own reconstruction plans.

Bard Of Miracle Mile Greets Thanksgiving

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Please, for a little while,
Step out on the Miracle Mile.
Look up, down, roundabout,
North, east, west, south.
You will now find the view best
To the west.
A miracle is taking place.
All trees draped in green
Can be seen
To change their garments to yellow,
To colors soft and mellow.

Here, right before your face

Zephyrs make pieces of garment fly
Near and far, far away.
While singing in the tree,
They inspire you and me
To have more Thanksgiving days;
Render to the Creator — our praise!

Also, the West
With sunset at its best
Gives us hints
Of wondrous tints
That the Master Artist has got
In His painting pot.

Jack Ruby A Foe Of American Way

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Many American children, exposed as they are to hours of mock gunplay and other violent entertainment on television, might be inclined to view Jack Ruby as a "good guy", acting in the accepted tradition of frontier justice.

The insidious effect on children's minds of violence in television and comic books is profound, and in their impressionable innocence they could make the wrong decision about Ruby.

Parents and educators have an urgent duty at this time to explain to children the true American ideals of justice and order, to which President Kennedy was dedicated. Jack Ruby, with his lawless disregard of these cherished institutions, is as much an enemy of President Kennedy and American society as the actual assassin.

Mill Valley Blast Felt Unjustified

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mayor Sheeks' recent blast was just that. It was pent-up anger bursting out at one time, being heard throughout the county.

It was malicious. It was directed at the three leaders of the council opposition. He called these men "political malcontents." He could not be further away from the truth. Here are their records:

Robert Huber — Our most recent ex-mayor. After two terms on the council, he retired from elective office. He knows Mr. Almcrants's qualifications. They worked together in harmony and to public satisfaction.

Peter Behr — Served on council with similar satisfaction with Mr. Almcrants. He resigned as he was elected our supervisor. His services have always been satisfactory to the general public.

William Hamilton—retired years ago. He was on councils that accomplished a great many forward steps: Our City Hall, our golf course, our tennis courts, a bond approval for the new sewer system, reorganization of the police department, defeat of a municipal bus operation competing with Greyhound, our basic zoning laws, improved building codes, joining of the League of California Cities, creating the Board of Freeholders which brought about the council-city manager form of government and many lesser accomplishments.

He resigned as mayor Dec. 10, 1941, to accept a commission in the U. S. Marines.

More recently he, alone, and let me repeat, he, alone, secured without cost to the city, the railroad property that has resulted in a city-owned depot and our beautiful Miller Avenue. Still later, and again alone, conceived the Green Belt on the slopes of Mt. Tamalpais and saw it through to conclusion.

In 1956 he was appointed chairman of the newly created Marshland Committee. He urged city control and acquirement of all adjacent marshlands, and realignment of channel for flood control. The improvement in that area now being made are the first results.

In 1957 Mr. Hamilton, again alone, distrusted an individual who proposed a resort motel on city owned property. Mr. Hamilton went to Sacramento and learned this promoter was a fugitive from justice. Previously he had served four years in San Quentin.

Also in 1957 Mr. Hamilton was foreman of the grand jury.

At present, as an appointee of the board of supervisors he is chairman of the Sausalito Canal Dredging Committee under a master plan for development of Richardson Bay.

Mayor Sheeks' vicious attack on such public-spirited citizens is abuse of his office and is also an attempt to interfere with free speech.

Sad Event Enforces Need for Training

Editor, Independent-Journal:

During these sad days many thoughts cross our minds.

One small incident was the saddest to me of all. As I was driving home shortly after the assassination, a tiny tot of maybe two or three years old stepped beside my car and pointed a small toy gun at me.

Thus I asked myself: How is it possible that we, who consider ourselves a civilized people, permit such dangerous tools in the hands of the innocent?

If arms are needed and maybe they are, is it not early enough to instruct our youths in the careful considered use of them when they reach the age of reason?

This is a plea to parents:

In memory of John Fitzgerald Kennedy restrain your youngsters from playing with guns, etc., the meaning of which they cannot understand. This could be one of the many steps to reach our late respected president's goal.

Peace under law for all humanity.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

"My poor husband," moaned a woman to the town's leading psychoanalyst. "He's convinced he's a parking meter." The analyst regarded the silent, woe-begone fellow holding the wife's hand, and asked, "Why doesn't he say something for himself? Can't he talk?" The wife said, "How can he — with all those dimes and nickels in his mouth?"

George Jessel, making one of his innumerable after-dinner orations, noticed with chagrin that his audience was growing rather restless. "Take it easy," he assured the wrigglers. "Like Lady Godiva on the last lap of her historic ride, I am drawing near my close."

Robert Bennett poses three questions in the Dramatists Guild Bulletin that play lovers will find challenging: 1. Why are there so many more rewriters these days than writers? 2. Why does grand opera sound grander in every language than in English? 3. When the old theaters are all replaced by new parking lots, what will the cars come there for?

Kennedy Youngest Ever Elected And Also Youngest To Perish

NEW YORK (AP) — Some notes on "the world's toughest job"—the presidency of the United States:

Despite the awful pressures of the post, 27 of the 34 men who served as president before Lyndon B. Johnson lived to be over 60—and three are still alive.

Of the eight who died in office, four were felled by assassins.

THE MOST durable president to date was John Adams, variously known as "Atlas of Independence," "His Rotundity," and "Old Sink or Swim."

He lived 90 years and 295 days and died on the same 4th of July as did Thomas Jefferson, who was 83.

The oldest president to die in office, William Henry Harrison, 68, "Old Tippecanoe," succumbed to pneumonia exactly a month after he took office on March 4, 1841. He caught cold after riding to the Capitol on a white horse in stormy weather and delivering the longest inaugural message on record—8,578 words.

HIS SUCCESSOR, John Tyler who served out his term, lived to be 71. Tyler had two wives.

He had 15 children, the largest number of any president. Seven of the children were born during the 16 years he survived after leaving the White House.

Of the three presidents besides William Henry Harrison who died of natural causes while in office, only one, Warren G. Harding, 57, was under 60. Zachary Taylor was 65, Franklin D. Roosevelt, 63.

AT 46, John F. Kennedy, the youngest man ever elected president, was also the youngest to die. He was the second Democrat to die in office, the first slain while in power.

The second youngest president to die was James A. Garfield, killed by an assassin at the age of 49.

Sixteen past presidents, including the three now living, survived to be 70 or over. Five made it to 80 or more, among them Herbert Hoover.

Abraham Lincoln and John F. Kennedy died in coma within a short period after being shot by assassins.

GARFIELD lived for 80 days.

President William McKinley lived for eight days after he was shot Sept. 6, 1901, at the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo, N. Y.

Since 1958, by act of Congress, all presidential widows receive pensions of $10,000 a year.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

New President Confronted With Decision On USIA

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON —President Johnson is going to have to pass judgment very soon on an unannounced action by his predecessor shortly before his violent death.

Under this backstage decision, the United Statets Information Agency was given a new and far-reaching role—as the top "psychological instrumentality" of the government.

The Senate Appropriations Subcommittee in charge of the USIA budget made this startling discovery at a closed-door meeting with Acting Director Donald Wilson. He vigorously urged the group, headed by Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark.), to give USIA a $208,236,000 budget.

THE HOUSE had cut it to $163,470,000 — approximately the same as the current budget. Wilson contended the additional $45 million is necessary because of the agency's new and greatly expanded functions, which he described as follows:

"USIA is now the psychological instrument, the propaganda instrument, if you will, in defense of American interests abroad, as the State Department is the diplomatic instrument, the Defense Department the military instrument, AID the economic instrument, and the Central Intelligence Agency the Intelligence instrument.

"This makes the Public Affairs Officer in each U.S. embassy the psychological adviser to the ambassador and his team. And it puts the USIA Director in a similar capacity in Washington.

"THE NEW policy puts responsibility on other departments and agencies to seek our counsel when considering matters which may affect or be affected by foreign opinion. Under our new mission, we have become the psychological instrumentality employed for political effect in pursuit of national objectives."

This policy was immediately sharply challenged by Senator McClellan and other committee members. They bluntly left no doubt of their determination to block this unannounced move.

McClellan and Senator Allen Ellender, D-La., who is also chairman of the influential Agricultural Committee, propose to personally discuss this matter with President Johnson. They will strongly advise that he reverse this greatly expanded USIA role.

THEY ALSO have no intention of increasing the USIA's budget above the House total.

McClellan sought unavailingly to ascertain from Wilson how and why this far-reaching USIA expansion was put over.

All Wilson would say was that, "There was some consultation with the White House, and this mission was approved by the President as our charter. It puts us directly in support of foreign policy objectives in a more express and harder hitting manner."

"In other words," remarked McClellan dryly, "the idea is to put you in a greater position of prestige, power and influence in your own government."

Wilson admitted, "That is true, yes, sir."

3 Leaderships Change Hands

By Associated Press

The leadership of three of the Big Four Western nations has changed hands this fall. The chronology:

Oct. 15—Konrad Adenauer stepped down as chancellor of West Germany; succeeded by Ludwig Erhard, economics minister.

Oct. 18—Harold Macmillan resigned as prime minister of Great Britain; succeeded by Foreign Secretary Lord Home, now known as Sir Alec Douglas-Home.

Nov. 22—John F. Kennedy killed by an assassin; succeeded as president of the United States by Vice Pres. Lyndon B. Johnson.

The fourth leader, Preside Charles de Gaulle of France, went to Washington for the funeral of President Kennedy.

Thanksgiving Irony Seen As Strife Over Civil Rights Goes On

IT'S HARD to celebrate a day of feasting and thankfulness less than one week after the nation has been shattered by the assassination of its president. Our traditional Thanksgiving seems lame, without purpose.

But what transcends the irony of this native holiday is the sense of urgency that we as Americans should have on this day.

Rather than re-affirming our self-satisfaction and conviction that all things in America are good, a Thanksgiving in the wake of the death of John F. Kennedy serves as a poignant reminder that we are political beings who cannot escape responsibility.

INVOLVEMENT, and maybe violence, are closer to all of us than we usually wish to believe. This feeling of urgency and the burden of events ruthlessly struck a crowd of some 500 people, including many Marin residents, who gathered at Berkeley's Hotel Claremont on Friday, Nov. 22.

Their reason for being there was a concern over civil rights — and the controversy growing out of the Rumford Fair Housing Act. The University of California arranged the conference and called it "Race and Property." It was attended by real estate brokers, Negro leaders, lawyers and legislators, including Assemblyman Byron Rumford.

When they registered at 9 o'clock that morning, few knew or cared that the president of the United States was scheduled to speak in Dallas, Texas, the same day.

A MESSAGE from the governor was read, and the crowd settled down to hear Prof. Richard R. B. Powell of Hastings College of Law talk about the necessary restrictions which society has put on property rights for centuries. His point about prohibitions on racial discrimination in the sale or rental of land being essential to the "health and welfare of the people" was well taken.

The audience thundered applause and moved out of the hotel's Gold Room for coffee. It was almost 10:30 a.m.

During the break, reporters telephoned stories to afternoon papers. They returned, unbelieving, with garbled reports from their city desks that "Kennedy has been shot." Back in the Gold Room, a spokesman for the California Real Estate Assn. talked about "erosion of property rights" while rumors swept through the audience.

SUDDENLY John H. Tolan, conference co-chairman and executive of Marin City home builders, interrupted the proceedings and announced what everyone feared: The president was dead.

The news produced more than shock and grief. The murder of a president seemed the awakening of a people.

The assassination was somehow on everyone's head. The man who sent federal troops to Ole Miss was dead, and here were Californians quibbling over a fair housing law.

TOLAN led the audience in a trembling recital of the Lord's Prayer, and the conference was adjourned — but only for a short time. For everyone felt there was nothing to do but keep going. More than ever, it was time to press for answers to problems.

Conference delegates went home several hours later, tired, solemn, with few if any answers.

But they knew it's too late for anyone to be excused. Evasion they felt to be now indefensible. Thanksgiving to them must mean renewed determination to see things through—clearly and without violence.

JAMES MARLOW

Kennedy Wrote That 'A Man Does What He Must' Despite Peril

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy probably never meant to be his own prophet but he was when he explained eight years ago why he chose certain men in American history for his book, "Profiles in Courage."

His prophecy became his epitaph.

"The courage of life," he said, long before he was considered for the presidency, "is often a less dramatic spectacle than the courage of a final moment; but it is no less a magnificent mixture of triumph and tragedy.

"A MAN does what he must — in spite of personal consequences, in spite of obstacles and dangers and pressures—and that is the basis of all human morality."

It took courage to push through crowds to shake hands or ride through a city with the top down.

He knew the consequences might be assassination, and they were. But he felt what he did needed doing.

THE DEEPER courage of his life, as with others before him, was in seeking the presidency and then trying to make good at it, with all that implies in effort.

He gave the presidency a youthful sense of life unmatched since the bouncing days of Theodore Roosevelt, if only because all the others in between were older when they took office. Kennedy was only 43.

President Johnson, 55, cannot be expected to spend himself as tirelessly, at least in a physical way, as Kennedy. His heart attack of 1955 makes it important not to get overfatigued.

KENNEDY brought more than courage and energy to the White House. Like Sir Winston Churchill, he had that indefinable thing called grace.

Churchill always had style but he developed grace late. Kennedy always had it, and it showed itself in his quiet humor, even at his own expense, and in his avoidance of political brawling.

At this moment, so close to his death and before the emotion over his assassination melts away, it is impossible to measure his place in history.

HE WAS president less than three years or only five months longer than Harding, who was a misfit no matter how he is looked at. Kennedy, on the contrary, fitted into the presidency almost elegantly.

Yet, his less than three years of service were hardly more than a beginning, a foundation for what lay ahead since he seemed very likely to win a second term.

In that time, abroad, he had become a highly popular and respected figure. He had established better relations with the Soviet Union than had existed. He won the confidence of most of Latin America.

HIS PLACE in history may well depend upon the fact, if it proves to be a fact, that he broke the ice of the cold war.

But it is too soon to do more than suggest that may be result of the work he did in his short time.

It didn't seem to be in his nature to be harsh and he appeared unwilling to be very tough except as a last resort, such as in making Premier Khrushchev take his missiles out of Cuba or using troops to stop Southern governors' defiance of federal court orders.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Nov. 28, the 332nd day of 1963 with 33 to follow. Today is Thanksgiving.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1520, Ferdinand Magellan entered the Pacific Ocean on his way around the world, the first European to sail that body of water from the East.

In 1956, the United States expressed concern to the Syrian government over substantial shipments of Soviet arms to Syria.

In 1958, the United States fired an intercontinental ballistic missile for full range for the first time.

In 1863, the United States observed the first Thanksgiving Day set aside by national proclamation.

A thought for the day — American President George Washington said: "The basis of our political system is the right of the people to make and to alter their constitutions of government."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Guess Who Usually Wins Bridge Match When Youth Versus Age?

They hold Youth versus Age matches in England, and Age usually wins, but for peculiar reasons.

In one crucial hand of a recent match, Age was too impetuous and Youth gave up too easily.

Opening lead — ♠ K

West, representing Age (over 35), made a very bad double of three hearts. It couldn't gain very much, and it should have told South how to play the hand.

THIRD SPADE

South, under 35, ruffed the third spade and made a give-up play by leading out the ace of hearts and then another heart.

He said he was hoping for a 2-2 break in trumps, but surely the double marked West with at least K-Q-x of trumps.

South can make the contract if he allows himself to be guided by West's impetuous double. The idea is to make West lead clubs.

STRIP DIAMONDS

South must begin by stripping out the diamonds. He ruffs the third spade, cashes the top diamonds and ruffs dummy's last diamond. Then South leads a low heart toward dummy.

West must step up with the queen of hearts and must return a low club. If West returns a trump, he loses a trump trick.

If West returns a diamond, dummy ruffs and South discards a club; whereupon South takes the club finesse to make the contract.

RETURNS CLUB

When West returns a club, dummy and East play low. South wins with the nine of clubs and leads another low trump.

West takes his king of hearts and leads another heart. Dummy wins with the jack, and now South leads a club from dummy and wins a finesse with the jack.

The hand presents two morals. If you fear that South's proper line of play is too complicated for you except when you're feeling just right, you can still learn something from West's horrible double.

Don't tell your opponent exactly how to play the hand by doubling for an extra hundred points.

QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ 10 8
♥ Q 10 3
♦ Q 10 4
♣ Q J 10 9 5.

What do you say?

Answer: Pass.

Since you have only seven points in high cards, the combined count can be only 25 points at most. This is usually not enough for game.

Can People Be Thankful To God When Hearts Heavy?

By LOUIS CASSELS
U. P. International

Can a people be truly thankful to God when their hearts are heavy with a great sorrow?

Americans face that question on this Thanksgiving Day.

It is not a new problem. It was extremely familiar to the poets of ancient Irsael, who composed the matchless hymns of praise which we call the Psalms.

They too witnessed sudden death and experienced the numbing shock of bereavement. In their anguish, they cried aloud to God:

"Thou dost sweep men away; they are like a dream,

"Like grass which is renewed in the morning:

"In the morning it flourishes and is renewed;

"In the evening it fades and withers."

They also suffered national calamaties and found themselves wondering whether the God of their fathers had deserted them.

"My God, my God," they complained, "Why hast thou forsaken me?

"Our fathers hoped in Thee; they trusted in Thee and Thou didst deliver them . . .

"Why are Thou so far from helping me?"

But even as they protested to heaven, they knew in their hearts that "The Lord is good; his steadfast love endures forever, and his faithfulness to all generations."

And so they were able to say, in the opening words of the 92nd Psalm which John F. Kennedy commended in his countrymen last Thanksgiving Day:

"It is good to give thanks to the Lord."

The Hebrew poets did not profess to comprehend all of God's actions. On the contrary, they were sure that "His ways are past finding out."

But experience interpreted by faith had taught them a great truth which every generation has to re-learn: That God's loving kindness is communicated through the afflictions which His children endure, no less than through their obvious blessing. That enabled them to give thanks in the midst of sorrow, and to leave for all generations such majestic words as those of the 103rd Psalm:

"Bless the Lord, oh my soul;

"And all that is within me, Bless His Holy name!

"Bless the Lord, oh my soul,

"And forget not all of His Benefits . . .

"For the Lord is merciful and gracious,

"Slow to anger, and abounding in steadfast love . . .

"He does not deal with us according to our sins,

"Nor requite us according to our iniquities . . .

"As a father pities his children,

"So the Lord pities those who fear Him.

"For he knows our frame;

"He remembers that we are dust.

"As for man, his days are like grass;

"He flourishes like a flower of the field.

"The wind passes over it, and it is gone,

"And its place knows it no more.

"But the steadfast love of the Lord

"Is from everlasting to everlasting upon those who fear Him,

"And His righteousness to children's children,

"To those who keep His covenant,

"And remember to do His commandments."

Mortar Mixer Taken

A $700 electric mortar mixer on a trailer was stolen from a housing development in west Marinwood, owner Eichler Homes, Inc., reported to the sheriff's office Tuesday. A foreman said the bright orange machine had been parked on Mount Burnery Court.

"VISTA MARINA"

A new concept of living in Marvelous Marin. Ten new non-tract homes—individual design and character.

What makes a new home appealing and different?
What does the lady of the house look for?
Is TV reception important to your family?
Is the location good for your children?
Are the breakfast areas and dining ells cheerful and pleasant?
Can you enjoy a superb view on a level lot?
Will Dad look forward to the end of the day?
Can a home reflect a family's warmth and love?

A sincere attempt has been made by the builders of these homes to meet the above requirements. The advertisements mention bedrooms, family rooms, electric kitchens, etc. These homes have all these and something more, we believe. One look is worth a thousand words. We would be delighted to show these homes to you.

STENSTROM BUICK
LEFTOVER '63's
Up To $1300 Off

Here are three cars that we have used as family cars at the company during the year. All three have a few miles on them but none have ever been licensed to anyone so they are new cars in the eyes of General Motors thus they carry the full two year warranty just like brand new Buicks.

ELECTRA 225 $3700
Here's the best Buick we build with just over 3,000 miles. Sells new for just over $5,000, thus you save $1,300 off the regular price. Has every conceivable extra including power steering, brakes, seat and windows. Bronze Mist with white top.

STATION WAGON $3195
Special deluxe wagon with every extra including factory air conditioning, power steering, power brakes, automatic, radio, heater, ww tires, etc. Just turned 4,000 miles. Has the new window price of almost $4,100, but we'll sell below cost at $3,195. Arctic white with red leather interior.

SKYLARK COUPE $2895
Fawn with saddle leather bucket seats. All the extras including power steering-brakes, radio, heater, automatic trans., ww tires. Not a mark of wear anywhere. This is Buick's most popular model. The best seller we've ever made.

Legal Notices

NOTICE OF SCHOOL BOND ELECTION

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on Tuesday, January 14, 1964 an election will be held in Fairfax School District of Marin County, California, at which election there will be submitted the question whether bonds of this district shall be issued and sold to the amount of $175,000.00 for the purpose of raising money for the following purposes:

(1) The purchasing of school lots.

(2) The building or purchasing of school buildings.

(3) The making of alterations or additions to the school building or buildings other than such as may be necessary for current maintenance, operation or repairs.

(4) The repairing, restoring or rebuilding of any school building damaged, injured or destroyed by fire or other public calamity.

(5) The supplying of school buildings and grounds with furniture, equipment or necssary apparatus of a permanent nature.

(6) The permanent improvement of the school grounds.

(7) The carrying out of the projects or purposes authorized in Section 15811 of the Education Code, to wit, providing sewers and drains adequate to treat and/or dispose of sewage and drainage on or away from each school property.

All of the above enumerated purposes shall be united and voted upon as one single proposition.

Said bonds proposed to be issued and sold shall bear interest at a rate of not exceeding 5% per annum, payable annually for the first year the bonds have to run, and semi-annually thereafter, and the number of years the whole or any part of the bonds are to run shall not exceed 25 years from the date of the bonds or the date of any series thereof.

The polls will be kept open between the hours of 7:00 o'clock A.M. and 7:00 o'clock P.M.

The election returns will be canvassed at 10:00 o'clock A.M. on Tuesday, January 21, 1964 by the County Superintendent of Schools at the office of the County Superintendent of Schools, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

Absent voter ballots may be obtained by applying, in person or by mail, at the office of the Marin County Superintendent of Schools. Applications must reach that office not later than January 7, 1964.

The deadline for the receipt of voted absent ballots is 5 o'clock P.M., Monday January 13, 1964.

Hemorrhage Fever Study Is Planned

NEW YORK (UPI)—A group of American scientists will journey into the relatively uninhabited lowlands of Eastern Bolivia next April in an effort to determine the cause of the deadly disease hemorrhagic fever.

A team of scientists from the American Museum of Natural History will join with medical teams in Bolivia in an attempt to locate the ectoparasites which are believed to carry the disease.

The disease, which causes internal bleeding and other symptoms, has afflicted at least 600 persons in Bolivia during the past four years with a mortality rate of approximately 20 per cent.

Dr. Richard G. Van Gelder, who will head the museum's scientific team, said his group will collect mammals in the area and the ectoparasites which they carry. He said their primary objective will be to determine whether or not the hemorrhagic fever virus can be found in the animal population of the region.

The museum team will work together with scientists from Middle America Research Unit (MARU), an agency of the National Institute of Health and the Walter Reed Research Institute, which has been trying to isolate the virus.

Doctor Van Gelder said the expedition would probably last about six months, the scientists would travel along the Rio Itenez living in a 53-foot houseboat complete with a laboratory. They would make numerous stops to collect animals and carry out their research.

Doctor Van Gelder said the greatest problem will be one in logistics.

"There are no roads, few people, an uncertain food supply and no adequate geographic information about the area in which we will work," he said. "The region is biologically unexplored."

He said, however, that the boat would be stocked with a six-months' food supply and would provide purified water.

The team from MARU has been working in the area for the past six month in an all-out program to isolate the virus, determine what animals are carrying the disease and find the modes of transmission.

Helium Use In Space Program

LIBERAL, Kan. (UPI)—Helium is scheduled to play a major role in this country's space program, with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) alone expecting to use 127 million cubic feet of the rare element this year and more than 200 million cubic feet annually within two years.

The prediction was made here by Charles Zimmerman, director of aeronautical research for NASA, at the dedication of the world's largest helium producing plant, with a production capacity of one billion, 300 million cubic feet per year.

The plant was built by the National Helium Corp. — privately as a joint venture by Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. and National Distillers and Chemical Corp.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Letter Writer Wants To Know If Columnist Ever Gets Sick—'Yes'

VAN DELLEN

Every week we receive thousands of letters and all are different. I wonder what prompted one person to ask, "Do you ever get sick? Have you ever had an operation?" I've been ill on several occasions and have had three operations —two on my left leg and a tonsilectomy.

A grateful mother wrote: "I must say thank you for your column a year ago on black moles. My son, in graduate school, just happened to pick up a newspaper on his way from the last class of the day. He said he never had read a doctor's column before but the words 'black mole' caught his eye and he read your article. He had a mole on his back, saw a doctor the next day, and had it removed. The test showed a malignancy. He has been going for checkups since the operation and the surgeon now tells him he is well. So please accept our grateful thanks."

We were pleased to hear this story with a happy ending, and thankful this young man went to his physician immediately, instead of procastinating, as many do.

IT NEVER PAYS to be too dogmatic when it comes to answering medical questions. One of our readers wanted to know whether a woman could have chills instead of hot flashes during the change. I replied, "No, but there is no reason why women in this age group cannot develop infections that bring on chills or chilly sensations."

Another person wrote, "I hate to differ with you but I am 56 and never had a hot flash in my life. Instead, I always got chills and my doctor told me some women get hot flashes and others get chills during the change of life."

ONLY 50 PER CENT of all women encounter hot flashes during the menopause. They are caused by a sudden dilatation of the surface vessels; this brings blood, warmth, and a flush to the skin. The sensation usually begins in the face, neck, and upper chest, followed by a wave of heat that may pass over the entire body. The vasometer nerves control the caliber of the blood vessels but we do not know why these disturbances of circulation take place during the climacteric.

Chilly sensations could stem from the opposite reaction — constriction of the blood vessels. This is speculative. Our reader may be thin or have a low metabolism, either of which could induce feelings of chilliness.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

EAR MASS

E. P. writes: Please explain a cholesteatoma tumor in the ear.

REPLY

This is a mass of dead cells and cholesterol crystals that forms in the ear canal of a person with such conditions as a perforated eardrum.

ASTHMA FROM CATS

S. writes: I have various allergies. If I should get a couple of cats would I develop asthma?

REPLY

Possibly, but you are more likely to get more cats.

DIET AND SINUS

E. S. writes: Would diet relieve sinus congestion?

REPLY

No. Food is not the answer to this problem unless you are allergic to a specific item such as wheat, corn, milk, or turnips.

SURGERY FOR CYST

B. A. writes: Is surgery the only cure for wens?

REPLY

Yes. These cysts contain a cheesy material that can be expressed. But they re-form as long as the cyst remains.

Today's Health Hint — Be happy.

Auctioneer School Being Run In Texas

BRYAN, Texas (UPI)—Popular impressions notwithstanding, a good auctioneer has to be much more than a man with a fast tongue and a heavy gavel.

So says Col. Walter Britten, who helps run one of the nation's most unusual schools—an institute for auctioneers at Bryan, Texas.

Britten is one of the country's top auctioneers and is co-owner of the National Auction Institute. The institute holds its classes at Allen Academy in Bryan.

"The major prerequisite for our institute is an interest in being a good auctioneer," Britten said. "A good auctioneer is someone who is capable of being a good salesman. He has a good personality, a good knowledge of the product he is selling and a keen sense of observation."

The Institute holds its classes for two weeks in midsummer. Apprentice auctioneers go to classes up to 10 hours a day. They come from all over the country; this year's class of 35 represented several states and, over the years, nearly every state and some Canadian provinces have had students in the courses.

Bidders are as individualistic as the things they buy, Britten says. For this reason, the auctioneer has to remember the certain gesture, the characteristic wink or nod or wave of hand, of his bidders.

Some bidders don't like others to know they are bidding. Others yell right out. Some wave. Others grimace.

"You have ot be ready for anything," Britten says.

Oddly enough, not all the students at the Auction Institute come to be auctioneers.

"Sometimes their parents send them to help them gain confidence in their speaking ability," Britten says. "Other times, clerks in sales establishments are sent by their bosses to give them more insight into the business. Often, somebody comes to us to work on a bad speech impediment."

Quint Andrew Will Go Home

ABERDEEN, S.D. (UPI)—Little James Andrew, the only boy of the famed Fischer quintuplets, is getting a reputation as a "trailblazer" of sorts.

He was the first of the quints, born Sept. 14, to leave the incubator and the first to go into the open air bassinet.

Saturday, he will be the first to go home while his four sisters stay behind until hospital officials decide to release them in their mother's care.

Dr. James Berbos, the doctor who delivered the quints, said he has not decided when the girls will go home.

Transit Line Offers "Kissing Loop"

CLEVELAND (UPI) — One inducement to commuters to use Cleveland's rapid transit line to the suburb of Shaker Heights is the "kissing loop."

The kissing loop is a station protected from the weather into which wives can drive their husbands, give them goodbye kisses, and then return home with the family cars.

Work Begins On Distillery

Work has begun on replacing facilities burned out in the May 4 fire at the American Distilling Co. in Sausalito.

The $75,000 remodeling, to be completed early in January, is being done entirely in the main distillery building and will include installation of conveyors to get products to the shipping department, a new concrete floor and toilets. The shipping building which was destroyed by fire, is not to be rebuilt, H. M. Engle, San Rafael engineer for the job, said.

Ira W. Coburn, Inc., of San Francisco, is the contractor.

One apartment dweller sleepily yelled: "Go home, drunk!" Thanks to Nelson, nobody was injured.

Negro Professor To Rent To Whites

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI) — A Negro professor who bought a home in a white residential section confirmed yesterday he would not live in the house himself, but rent it to a white family.

Dr. Edwin Thompkins, a professor at Johnson C. Smith University issued the statement after the family who sold him the house reported their neighbors were giving them the cold shoulder.

William E. Simpson, 26, said none of his "friends" in the neighborhood would have anything to do with his family since the sale.

Saturday night, four shots ripped into Simpson's home.

Simpson said he did not know Thompkins was a Negro until after the sale. He said Thompkins' features and color led him to believe he was white.

'Drunkard' Lively Show For County

By K. E. NELSON

The Homestead Players succeeded in putting on an amusing and lively production of "The Drunkard" at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley last week and will return tomorrow and Saturday.

They opened Thursday, cancelled their scheduled performance Friday and went on again Saturday, although it was obvious that only the tradition that the show must go on brought the shaken cast back to the boards after the national tragedy.

Far and away the star of the show is Ed Fisher, who portrays Squire Cribbs as one of the most villainous villains who ever slunk across the stage. Harrie Batz is splendid as Mary Middleton, the drunkard's unhappy wife, and Jack Eshleman, as honest Bill Dowton, thwarts the villain with gusto and untarnished hokum.

Playing Edward Middleton, drunkard, Jake Terhall was adequate although his mind was not on his lines Saturday and Dick Mason is impressively sanctimonious as Arden Rencelaw who salvages Middleton from the gutter without losing his own dignity and aplomb.

Mike Geisler is a hilariously rustic Farmer Gates and Peter Klain does well as the sub-villain whose grog shop starts Edward on the way to ruin.

This observer got a special laugh dividend from Barbara Aleshire's performance as Miss Spindle, an outrageously ridiculous old maid.

The rest of the cast—Juanita Vincent as Mary's mother, Jack Payne as Stevens, Forentine O'Rourke as Belle, Jane Healey and Miriam Burdick alternating as William's addled sister Agnes, and young Rip Klain as the messenger—rise to the lesser demands of their parts and are adequate to good.

The sets—we're sorry we didn't get the designer's name—are fine. Jack Payne, who doubles in the olio numbers, displayed a fine singing voice. The beer and pretzels were up to standard. The audience hissed, booed and cheered happily.

Curtain time is 8:30 tomorrow and Saturday. It's an amusing bit of hokum. Director Dan Caldwell did a good job.

DRY CLIMATE

River Boat Captain Is Living On Desert

By MURRAY SINCLAIR

TUSCON, Ariz. (AP) — Some people can have their cake and eat it, too.

Lyle Summey does.

He's a river boat captain who likes to live on the desert.

So he commutes.

For 30 days eight times a year he guides the towboat Pere Marquette up and down the upper Mississippi.

Then he scoots back to Tucson where the rivers are nothing but winding stretches of shimmering sand.

Summey didn't always like the desert. He was content to spend the rest of his life with the sweet, musty smell of the mud banks.

But in 1951 his wife, June, developed an acute case of asthma. "The doctors told us that her only chance was to move to a dry climate," Summey recalls. So he moved to Tucson—and was miserable.

After all, he says, he had become the youngest licensed pilot on the Mississippi, Illinois and Missouri rivers when he was only 17 year old.

He had been born next to the Illinois River in Beardstown, Ill., into a family of rivermen. His father and two brothers were on the river.

"I'd spend all my spare time sitting on the dike watching the boats go by," he recalls. "I could tell you the name of a boat just by hearing its whistle. All I ever wanted was to be out there with them."

When he was 15 he got a job as a deckhand on a towboat pushing barges of gravel from Lockport, Ill., to Chicago. He chipped paint, scrubbed decks, did all the dirty work for the cook and learned to swear like a riverman. Then he was an engineer and finally the most glorious job he could think of—a river pilot.

There is a tone of affection when he talks of rivermen. "They're a class all their own," he says. "Always cussing their work and the river. Always quiting and always coming back.

"Sure the life is tough, but you are never sure what you'll find around the next bend.

When Summey came to Tucson he thought he was through with the river.

For a while he managed a bowling alley. The best he could say about Tucson was that it was awful.

"It took a long while before I could say—or see—anything nice about Arizona. But like the river, the desert grows on you."

Finally he worked out the commuting arrangement.

Mostly he works the upper Mississippi to Grafton, then cuts up the Illinois to Chicago. Other trips take him up the Mississippi from Cairo all the way to Minneapolis or St. Paul. It's been a long while since he worked the lower Mississippi.

The Pere Marquette is no stern wheeler with a crewman out front heaving a lead line and calling the depth. It's a diesel-powered workhorse 110 feet long, 35 feet wide with a crew of 12. And it doesn't tow barges, it pushes them—sometimes 15 each 200 feet long and 35 feet wide.

So Captain Lyle Summey is a happy man of 34. "I'm doing the job I want to do, and living where I want to live," he says. "I guess a man can't ask for much more."

His wife? She's fine.

Photo Claimed To Be That Of New Soviet Jet

LONDON (UPI) — Two of today's London newspapers published what purports to be the first picture ever seen in the west of a Russian jet fighter firing an air-to-air missile.

The Daily Mail and Daily Express said the picture was sent anonymously to Flight Magazine last week in an envelope bearing a London postmark.

Experts said the photograph is almost certainly "a hitherto top-secret picture from official Soviet files," the Mail said.

The Express added that the air ministry and Flight Magazine's editor Rex King believed the photograph authentic.

The picture showed a slightly-blurred image of what the Mail called "the Russians' latest fighter, the 1,400-mph MIG-23, coded-named 'Flipper' by NATO, and their latest bomber-killing rocket."

The Mail said the rocket shown in the picture was "nearly half again as large as any similar western missile—and probably of longer range."

Good Old Days?

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Windshield wipers on automobiles used to be simple devices—a rubber blade operated by a wooden handle which arched back and forth either by the driver's free hand, or an obliging passenger.

The word "carat" means the weight of a carob tree seed, used long ago to weigh diamonds. The metric carat, equal to 1/142 ounce, now is in general use.

Savings Bond Sales Well Ahead Of First 10 Months Last Year

Marin County citizens purchased $104,478 in U. S. Savings Bonds during October, according to D. C. Davis, volunteer Marin County savings bond chairman. Sales in all of Northern California amounted to more than 11 million dollars, he said. This was less than sales in October of last year, but the first 10 months of 1963 were well ahead of the same period a year ago.

SERVICE AGENT Jack J. McGrew of J and R Sales, San Rafael, has announced that the Hoover Co. has introduced a half-dozen new products—some ranging far afield from its vacuum cleaners and floor care equipment.

They include a portable hair dryer, clothes washer-spin dryer and two models of electric can openers (one with a knife sharpener). A steam-dry iron was introdudced earlier this year. Other new Hoover products are two non-electric appliances: A carpet sweeper and rug shampooer.

They are sold in Marin through J and R Sales, Marin Floor Covering, McPhail's, Inc., Ernest Ongaro and Sons, Inc. and Pini Hardware.

IN ATTENDANCE at the recent meeting in New York of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards were local board president Paul Crowley, executive vice president and manager Daniel Deedy, and board members E. P. Ward and James Picchi. Some 9,000 realtors from all over the country were present.

Local realtors calling at their board offices at 255 West End Avenue, San Rafael, will find some changes have been made. Multiple listing services have been moved into the east wing, allowing more elbow room for the staff. Future expansion will provide for a library and possible some closing offices, Deedy said.

RONALD L. ROSE, principal in the Marin Fabric Center that opened at 874 Fourth Street, San Rafael the first of this month, was the subject of an article in the October-November issue of McCall's Piece Goods and Notions Merchandiser. He was a piece goods buyer at the H. C. Capwell Co. store when the story was written.

ACCORDING to Fortune Magazine for December, Americans now have some 52 billion dollars in private investments abroad—more than 71 per cent of them in plants, branches and other projects. The balance is in portfolio investments—mainly in foreign stocks and bonds.

MOTORCRAFT. Chevrolet will begin production next month of a new light-duty panel delivery van with a 90-horsepower, four-cylinder engine. A 120-horsepower, six-cylinder engine is optional. It has a 211-cubic foot load area and a load capacity of 1,950 pounds . . . Buick has announced a line of three new ski racks designed to fit most cars. One mounts on the trunk lid, one on the roof and another converts station wagon luggage racks to a ski rack . . . General Motor' Fremont plant is its biggest single investment this year. It will turn out four makes of cars and two lines of trucks (GMAC and Chevrolet).

Marin Symphony To Open With Tribute For Wagner

Sandor Salgo and the Marin Symphony will open the orchestra's 12th season Sunday at 8 p.m. at Marin Catholic High School with a program commemorating the 150th anniversary of Wagner's birth.

Soloist will be dramatic soprano Jane Marsh of Mill Valley, winner of the Corona Anderson scholarship named by the Symphony Guild of Marin for the late Mrs. Berrien Anderson of San Rafael.

Jane is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Earle Marsh of Mill Valley. She is the first Symphony Guild scholarship winner to be invited by Salgo to appear with the Marin Symphony.

The Orchestra will play the overture to the opera "Tannhauser" by Wagner and Symphony No. 2 by Brahms.

Jane will sing Elsa's dream from the opera "Lohengrin" by Wagner and five songs consisting of poems by Mathilde Wesendonck set to music by Wagner.

Mrs. Walter M. Baird, Symphony Guild president, announces that subscription-memberships to the three-concert series will still be available at the concert Sunday and that members will receive preference in seating.

Oppenheimer Due Fermi Award

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Lyndon B. Johnson intends to present personally the $50,000 Enrico Fermi Award to Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer as President Kennedy had planned to do.

The White House said yesterday that Johnson would carry through with the ceremony "on Monday as had been scheduled previously."

The Fermi Aaward is the highest the agency bestows.

Oppenheimer, the atomic pioneer who was barred access to security information nearly 10 years ago, will be an honored guest afterward at a lunch in a Washington Hotel.

Rock-A-Bye Baby Despite Car Crash

CLEVELAND, Tenn. (AP)—When Janet Faith Ballinger, 1 year old, goes to sleep, she stays asleep.

The baby was asleep in the back seat of her mother's parked car when it rolled down a 12-foot bank. Mrs. J. C. Ballinger, her mother, rushed up to the car—to find the baby sleeping peacefully and unhurt.

Directors To Meet

Almonte Sanitary District directors will meet at 8 p.m. Monday in the A. R. Teather Building on Shoreline Boulevard. The board did not meet Tuesday night, as scheduled, because new district quarters were not yet habitable, Chairman Robert A. Alexander said.

WAREHOUSE BUILDING LEASED!

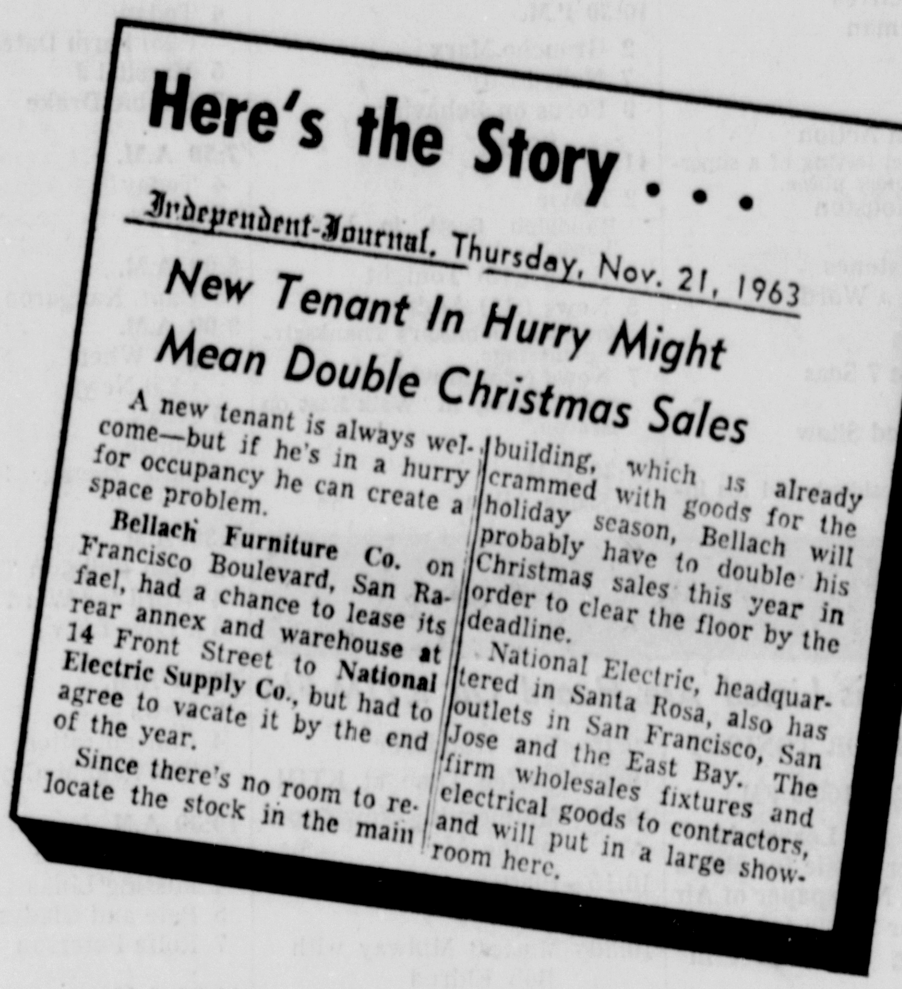
MUST VACATE AT ONCE

IMMEDIATE DISPOSAL

All Furniture in Our Warehouse and Thrift Annex!

Because of the unusual nature of this sale we will be open Sunday 10 to 4 p.m.

Bellach's have leased the entire building behind their main store and must vacate it as soon as possible. The Thrift Annex will be discontinued and any warehousing will have to be done within the main building



Here's the Story . . .

Independent-Journal, Thursday, Nov. 21, 1963

New Tenant In Hurry Might Mean Double Christmas Sales

A new tenant is always welcome—but if he's in a hurry for occupancy he can create a space problem.

Bellach Furniture Co. on Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, had a chance to lease its rear annex and warehouse at 14 Front Street to National Electric Supply Co., but had to agree to vacate it by the end of the year.

Since there's no room to relocate the stock in the main building, which is already crammed with goods for the holiday season, Bellach will probably have to double his Christmas sales this year in order to clear the floor by the deadline.

National Electric, headquartered in Santa Rosa, also has outlets in San Francisco, San Jose and the East Bay. The firm wholesales fixtures and electrical goods to contractors, and will put in a large showroom here.

Bellach's

Bellach's must now clear, within the next few weeks, all sale items at a mere fraction of its former price and this includes fine sofas, dining and bedroom furniture from our regular stock as well as Thrift Annex pieces. Our immediate goal is to make the room available and we have a tremendous pre-holiday stock to dispose at once.

Bellach's is not going out of business—far from it. In fact by disposing of our Thrift Annex building we will be able to better concentrate on the finer furnishings for which the store is noted.

Unfortunately, the new tenant demanded occupancy at a time when we were crowded with new merchandise for the holiday season ahead.

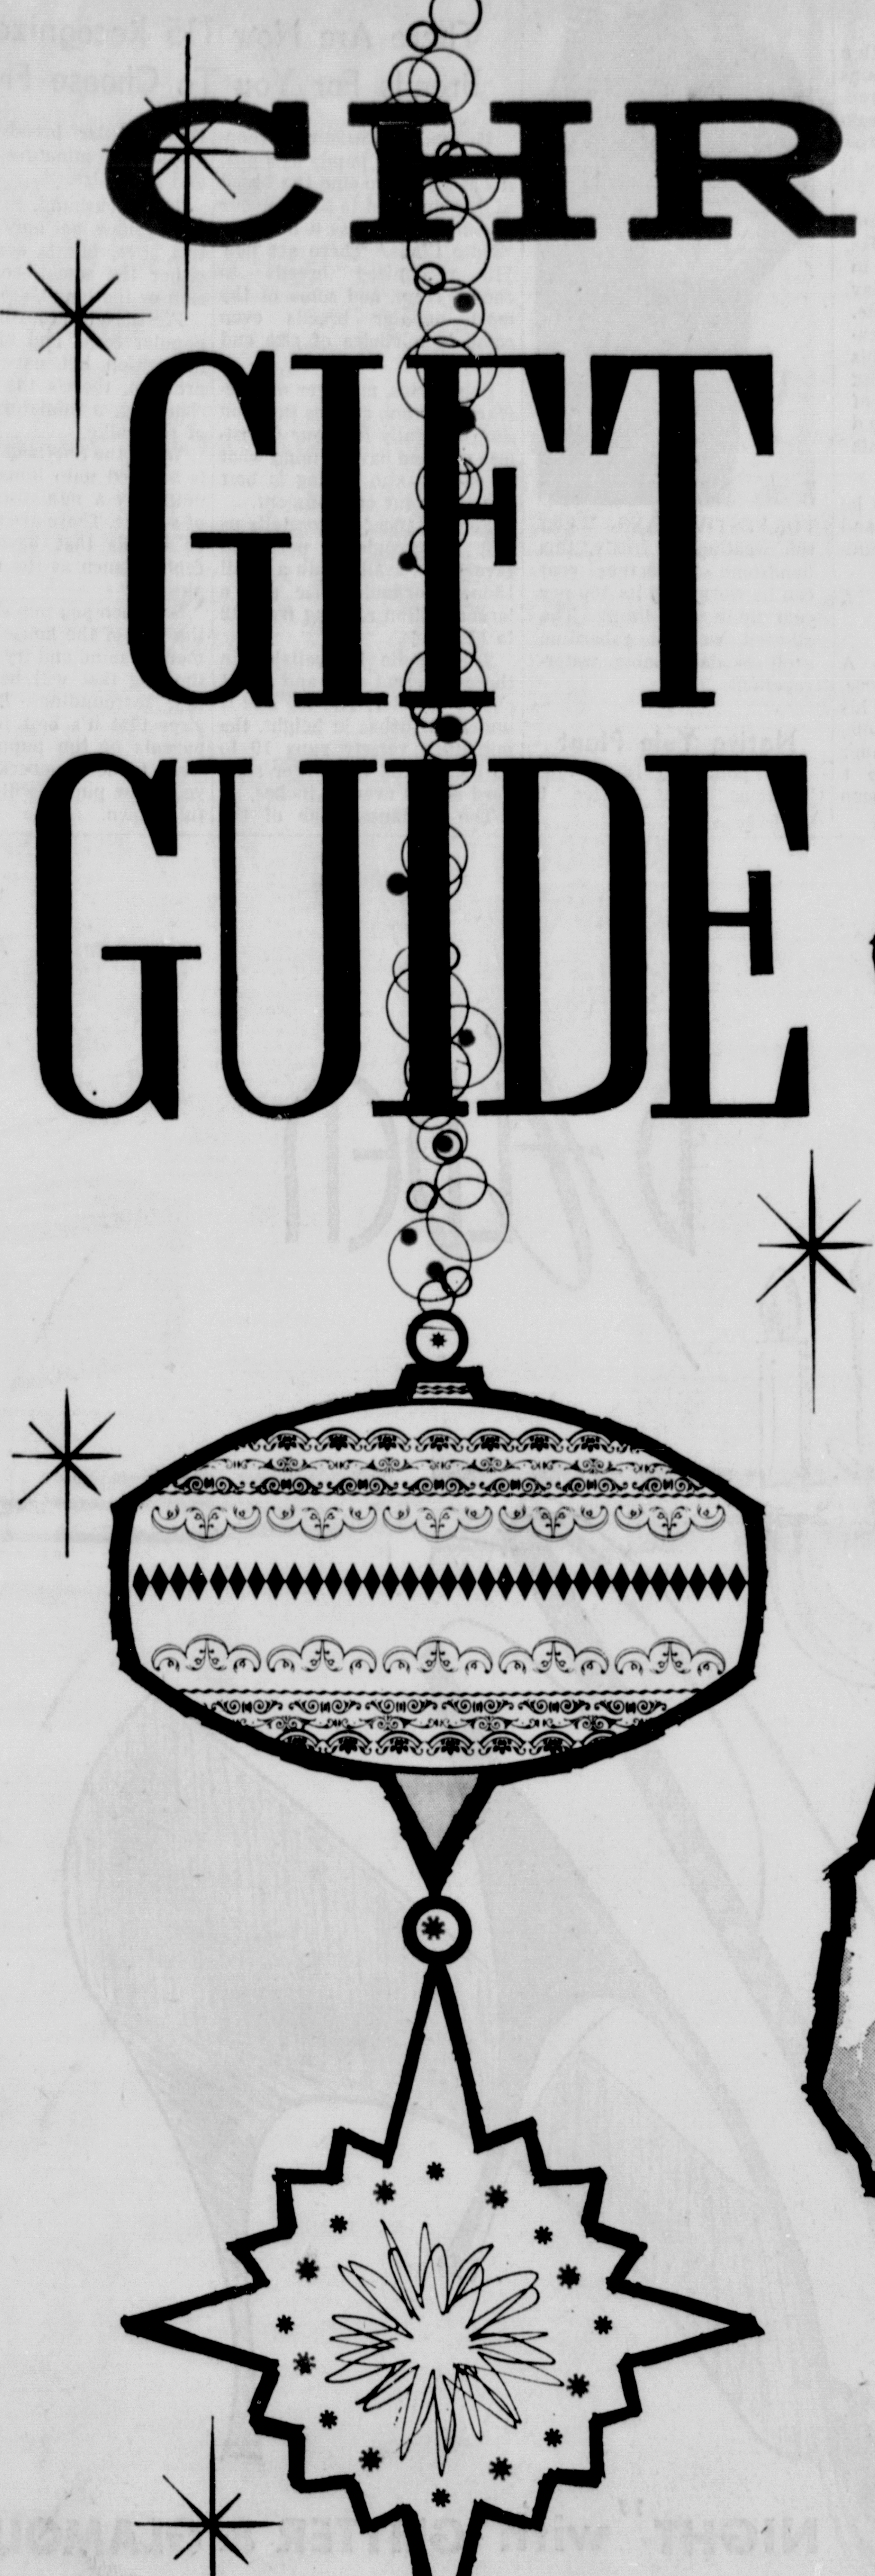
GIFT GUIDE



Complete Gift Guide to Christmas shopping in Marin • Saves you time, makes gift-buying easier, simpler • Something for everyone—the finest offerings of Marin's finest stores • Use the Gift Guide for making lists . . . your special directory to a Merry Christmas

JOLLY SANTA

Makes a cheerful Christmas table decoration and this unit, which comes packaged flat, is easy to assemble.

Brightest Star On Tree Might Be A Diamond Ring

The brightest star on the Christmas tree is a diamond engagement ring.

Most June brides get engaged at Christmas time. It's such a festive, sentimental season, and also the ideal time for giving diamonds.

In addition, Christmas brides grow more numerous every year, with the holiday season second only to June as the favorite wedding date, so the Christmas diamond is in high demand.

Whether it's a wedding or engagement ring, it's a once-in-a-lifetime gift that must be selected with care and with the aid of a fine jeweler, who can give expert advice on the choice of the perfect diamond.

The diamond solitaire is still the one top choice for an engagement ring, and it need not be a large stone to have brilliance and beauty. New "diamond point" white gold settings are almost as brilliant as the stone itself and can enhance the smallest diamond.

New and beautiful also are engagement and wedding ring combinations, designed to fit together so that the two can give the effect of one striking ring.

The combination of white gold and diamonds is always effective and popular, even more so this year in engagement and wedding rings.

Whatever the style, whatever the size, the gift that outshines them all is the Christmas diamond.

No Elves Needed To Make These Toys

HAWTHORNE (AP) — Now they're putting out a toy that makes toys.

A manufacturer here is introducing a miniature plastic-products factory. Sheets of plastic furnished with the kit are softened and then molded into airplanes, boats, cars, jewelry and other playthings. Various molds are included, as well as clay for creating original molds.

Art, Garden Center Planning Christmas Decoration Show

Call them teasel balls or kissing bushes . . . what's in a name when all we need do is call them Christmas decorations?

And decorations for Christmas may change in nomenclature and styles, but holly forever will go on rhyming with jolly.

In Marin County, where we have nature's greenery and the vivid rederry of the berries all around us, just for the looking, it's a bit like gilding the lily to talk about Christmas decorations.

But decorate for the holidays we will. And the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross will, as it has done for 18 years, offer the greatest array of decorations gathered together in one place at its greens sale on Dec. 13, 14 and 15.

Volunteers of the Decorations Guild, who organized their creative talents into a group some years ago to help support the Art and Garden Center, sponsor the event. Their ingenuity will be expressed in hundreds of items from traditional to avant-garde in theme.

There'll be wreaths, the like of which you have never seen before, nor dreamed existed. Some are made of dried materials and will last from one Christmas to the next; others are made up at the last minute before the Friday night at 6 o'clock Dec. 13 when the sale opens with fresh greens.

And the teasel balls, ready to suspend from the beams of the living room or doorway, will be ready.

These teasel balls are the direct Marin descendants of the kissing bush. Those versed in the lore of old England know about the kissing bough or bush. The "bush" is in the shape of a ball, fastened with a foundation of crossed hoops and covered with holly, redwood sprigs, ribbons and baubles. A sprig of mistletoe, hanging from the ball, gave it the name of "kissing ball."

Feasting, a medievel and moder custom at Christmas time, will be expressed in an extensive sale of holiday foods at the greens sale. Pixie Parents, another center group, will handle this phase of the event, rounding up the many contributions of homemade delicacies and serving hot refreshments during the sale.

Hours for the event will be from 6-10 p.m. Dec. 13 and from 10-6 on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 14 and 15.

For Teen-Age Boys

Contrary to popular belief, teen-age boys are not a special breed . . . they have individual preferences, just like grown-ups.

Most teens are sports conscious though, and would be delighted with a pair of tickets to a favorite sports event.

Notice Of Gift

MEBANE, N. C. (UPI) — A bedding manufacturer here, promoting the gift value of his product, has designed a miniature mattress to place under Christmas trees as notice a full-sized mattress has been ordered.

FOR FESTIVE DAYS—When the weather is frosty, this handsome all-weather coat can be worn with its 100 per cent zip-in wool lining. The all-wool worsted gabardine shell is dependably water-repellent.

Native Yule Plant

The poinsettia is the one Christmas plant native to America.

LOOKING FOR NEW PUPPY AS GIFT?

There Are Now 115 Recognized Breeds For You To Choose From

If you're Christmas shopping for a new puppy as a gift, it's as simple to find the breed of dog you need to fit into your scheme of living as it is to say "Santa Claus." There are now 115 recognized breeds to choose from, and some of the most popular breeds even come in a choice of size and color.

Bob Bartos, manager of a research kennel, advises that you shop carefully for your Christmas pup and have in mind what breed and size of dog is best suited to your environment.

For instance, Bartos tells us that the beagle, a perennial favorite, is available in a small 13-inches-or-under size and a larger edition ranging from 13 to 15 inches.

The poodle is available in three different sizes and a vast choice of color. The toy size is under 10 inches in height, the miniature variety runs 10 to 15 inches and the larger standard size is over 15 inches.

The schnauzer, one of the very popular breeds, is also available in minature, standard and giant size.

The dachshund, a beguiling little fellow, not only comes in two sizes, but is available in either the smooth-coated version or the long-haired type.

For those who favor the ever popular collie and his lovable disposition but have a space problem, there's the Shetland sheepdog, a miniature version of the collie.

While the Shetland sheepdog is a breed unto himself, he is definitely a miniature version of a collie. There are many other breeds that have smaller replicas such as the miniature pinscher

So, when you pup shop, keep the size of the house or apartment in mind and try to choose the dog that will best fit his new surroundings. Bartos advises that it's best to see the parents of the puppy if you want to double-check the size your new puppy will be when full grown.

Your Man Will Jump For Joy If You Give Him A Pair Of Leather Shoes

He'll jump for joy if you give him a pair of leather shoes this Christmas. That's because this winter, leather casuals are constructed of new leathers which combine durability with softness. The cold weather leather casual shoe gives him the ease and walking comfort of summer months — as well as the ruggedness he needs and wants during the winter.

For a holiday romp with the children, he'll appreciate the suppleness and support of a brushed leather chukka boot. Set on a substantial leather sole that absorbs punishment like a sponge, the leather chukka flexes, bends and stretches as he runs with the youngsters. At the same time, the ankle-high boot keeps wind and weather outside the shoe, and his feet warm and dry inside.

Another leather casual that gives him a foothold on comfort during the cold months is the smooth or grained leather slip-on. Usually rising high on the topline, this casual is light without sacrificing protection.

Leather moccasins make a welcome gift at any season — and for good reason. Glove-soft but rugged leathers, roomy toes and foot-hugging toplines, make moccasins as easy afoot as slippers. Slim leather soles add little weight, but offer protection and support on hardwood floors and concrete pavements.

For dress wear during the holiday season, he'll be in step with fashion in leather brogues with medium weight leather soles that are built for support yet cropped for smart styling.

Smooth or grained leather brogues come in rounded, crescent or blunted-square toe styles, moccasin fronts or wing-tip-and-foxing.

On a winter vacation or just at home with the family, a pair of dressy slip-ons set a tone of ease and fashion. Hand-stitched seams and deeply notched vamps contribute to the snap and style of the dress slip-on.

This year's darkened men's shoe colors contribute to the slimmer look of the foot. Most popular are the new burnished olive — a black with green — woody browns and glossy black leathers. Subtle grained leather and smooth leather pick up the lighter textures of men's suits, while brushed leather complements heavier textured sports slacks.

If you're uncertain about his shoe size check his closet and jot down the numbers printed on the linings of his favorite shoes. The clerk at your local shoe or department store will be able to select the proper size from this information.

If you'd rather have him choose his own style and color, a handsome, personalized shoe gift certificate is sure to delight him.

Silly Question For Christmas

LOUISVILLE (AP) — A youngster picked out a $1 set of earrings for her mother's Christmas gift and handed the clerk two 50 cent pieces.

"What about the tax?" he inquired.

"My mother doesn't use tacks," the girl replied. "She screws them in her ears."

COULD BE GIFT FOR DAD

Dad's favorite gift could well be this trim-lined reclining chair that's cushioned in buoyant foam rubber. A simple "lean back" movement adjusts the varied positions and a hidden foot rest rises into position as the back tilts down. The chair above is upholstered in sturdy vinyl.

Christmas Spirit From Sad Parents

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A Tulsa couple whose sons drowned six years ago will provide a Merry Christmas for 300 children.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Davis repair and restore broken toys salvaged from junkyards and other sources to make gifts for underprivileged children. Davis, a carpenter, and his wife both have regular jobs and do their toy repairing at night—often until 2 or 3 a.m.

"I want children to be happy at Christmas," says Mrs. Davis. Their two teen - aged sons drowned in a lake near here.

Latest Features Are Big Boon To Dryer Buyers

The newest features on gas or electric dryers include some items that will reduce the ironing load and produce a better looking, more comfortable batch of clothes and garments.

One of the most helpful is the control that permits a selection of four drying methods. This gives a choice of tumble drying with selected heat and air, tumble drying with air only, selected hot air without tumbling, or simply air drying without heat or tumbling.

This diversity enables a homemaker to enjoy "just right" results in each load of laundry, regardless of whether she's drying work clothes, linens or the baby's delicate things.

Most of the new dryer models have a filter which cleans incoming air before it contacts the clothes. Many models have an accessory that sprinkles the clothing for ironing.

GIVE A DOLL A GIRL!—What else could you give the doll Tammy than a real little girl—because Tammy has everything. She has a Mom, Dad, little sister Pepper, and brother Ted. She has lots of clothes and a beautiful room of her own with to-scale furniture and accessories.

World Of Dolls Abounds With Astonishing Talents

The world of dolls abounds, with astonishing new talents, all keyed to making it more difficult than ever to differentiate dolls from real children.

Star performers this Yuletide are the new contingent of baby dolls whose behavior almost exactly reproduces the muscular virtuosity of infants and toddlers and most of the human babies' repertoire of sound effects as well.

The muscular activity of the baby is reproduced with fascinating realism by a new infant doll prototype. When this accomplished cherub sucks on her bottle she squirms and wriggles in a manner modeled exactly after real baby movements. There's a doll that laughs when tickled and another that cries when spanked.

A real surprise for even experienced coinnoisseurs of the modern playroom phenomenon — the doll conversationalist — is a new pram, wired so that when the doll mother pulls a card the doll in the pram starts chattering without being touched at all.

Another addition to new doll accomplishments in the vocal area is the inclusion of foreign languages in the doll conversational repetoire. One newcomer doll's accessories include records in six languages besides English and a wardrobe suited to travel in foreign lands, as well as more mundane social occasions at home.

The family concept has gained ground in the world of dolls this Yule season. There are more mama and papa dolls and teenage male dolls are included in several family sets.

The teen dolls have highly realistic accessories including telephones, hi-fi sets and sports outfits. The sportive look currently favored in adult fashions is echoed in the fashion doll world, too.

Bulky knit sweaters and stretch pants, for example, are "in" and so are boots. The dressed doll will have at-home costumes, long formal evening dresses and even a collection of wigs.

A variety of character dolls add a touch of fantasy in intriguing contrast to the detailed realism of the dolls modeled after members of the average family.

Sunlight Can Dim Clothing

For generations homemakers have been hanging clothes in the sun for its brightening effect. Actually just the opposite may happen.

Today's detergents contain fluorescent brighteners. But the sun counteracts these chemicals, greatly reducing their effectiveness.

So for that "whiter-than-new" look the TV commercials are always talking about, take the easy way out—use an automatic clothes dryer.

Items To Note If You're Giving Hat

Planning to give him a hat? Here are some news items to note:

From Madison Avenue to Main Street, the theme for men's fashions this winter is one constant story—an easy, casual look in clothing. Always this accent on the casual is accompanied by a greater interest in lighter tones than ever before.

Casual clothing means casual hats; lighter clothing means lighter colors in headwear. All of which adds up to a prospect of a younger looking, better groomed and more comfortably turned out American male!

Making hat headlines this fall are suedes, in conventional hat styles as well as sports hats and caps. One manufacturer, famous for its fine quality hats currently is featuring a soft, supple, sueded leather hat that can be worn equally well center creased or pinch front.

Another offers a Tyrolean styled suede with corded band. You'l be able to get a conventional cap in suede this fall, but be sure to look for a rakish cap with corduroy trim.

Not far behind the suedes in this season's hat interest are the cloth hat casuals, in a new variety of fabrics and patterns.

Plush Tyrolean velours will be prominent on this winter's scene. The ornaments are more decorative, the brush feathers gayer and the pins more imaginatively designed than in former years.

Despite the heavy accent on casuals this year, quality and styling mark this fall's crop of hats and many of them are a connoisseur's delight.

Smart New Leather Boots

This Christmas, give the woman of the house fashion and warmth in one package—with a gift of smart new leather boots designed to add a glow to her holiday costume.

There's a wide choice of boot styles to satisfy any taste. She may prefer side or front fastenings, or perhaps she likes zippers or large decorative buckles. They are all available on the prettiest leather boots she's ever seen.

For town or more dressy occasions, she may adore new smooth or grained leather suit boots with flattering shaped heels and square, crescent or tapered toes to match. Another feminine favorite is fur-trimmed suede leather boots. She'll step high through snow and slush without getting cold and wet feet in your gift of water-resistant leather boots that cover the ankles.

Many of the new boots are wool shearling-lined and have turn-up cuffs to keep ankles warm in deep snow or wintry blasts. Others have smooth leather linings that won't wrinkle, chafe or irritate her feet.

The new, weather-proofed leathers are softer and warmer on the foot. Their bright new colors alone would keep her toes warm.

You'll find bright reds, deep red, browned red, burnished browns, a gamut of tans, and woody greens and soft yellows as well as gleaming black to choose from.

Your gift will keep on pleasing her in the months to come, as pliant leather soles give a firmer footing on icy, wet, or snowy streets. In addition to keeping their shape longer, all-leather boots resist wind and water.

Unlike impermeable footwear of rubber, plastic or woven materials, leather boot shoes allow the foot to "breathe" when she walks from the nippy outdoors into a warm bus or department store. Her feet stay dry inside and out in these smart-looking leather beauties.

Help her into a leather coat this Christmas morning and you'll get the kiss you deserve.

Mist-light and fashion-right, this winter's leather coats, jackets and suits make luxurious gifts, no matter how modest the price tag. Modern leather finishes stay brighter, softer and new-looking longer, keeping the memory of your gift fresh.

To select the right thing at a glance, look for the black-and-gold tag that says "Genuine Leather."

This year, leather apparel is an integral part of the fashion picture, reflecting the relaxed look of suburban living. In smooth and suede leather coats, straight silhouettes follow but do not cling to body lines. A-lines flare out gracefully.

Individual fashion touches include unusual buttons or closings, and varied neckline treatments. Deep countryside shades, vivid hues and muted tones cover the color scene.

For added warmth and fashion accent, select a coat with a shearling (wool on leather) lining dyed in a contrasting color.

Among the smartest leather jackets and separates — skirts, blouses, cardigans. Supple and sensitive on the feminine figure, suede leather is equally at home in town or country, ideal for suburban afternoons.

Combinations of suede and knit or suede and wool suits lend casual elegance to the stylish wearer.

Grained leather car coats and pea jackets with zip-out pile linings will give her ease while driving, and fashion when she reaches her destination.

There's a festive look to an all-white soft cabretta great coat featuring an all-over design of gold embroidery and seed pearls. Just right for any dressy occasion, she'll adore wearing it New Year's Eve to welcome in a high fashion year ahead.

BOYS PLAY AT WAR

Military games are increasing in popularity and here's one that many boys are sure to want this Christmas. It's the Electric Tank Battle game which features a realistic vibrating action that moves the tanks. Mobile anti-tank guns shoot magnetic ammunition to knock out enemy tanks. This game provides realistic replay of World War II tank battle strategy.

PEARLS MATCH WHITE CHRISTMAS

A White Christmas can mean pearls, set in a five-petalled flower pin, gold filled, with a green onyx center. The cultured pearl earrings are designed to match. This is a set that's shaped and colored to be worn for many years to come by a woman with real fashion feeling.

New Hairdo Will Add Excitement To Holiday

A new hairdo for the festive holidays ahead will add excitement and fun to your party-going. It's always an adventure to try a different hairstyle, and the new ones with their smooth, sleek lines are as smart as they are becoming.

But don't let the simplicity of the new coifs fool you — they do need a permanent for body and control. They need a different kind of permanent, one that gives only body and curves, no curls.

Now there is a commercial uncurly permanent in a home wave given with jumbo size curlers and a waving lotion formulated to go with them. The big curlers add body and bend and curve to the hair but no curl; and the compatible crémé waving lotion keeps the permanent from relaxing . . . which means that this uncurly permanent will last. It's not here today and gone tomorrow.

Well before the shopping rush starts, set aside about two hours to give yourself this new wave, in the privacy and comfort of home, at your own convenience.

Just dampen each tress with waving lotion and wind on jumbo curlers. Saturate all curls again when all your hair is up on curlers.

After a short waving period, apply the creamy, ready-mixed neutralizer. Rinse with clear water and remove the curlers. Your hair is ready to be set in a new smooth and sleek hairstyle. A setting tips booklet is also included in the kit.

When your hair is dry, brush in your new coif. For holiday parties, pin a spray of holly or mistletoe on the side for a touch of gayety.

Romans Feasted

Ancient Romans feasted, exchanged gifts and decorated with evergreens during Saturnalia, a December festival honoring the god Saturn. Also relics of pre-Christian midwinter celebrations are mistletoe, the yule log and the wassail bowl.

Christmas Carols Are Being Revived

The old custom of Christmas carol sings, so popular in European countries in the Middle Ages, is being revived by music-loving Americans.

And what nicer way to mark the holiday than by gathering a few friends for group singing of the beloved old carols, with eggnog and fruit cake to follow? In olden times people sang to the accompaniment of flutes and fiddles, but today the long playing record has become a favored accompaniment.

A "sing along" microphone for just such occasions has been developed. This can be used for carol singing in schools and for other large groups as well as in homes.

Did you know the Christmas carol grew out of old dance tunes? Centuries ago a round dance known as the "chorea," the Latin word for "round," or "charalues," the French word for "flutist," was the most popular form of entertainment with the light-hearted people of France, especially on holidays and feast days. Later the "chorea" became popular in England as well and the music was always an important part of the dance.

Other forms of dancing and entertainment replaced the round dance but the music gained rather than lost in popularity. Even today French music is still rich in refrains of these old songs, which gradually became a special part of the Christmas observance.

Meanwhile, the French word "charalues" had become the good English word, "carol" and the English had adopted the round dance and the music with it. In England as in France, the round dance was replaced by other forms of dancing but the old tunes remained popular and were adapted to new verses and sung at Christmas time.

Christmas hymns had been sung in the churches of England since the Fourth Century and later the religious play became a featured part of the Yuletide observance. Religious folk songs were interpolated in the plays and songs of wassailing and feasting vied with those about shepherds, angels and the Magi at Christmas.

Translations of Latin songs that had come down from pagan times were put into the vernacular and little by little the Christmas carol as we know it today evolved from these songs.

Irish Christmas

Saint Patrick introduced the celebration of Christmas to Ireland about the year 461.

Nothing Brightens Boy's Eyes Like Seeing Bike Under Tree

Nothing brightens a boy's eyes like seeing a bicycle under the Christmas tree. The gleam of bright new paint, the shine of metal spokes and the flash of handle bars are reflected in his eyes.

As a parent you should make sure that the bike that you buy him has all the equipment that he needs — not the flashy accessories that impress the kid next door, but the basic safety equipment required for safe bicycling. He also needs to be told or reminded — about bike riding rules.

One way to do this is to see that the child participates in a safety program. A program to check the brakes, lights, handle bars, and tires of individual bicycles to make sure they are safe. Also check the ability of each youngster to handle his own bike.

Your child can have many hours of safe fun on his bike if he will just remember these basic rules.

Obey traffic laws, signs and signals.

A good bike rider always stays on the right and rides with traffic.

Always ride single file and in a straight line, never zig zag.

Night riding is always dangerous and should be avoided. If the child has to ride at night, for some reason, be sure that the bike is equipped with light, reflector reflective tape and see that the child wears light-colored clothing.

Conduct periodic safety checks on the bike. Seats should be tight; feet must reach the pedals easily; reflectors should be visible from at least 300 feet away; brakes should stop fast; the chain shouldn't be too tight; worn-out pedals and handle grips should be replaced; handle bars should be in comfortable position; front light should be visible from at least 500 feet away.

CALF BOOTS FOR CHRISTMAS

Give her a boot—she'll love you for it! Chill-chasing mid-calf leather boots are a favorite this season, as is a suede leather coat such as the one shown with fur-lined hood.

Christmas Bean Pot Is Custom

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI)— The Italian-Spanish custom of the candy-filled bean pot — along with Mexican changes — has become a popular part of many Christmas celebrations in the southwestern United States.

The Italians took a clay bowl (called a Pinata) and filled it with candy. Then the bowl was hung from the ceiling by a string.

One by one, children were blindfolded and given a stick to swing at the bowl. When the wielded stick broke the bowl everyone grabbed for the falling candy and presents.

The custom was taken to Mexico by the Spanish. Papier-mache was added to the bowl and molded into the shape of an animal.

The Pinata became part of the Christmas celebration in Mexico. Beginning Dec. 16, a star-shaped Pinata is broken each night for nine days.

Pinatas shaped like burros, bulls, elephants, lambs, dogs, parrots and stars have become a part of children and adult Christmas parties in the southwest.

Is There New Auto In Your Gift Ideas?

Is there a new automobile in your Christmas-gift picture this year?

If so, you will probably visit several automobile showrooms, searching for the best deal on a new car. But just as you compare prices, you should also compare financing and insurance costs.

It is possible to save on a purchase simply by careful attention to insurance and finance rates.

First, financing should be checked. Because seven out of ten people borrow money for car purchases, it is likely that you will be making some financing arrangements. Since it costs money to borrow, an interest rate or finance charge is added to the borrowed sum.

The interest on borrowed funds is determined by such factors as the type of institution lending the money, borrower's credit rating, amount being borrowed and length of time for repayment. Interest rates are regulated by law.

A finance charge, on the other hand, is sometimes not regulated by law and is the amount of money added to the price of an item when the item is bought on time payments. Therefore, the amount of a finance charge can often be determined solely by the lending agent.

In a recent nine-city survey by the University of Chicago on comparative finance costs, it was shown that, in New York Citiy many buyers achieved savings of between $36 and $86 on the $2,000.000 financing of a new car merely by shopping for the best place to get financing.

CHILDREN GIVEN HOPE AS A GIFT

Shriners Help Crippled Youngsters Through 17 Hospitals Across Nation

This year many children, as in years past, are receiving the best Christmas gift of all: Hope for the future.

Through the efforts of the Shriners and their 17 hospitals, several thousand crippled children are being given straight limbs and the opportunity to live normal, productive lives.

Helping make this possible is the East-West College All-Star game in San Francisco's Kezar Stadium, a highlight of each Christmas season since 1925.

Here some of the nation's top collegiate football stars assemble for what is often one of the grid season's most exciting games. Last year was typical, with East eking out one-touchdown triumph, 25 to 19. This year's game will be held Dec. 28.

Before each game, colorful Shrine parade units fill the field and lend a festive atmosphere to the annual classic. But the East-West clash is more than just a football game or a spectacle. It is an example of how Shriners and grid greats cooperate to support a cause best described by the game's motto, "Strong legs run that weak legs may walk."

During their stay in San Francisco, the players visit the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, there to meet the boy or girl who has adopted him while he is in the Golden Gate City.

Each child sings the school song of his player. The football heroes, in turn, distribute gifts—and encouragement and hope for the future for the afflicted youngsters.

Each year outstanding football stars are added to the list of well-known names who have played in the East-West classic. Names like Johnny Lujack of Notre Dame; Bronko Nagurski of Minnesota; Bob Waterfield of U.C.L.A.; George McAfee of Duke, and Dick Batten, College of the Pacific, the first alumnus of the San Francisco Shriners Hospital ever to participate in the East - West game.

The 17 Shriners hospitals have treated 125,000 children since 1922 and are operated at an annual budget of 7 million dollars. The hospitals are open to all children under 15 years of age regardless of race, color or creed whose parents are unable to pay for the needed surgical, medical and hospital facilities.

France's Christmas Changing

PARIS (UPI)—France's Christmas this year will be just a little more like that of the United States and Britain. The shops were decorated with the Christmas motif a little earlier this year and there will be a few more Christmas trees and lights in evidence.

It's not so long ago that Christmas trees were practically unheard of in France.

As a predominantly Catholic country, France observes Christmas as a religious feast rather than a time for joyous celebration.

The normal routine is to take a light refreshment Christmas Eve, go to midnight mass and then celebrate with a traditional massive meal starting with oysters, going through turkey or goose and chestnut sauce and "boudin blanc" — white sausage — and the "Christmas log," a cake made in the form of a Yule log.

Sometimes the children are allowed to see their toys on the Christmas tree but more and more the French are inclining to the idea of waking them early and handing them their presents from the tree Christmas morning.

Brazilian Special Christmas Dinners

Christmas dinner in Brazil centers around turkey or chicken, stuffed with mandioca flour.

Other traditional dishes are codfish cakes and rabanada, a sweet made of bread dipped in milk, sugar and beaten egg yolks, then fried in butter and spread with sugar and cinnamon.

Remember Santa With Yule Gift

After he makes his rounds on Christmas Eve, Santa is happy to take his ease at home. Logically enough, a favorite Christmas gift for Santa's family — and yours — is leather furniture which makes an evening at home an occasion.

Leather beautifies the home, is easy to care for, and lasts for many years — more treasured the longer you live with it.

A natural product whose beauty is enhanced by modern or traditional design, leather in chairs, sofas, tables, lamps and headboards combines old-fashioned elegance with up-to-the-minute practicality.

For example, dining room chairs look handsome to dad, accentuate a pleasing decor to mother, and the kids don't have to be reprimanded for food stains that wipe away with a damp cloth.

Interior decorators frequently use occasional chairs in leather to counter-balance the main color theme of a room. Rich orange hues, deep reds, or vibrant greens are a few of the available color hues in new leathers. So supple it drapes over any shape, modern upholstery leather has sufficient "body" to give firm support to a tiny housewife or a husky householder.

The big comfortable leather chair dad likes in his den still doubles as an ideal place for mother to relax from daily chores. And the kids can lounge in it over a favorite book without fear of a reprimand when restless feet go acrobatic. No matter how many contortions youngsters get into in these big chairs the leather won't soil, sag or scratch.

Leather headboards are favored by everyone in the family. There are gentle pastel quilted leather headboards to give a bedroom a softly feminine look. New bone and off-white or beige tufted headboards have a luxury look with a practical personality, for they resist soil and clean easily.

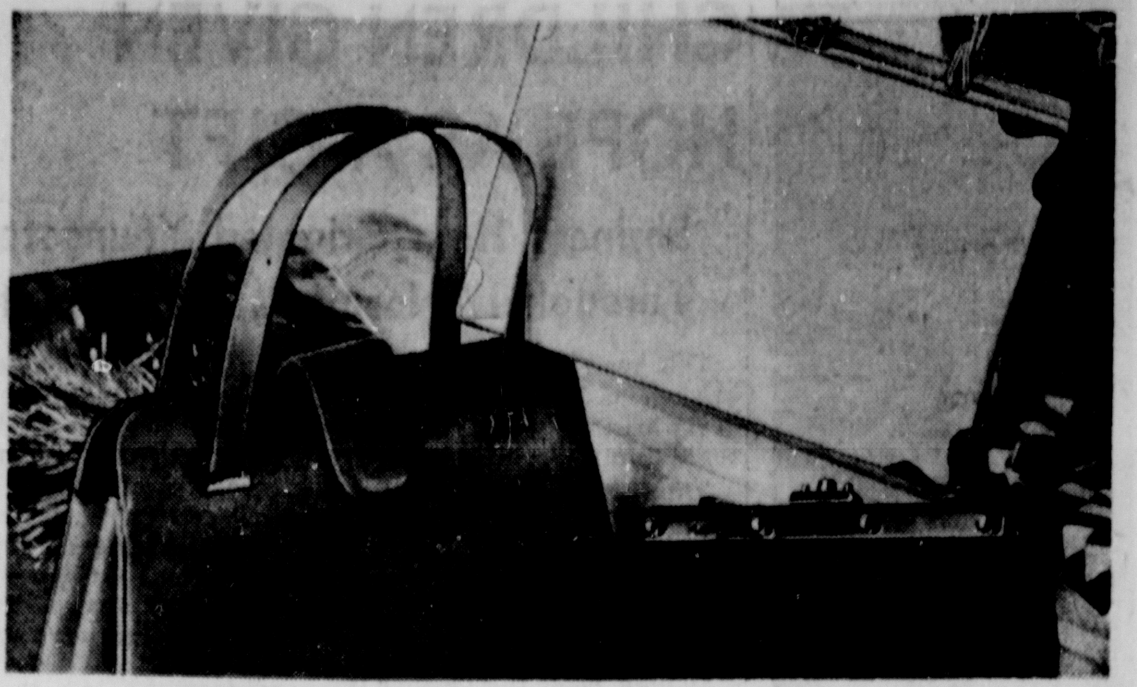
Consider smart-locking accessories in leather, such as modern lamps with rich tooled leather bases, as family gifts. Leather-top desks give a quiet leather motif with leather-edged blotter holder, a leather-bound daily diary, calendar and file basket.

Handsome end tables and new low modern coffee tables give a mellow warm look to a family room when they are finished off with a rich leather-inlay top.

There's a warmth to leather furnishings and leather furniture that underscores the saying, "there's no place like home."

Favorite Cookies

Your favorite cookies, cut in holiday shapes, are sure to bring appreciative murmurs from friends and family as they toast each other's health and happiness with Christmas egg nog.



HANDBAG IS FASHIONABLE

Fashion is at hand when your Christmas gift is a lovely leather handbag. Left, travel pouch in a brown grained leather, self-leather handles and strap. Lower right, grained briarwood leather shoulder bag with gold-colored frame and outside pocket. Upper right, smooth leather satchel.

Enamel Bowls Save Silver

Holiday entertaining calls for bringing out your best in serving pieces.

But some hostesses have learned from sad experience the folly of putting mayonnaise, ripe olives, eggs or salted nuts in their silver bowls, because of the tarnishing or permanent staining and pitting of silver that often follows. To remedy this there are now on the market silver holloware pieces with colorful enamel linings.

The compotes, serving dishes, sauce bowls, etc. can be had in muted tones of red, blue, green, yellow, gold and coffee brown.

LOOK WHO'S HERE AGAIN and with a full load of Christmas Club Savings Checks for those folks who were wise and planned ahead. Lots of ready cash for the happy holidays soon to come. A few dollars systematically put aside each week will add up to a tidy sum; it's the easiest and wisest way to save these days!

PUNCH BOWL SET

Hospitality during the holidays begins with a festive, gracious table setting. As the focal point, nothing can surpass the elegance of heavy silverplate pieces such as the punch bowl set shown here.

Many Uses Seen For TB Christmas Seals

Everyone is eager to use Christmas seals on envelopes and packages at Christmastime because they know that by using them they are helping a most worthy cause. However, it is possible to put those seals to other decorative uses as well.

Why not decorate your tree with Christmas Seals . . . the design for this year is colorful, as always, and will provide a wonderful touch.

For instance, you might try taping a row of seals around the center of your solid-color bulbs as an attractive trim.

Or, you can cut bulb shapes out of cardboard, cover them with seals and hang them with string on branches for unique, colorful ornaments.

If you're really ambitious, try designing a Christmas scene on a poster board with seals, to create an unusual holiday decoration.

Indicate a simple drawing with a holiday theme, such as a reindeer or an angel, in pencil, then follow the outlines with seals. Place seals along border of your design to frame it. Set in one of your windows or over the mantel for an eye-catching display.

When wrapping, instead of tying ribbons around some of your gifts, try outlining a ribbon and bow with seals for an attractive design. For best effect, use a solid-color paper that matches any of the colors in this year's seal.

You may think of other ways of using Christmas seals in holiday decorations . . . do use them!

DISHWASHER HELPS SPIRIT

Very merry at Christmas is the homemaker who receives a new electric dishwasher. When Christmas dinner's over, all her best china and glassware disappear into the dishwasher to come out sparkling.

Less Ironing With A Dryer

Ironing is lessened or eliminated for owners of the new automatic dryers because of a de-wrinkle cycle. This gentle "cooling-off" period follows the regular drying cycle and gives fabrics and garments a fresh look.

The "automatic dry" control includes a damp dry setting which dries clothes just the right length of time for easiest ironing — without sprinkling.

When the drying cycle is completed a bell sounds so clothes can be removed while wrinkle-free.

Wash Any Day; Rain Or Shine

Rainy washdays are no joke, as every homemaker well knows. According to U.S. Weather Bureau statistics, they roll around more often than most of us realize.

The bureau reports, for example, that the sun shines only 59 per cent of the year in Chicago, 56 per cent in Nashville and Duluth, and only 45 per cent in Seattle. Things are a little better in Dallas, where they see the sun 66 per cent of the time.

But when you start subtracting the sub-freezing days in northern areas, or days when the soot hangs low, or the kids want to go to the beach or the bridge club meets, those sunny washdays become even fewer. But no matter where you live, Maytag home laundry experts point out, you can wash any day—rain or shine—if you have an automatic clothes dryer.

HAIRDO IS FESTIVE

Holiday hairdos are more festive when decorated with a sprig of mistletoe or a spray of holly. And hairdos need an uncurly permanent for body and curve, too.

Mistletoe Kissing

The practice of kissing under the mistletoe is believed to have its origin in ancient times when enemies met under the mistletoe and dropped their weapons and embraced.

Here Are Tips On Care Of Plants In Your House

The millions of house plants that will be sent and received this Christmas will live longer, healthier lives if a few simple tips on house plant care are observed.

Make sure gift plants are professionally grown and kept in porous red clay flower pots. Most top growers provide your local florists with holiday plants in clay containers to insure quality plants. Clay pots dissipate excess water and leach out harmful salts in the soil.

Don't over-water. Horticultural experts say that over-watering is a leading reason for premature fading of holiday gift plants. One simple rule of green thumb gardening is to give your Christmas plant the "thumb test." Simply touch the top soil of the plant and if it's dry, water it.

Use warm water. The more delicate Christmas plants react poorly to the shock of cold water.

Over-heating is a hazard. Keep plants away from radiators and other heat sources. Porous clay containers will help your gift plants tolerate the heat by keeping root structures 10 to 15 degrees cooler than non-porous containers.

Professional care instructions are important. Ask your florist for detailed watering and lighting instructions. When you give a holiday plant send along a personalized note suggesting the proper care for each type of Christmas plant.

The popular poinsettia, for instance, will probably have to be watered from the surface, since they're usually bedecked with foil paper and ribbons. If your plant is clay-potted, excess moisture will be absorbed through the porous walls of the clay container.

This is especially important in caring for poinsettias as they like to be kept on the dry side and drainage must be adequate. These brilliant Christmas plants thrive on warmth and humidity and should be kept away from extremes of temperatures—cold drafts, hot radiators, etc.

Azaleas, too, are always appropriate for Christmas giving. They will blossom longer if kept out of direct sunlight in a cool room and away from radiators and other direct heat.

A bright and festive Christmas plant, whether a kalanchoe or a Jerusalem cherry, a compact chrysanthemum or begonia, an azalea or traditional poinsettia, will make a lasting gift or a welcomed addition to your own home, if you have a little thought for its care.

No Room For An Argument

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Cleve Bardine took a job as a Santa Claus in a Tucson department store.

One 9-year-old boy climbed on Bardine's knee and in a loud voice began rattling off a long list of toys he wanted for Christmas.

"Why so many things? Don't you think that's a little selfish?" Bardine asked.

The lad shook his head and whispered, "That's my Mom and Dad over there. They don't believe in Santa Claus. If you'd bring me all those things, I bet they'd have to believe in you."

CHRISTMAS DREAMS will be lovelier when she sleeps in this gifted shift gown of nylon tricot. It's permanently pleated and caught up with satin binding at neckline and arms. Ombre border at hemline is pastel.

Don't Let Accident Rob Cheer

Longer hours of darkness, more pedestrian activity, signs sometimes covered by snow, slippery streets and the excitement of shopping can lead to traffic accidents that may take the cheer out of your holiday.

December is filled with pre-Christmas activities that include shopping trips, drives to friends' homes, visiting relatives in other cities and many last-minute errands.

It is the most dangerous month for motor vehicle deaths and every year avoidable accidents spoil many holiday celebrations.

With longer hours of darkness and heavier traffic the danger to both drivers and pedestrians is greatly increased. Whenever possible, night driving should be avoided and shopping excursions and trips to other cities should take place during the safer daylight hours.

In many parts of the country bad weather makes streets and highways extremely hazardous during the holiday season. Motorists should try to stay on main highways and turnpikes and avoid back roads that are not equipped with modern warning devices, such as reflective road signs, adequate lighting and highway markings.

Many people driving to other parts of the country, to be with families and friends, encounter weather conditions to which they are unaccustomed. It is always a good idea to check the weather and make sure your automobile is equipped for bad weather driving.

Christmas Tip

When measuring molasses, honey or syrup, first use the cup to measure shortening. The syrup will not stick to a slightly greased cup.

You'll Want Best Possible 'Buy' If You're Planning Diamond Gift

Are you planning to give any diamonds this Christmas? If so, you'll want the best possible "buy."

Unless you're an expert on precious stones, your best place for the best buy in diamonds is your family jeweler's, or any reputable jeweler's. A jeweler's knowledge of gems and his sound advice will assure that you get the best diamonds for your dollars.

Diamonds are highly individual, and so are their prices. Carat weight (size), color, clarity and cut go together to determine the price of a diamond and each stone has a different combination.

Look as as many diamonds as possible, and ask your jeweler to point out the "four Cs" of each. Tell him how much money you want to spend, and he'll show you the different combinations.

Caret weight is the standard measure of size in diamonds. A carat is so light that it takes 142 carats to make an ounce. It is divided into 100 points, like cents in a dollar. When you see .47 on a tag that means the diamond is three points under half a carat.

But remember that carats measure weight and not area. Diamonds of different shapes may have the same carat weight but appear to be of different sizes because of their different areas.

Color, the second "C", affects price, too. The finest color in diamonds is no color—crystal clear. Any tinge of yellow or brown lowers the price even though it may not affect the beauty of the stone.

Diamonds of strong color such as red, green, brown, pink and even lavender are higher priced than "white" diamonds because of their rarity.

A diamond is labeled "blue-white" only if it shows no traces of color other than blue. It is incorrect to use the term "blue-white" to describe a diamond which is actually white or tinged with other color.

Clarity refers to freedom from flaws or imperfections: tiny "bubbles" or carbon spots which lower the price of the diamond, but they may not detract from the gem's beauty if they are too small to be seen by the naked eye.

What is a flawless diamond? One which shows no flaws when studied under a glass that magnifies ten times.

Cut has two meanings; it refers to the shape of the stone and also to the skill with which the tiny facets (planes) were ground on to the diamond for the maximum sparkle. If angles between the facets are not accurately cut, the diamond will not handle light properly so that it produces a brilliant blaze of light.

Diamonds for engagement rings come in four basic shapes and two fancy shapes.

A round diamond, often called a brilliant-cut, is popular as a solitaire (single stone) ring.

An emerald has straight sides and comes in oblong or square contours.

The pear-shape is wide at one end and tapers to a point at the other.

A marquise resembles a boat with a point on either end.

Heart-shape and oval diamonds are fancy cuts often set as center stones in engagement rings.

Baguettes are small diamonds in rectangular or tapered shapes and are generally set as side stones in rings holding large center diamonds.

Foil Makes Bright Outdoor Wreath

Crush lengthwise a long length of aluminum foil and join the two ends together simply by crushing some more. Shape into a wreath.

Use weather-resistant ribbons and Christmas balls for this wreath and hang it on your door for a bright Christmas decoration.

DAD LOVES PIPES

A pipe set for dad is sure to be appreciated. But, the Pipe and Tobacco Council suggests you consult your local tobacconist as to the right shape and style of pipe as well as the proper tobacco to make sure that dad is as pleased with his new briar as he can be.

Midnight Mass Follows Turkey For Spaniards

MADRID (UPI) — Midnight mass following a lavish turkey dinner are the Christmas highlights for most Spaniards who traditionally wait until January for exchanging gifts.

For Spain, a deeply religious country, the exchange of presents comes on Jan. 6, the day the Three Kings gave their offerings to the new-born Christ.

But Spaniards make sure of getting their share of good food and drink on Christmas Eve and the following day. The traditional dinner at this time is made up of sea foods, cauliflower and fried turkey. About an hour after the feast the people are generally in church at mass. And after mass the drinking starts. Good Spanish so-called Champagne is the main drink, but is often taken along with cognac, anisette, cherry brandy and just about anything else around.

Lipstick Comes Out

Lipstick on the collar of a favorite dress? The stain can be loosened with trichloroethane (non-flammable) Energine.) Then, rub with a detergent until the stain outline is removed and launder the garment in your automatic washer.

'Hinting Season' In Full Swing For Wife

With Christmas almost here, the "hinting season" is in full swing, and husbands are fair game — especially if it's a family gift you're aiming at.

Here are a few "hinting" tips for a homemaker who has her heart set on a major item — an electric dishwasher, for example:

1. Collect dishwasher ads from local papers and national magazines. Show them to your personal Santa Claus and tell him what style and features you especially like. You might choose a built-in model, a portable, or a convertible that can be built in later.

Tell him about the choice of cycles for light or heavy loads, the easy-to-load rack designs, and the new powerful washing action that gets dishes really clean, and the hot - air drying that leaves them sparkling.

2. Tell him that an automatic dishwasher will save your hands from that rough redness constant hand-dishwashing gives them. Explain that your hands won't have to do anything except brush food off the plates and place tableware and kitchen utensils in the machine.

Don't forget to say that an electric dishwasher uses water much hotter and detergent much stronger than your hands could stand.

3. Explain how much time an automatic dishwasher will save — time you can spend helping the children with their homework or doing something else that's important to the family. If your children help with the dishes, get them to help persuade Daddy that an automatic dishwasher would be a wonderful Christmas gift.

4. Since men like to see how appliances work, get him to take a look at a friend's dishwasher. Let her or her husband show him how easy it is to use, how clean and bright it gets the dishes, and how neat the kitchen stays when dirty dishes go right into the dishwasher after every meal.

Yule Tree Custom

It is believed that the custom of Christmas trees crossed the Atlantic with Hessian mercenaries during the American Revolution.

Yule Record Albums Made Record Sales

During the 1962 Christmas season, two record albums went over the one-million-dollar mark in factory billing.

They were "Glorious Sound of Christmas" by Philadelphia Orchestra and "Season's Greetings" by Perry Como.

Boughs Of Holly

Druids decked their halls with boughs of holly to shelter sylvan spirits threatened by frost and winter winds.

Santa's Game Pack Sets Top Record

Santa's bountiful new game pack is setting an all-time record for variety, with ingenious competitions designed to intrigue everyone from toddlers to teens and to parents.

In the area of games modelled from real-life situations is Whirligig, which scales down that classic favorite — musical chairs — to table size.

Another novelty with small fry appeal is Lolli Plop, which involves marble mazes shaped like all-day suckers. Object of play is to shake down the marbles into the stick of the lollies; here kindergartners and grownups can compete on equal terms.

A Four Alarm game adds a new touch of realism to the role of fireman; unfavorable moves result in the whole neighborhood burning down.

Among the significant trends this season is the burgeoning of a whole crop of games keyed to play with words. Typical of these modern-day versions of the gay nineties mode for verbal charades is The Match Games, where the winner is the one who anticipates best what others players will say.

Play might focus, for example, on naming the parts of a horse—withers, tail and so on. Players whose word choices match are the ones who score.

A novel angle on word play is provided by Chit Chat, Hugh Downs' Game of Conversation, which has the avowed purpose of getting players into fast-moving repartee. A moderator's bell is provided to curb too heated argument.

You Don't Say is another newcomer in the word game ranks, with play focused on filling in a missing word at the ends of sentences. There's a new educational version of Password for school children.

The vogue for games keyed to military maneuvers continues to gain strength. Newest form of table combat is a replay of World War I air conflicts called Dogfight. Playing pieces are scale models of famous Fokkers and other early fighting plane models. Pieces are elevated to achieve maximum realism and each game is accompanied by an American Heritage history of the war in outline form.

Other battle games that base results on decision making include Stratego, keyed to the Napoleonic era, and Battlecry, based on the Civil War.

Another novelty this Christmas is the first game to reproduce the action of a Broadway play. It is "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" and object of play is to rise from the role of window washer to chairman of the board.

Some quiz game classics appear with new questions year after year. Oldest is Go To The Head Of The Class, 25th year, now bowing in an eleventh edition of new queries; Concentration is out in a fifth edition with 30 feet of new rebus puzzles that are produced automatically by a rollamatic changer. Old favorites like Candyland and Uncle Wiggily recruit new generations of juvenile enthusiasts

CHILDREN IN CERAMIC

Charming children adapted in ceramic from a famous sketch by the late and well-known Sister Berta Hummel. "Hummel" figurines are a favorite for gift giving.

GIVE ADVENTURE for CHRISTMAS

This you can do with a book . . . any book. The adventure in following a novel's plot . . . living the life of a famous man . . . learning to do something for yourself . . . a trip to a foreign land between book covers . . . the adventure of owning your favorite work in luxurious binding . . . adventure in cooking . . . in viewing great art . . . the adventures are unlimited . . . and always something appreciated by anyone on your Christmas list. Take Thoughtful Care When Buying Any Toys

Who will use the toys? This question needs careful thought, if Santa's assistants are going to rate good marks for efficiency. Most of the errors in toy buying result from inattention to this basic point.

This advice comes from Dr. Mary Moffit of the Toy Guidance Council Educator Advisory Committee who notes that most inappropriate toy selections are made by harried shoppers who leave the procurement of gifts for the children on their lists to the last minute.

Playthings are vital tools of childhood — the tools which help youngsters to learn by doing, Doctor Moffit noted. The value of well chosen toys as basic aids to child development is so tremendous that the selection of playthings should merit priority on the busiest shopper's list of activities.

The color and movement of many toys is enchanting to adults, Doctor Moffit notes. This is natural and grownups would be happier if they relaxed more by playing with toys. But this yearning for amusement should not be allowed to conflict with the very real need of children to have toys which are suited to their state of development.

No assistant Santa should be reticent about asking for information about the children on the gift list, Doctor Moffit states. Parents and even teachers can provide very helpful clues to the kind of toys which will fit special interests of individual children.

Safety is a most important rule of toy selection, Doctor Moffit notes, and here the key is the choice of toy gifts that especially fit the age. The hobby kit that will be fine for a school age youngster will be dangerous in the hands of a kindergartner.

Most care, of course, should be exercised in the choice of toys for the baby. Since everything is likely to go mouthward, it is important to pick playthings which are safe to suck and which have no loose parts which might be swallowed. It is important, too, to remember that toys for baby should be light weight to avoid strain on developing muscles.

Babies are endeavoring to develop their sense of touch, so toys of different textures will be helpful. Musical tops help the cherub to develop his sense of hearing. Doting relatives will be wise to give careful attention to labels and instructions on boxes when picking toys for babies and toddlers as a double check on safety factors.

It is considerate to give thought to where a child lives too. If he has the run of a back yard play space, a garage or a basement playroom, then large scale toys and games will be appropriate gifts. If he lives in a small apartment, space problems will have to be weighed to determine a toy's utility.

When a large family must be remembered, it may be helpful to give playthings which can be used by different age groups together.

St. Francis Yule Carol

NEW YORK (UPI)—St. Francis of Assisi often was called "Father of the Christmas Carol" because, about the 12th century in Italy, he used the stable scene, plus a small choir, to dramatize the story of the birth of Christ.

The occasion also was the origin of the Creche.

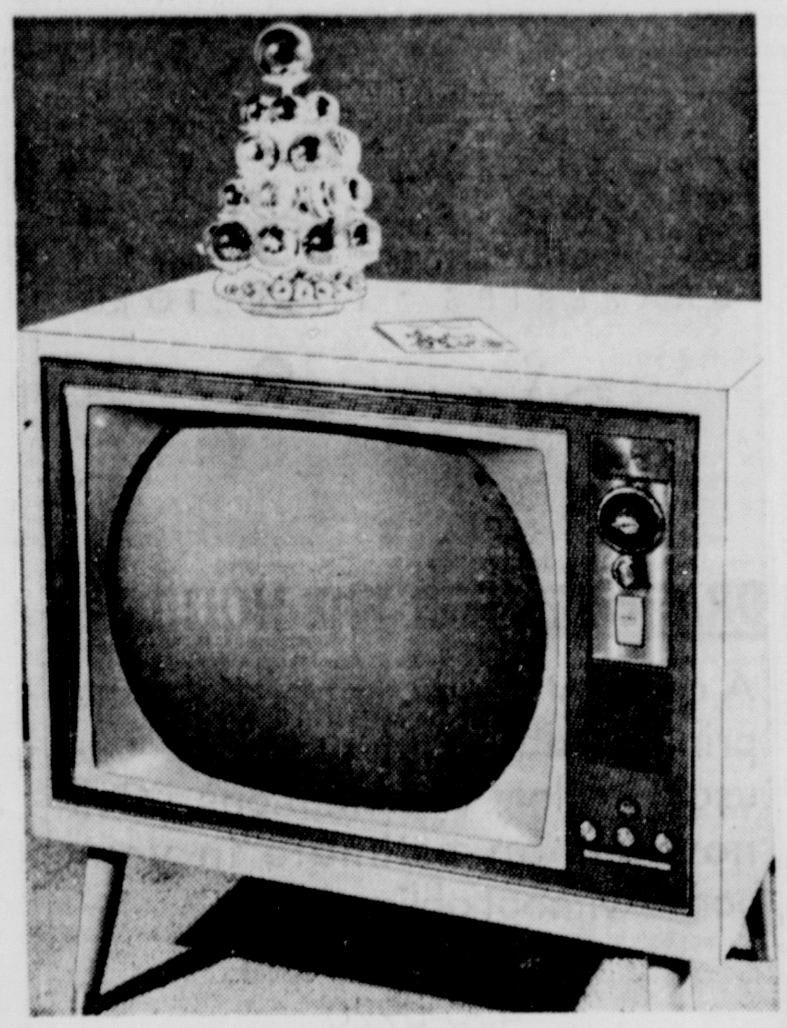
Down through the years, carols by the carload have been turned out by the pens of talented and inspired writers. One noted song writer, Charles Wesley, composed 6,500 hymns and carols during the mid-18th century.

Wesley's most popular carol — then and now — is "Hark, The Herald Angels Sing."

Another prolific song writer was Isaac Watts, who wrote "Joy To The World" in 1719 and, at his death in 1748, left 52 published volumes of hymns and carols.

Good Luck Sign

Bayberry candles, which are said to foretell good luck for the coming year if they burn bright at Christmas, were first made by early settlers in America. They dipped bayberry branches in wax and burned them during the holidays.



COLOR TV IS LIKED

Bright idea: Give the family and yourself a color television set for Christmas. It's a gift that keeps on giving for years and now they're priced within most budgets.

Federal Sales Of Christmas Trees

DENVER (UPI) — The federal government sells thousands of Christmas trees to commercial and semi-commercial groups and to individuals each year.

The trees are taken from national forests in a number of states, including Colorado, Wyoming and South Dakota.

In some national forests, individuals are permitted to go into the forests to cut down the family Christmas tree. The cost: $1 per tree. No person is allowed to cut more than one tree in the forest.

The U. S. Forest Service handles the commercial Christmas tree sale much as it sells timber. The area is put up for bid and the firms cut the trees under strict Forest Service supervision.

First Santa Claus

Tradition says the original Santa Claus was St. Nicholas, a fourth century bishop in Asia Minor who gave gifts to the young and poor.

GOODIES INCLUDE SHERRY

To welcome guests during the holidays, serve them a warm California Cream Sherry drink. Combine 2 qts. of sherry, 1 qt. strong tea, ½ cup grenadine, grated rind of 2 oranges, 1 tsp. ground nutmeg, 1 6-oz. can frozen undiluted orange juice and heat to boiling point. Serves 25.

Finnish Postal Department Acts As Santa Claus

HELSINKI (UPI) — A few weeks before Christmas, the Finnish postal department begins acting Santa Claus.

Children in a number of countries, firmly convinced that the old gent lives in Finnish Lapland, send their request letters to this country. The postoffice either answers the letters itself or passes them on to some group that will.

For the Finns themselves, Christmas means the Christmas ham, eaten on Christmas Eve, the Christmas sauna, a visit to the cemetery to pay respects to the family dead, and trees decorated with live candles instead of electric light strings.

After dinner, the wait for Santa Claus is whiled away in singing Christmas carols and playing Christmas games.

Christmas Day also is a family occasion. No visits are permissible except between family members. In the capital, Helsinki, with a population of half a million, no public transport runs on Christmas Day.

Roman Gift-Giving

Gift-giving was a popular custom of the Romans during Saturnalia. The most common gifts of this time were statuettes made in the likeness of a god.

Give Christmas Soft Touch With Slippers

Give Christmas the soft touch this year with comfortable leather slippers. A thoughtful gift of soft, elegant suede or glove leather slippers will pamper and please every man, woman, and child on your holiday list.

Your choice this winter ranges from soft ankle-hugging leather boots that are suitable for both indoor and outdoor wear to slippers designed chiefly for the path between the refrigerator and the easy chair.

Gift footwear for people who prefer to view the wintry scene from behind a windowpane boast high fashion and a high degree of comfort.

For the girls there are leather slippers or mules in colorful, lavish fashions. Some are beautifully embossed in gold or silver. Others are embroidered in floral designs.

A harlequin slipper is made up of bright leathers in diamond shapes. Its corners turn back and are fastened down with tiny silver bells or gay, gold pins.

The court jester's slipper-boot of soft-leather reaches to the ankle where it is gathered in with a band of jewels, fur or a leather thong.

A new idea in women's slippers is a leather lining in an even brighter shade than the slipper itself, such as geranium lined with turquoise, yellow with citron, and scarlet with bright pink.

Men's easy slippers also come in a variety of styles. These are leather-lined, low-cut opera slippers in glossy smooth leather for wear with an elegant dressing gown.

For the man who prefers casual dress at home, glove leather moccasin slippers are available in a variety of colors and styles. One popular moccasin features a folded back, stitched down tongue.

Another happy Christmas thought is a pair of soft leather travel scuffs that tuck into each other. Wherever he wears them, they'll remind him of hearth and home.

And, don't forget the children. Their slippers should be bright in color, high cut (to make it hard to pull them off), and with resilient leather soles and uppers to help support growing muscles.

Brightly colored leathers and leather linings attract youngsters and make them want to wear their slippers—not trot about barefoot on drafty floors.

Children's Christmas In Germany

FRANKFURT (UPI)—Hanging of a Christmas calendar on Dec. 1 in windows opens the Christmas season for German children.

Every morning one more window or door in the painted house in the calendar is cut open. The openings are underlaid with transparent paper or hide small pieces of candy.

On each of the four Sundays before Christmas (Advent Sundays) one more candle is lighted on an advent wreath. In southern Germany on the first or second Sunday of Advent 12 bellringers, wrapped in straw, tour the villages. They ring their bells and say prayers to drive away evil spirits and later collect gifts for themselves and village children.

Christmas Eve usually is spent trimming the Christmas tree. Gifts are placed beneath the tree and will stay on display until the tree is taken down.

Christmas Day in Germany usually ends by visiting friends and relatives, while Boxin¼ Day, an official holiday, is a strictly home affair.

The typical German Christmas dish is goose.

EXPENSIVE ITEMS

Ample Money Helps Luxury Shopping

For the Christmas shopper with ample folding money, there's an all-new, luxurious home entertainment center that includes almost everything but a swimming pool.

The tab: $25,000 to $30,000.

Engineered and developed by Ampex Corp., the Signature V home entertainment center stresses quality throughout. Here's what the buyer gets:

1. AM and FM radio.
2. A color TV set.
3. A new Ampex F-44 four-track auto tape recorder. You can make your own recordings or play pre-taped music.
4. A record player, in case you prefer playing records to tapes. Or you can do both — alternately.
5. A Videotape television recorder and television camera. This enables you to make "instant home movies" of your family or guests and watch them immediately on the TV screen.

The vidicon camera for home recording weighs only 18 pounds. Both camera and recorder are simple to operate.

6. A special timing mechanism that permits you to preset the Videotape recorder to pick up a TV program during your absence. You watch the show on the TV screen at your convenience. The recorder can pick up 90 minutes of TV shows or "home movies" on its single eight-inch reel of tape and play all or part of it back. You can preserve the tape permanently or erase it and re-use hundreds of times.
7. A device which allows you to record one TV program via the Videotape recorder while watching another show. You view the recorded program when you feel like it.
8. A nine-foot-long cabinet of hand-rubbed walnut with black Vinyl detail. It's three-feet, three-inches high and two-feet, five-inches wide.

In addition, the Ampex people provide an operating manual. Naturally, it's elaborately bound in leather.

IF MONEY'S NO OBJECT—This all-new entertainment center makes an ideal Christmas gift. Among its many features is a Video-tape recorder plus camera that permits taking and showing "instant home movies." It's a unit that's sheer luxury: price is $25,000 to $30,000!

Electric Ranges Are Smart: Hubby Saves Lots Of Effort

Harried homemakers need all the help they can get during the holiday season. One way a thoughtful husband can lend a hand without lifting a finger is by presenting his wife with a new automatic electric range just before Christmas.

With its automatic timing and accurate heat controls, a new electric range will save her from constant pot-watching and those tiresome treks to the kitchen to make sure everything's all right. It'll also assure her of consistently good results.

Christmas dinner cooked in a new electric range with two ovens will be just as lavish and succulent as Grandma's used to, but Mother will have far more time to spend with the family instead of in a steaming kitchen.

Those double ovens will be especially handy during the weeks before the holidays — for making pies, cookies and cakes to give as Christmas presents. Baking them in big batches in two automatically controlled ovens saves hours of kitchen time.

And it's no trick to make Christmas candy on a new electric range with a thermostatically controlled surface element. It gives exactly the right heat —a must in candy making.

Cleaning up after a big cooking spree will be easy, too, since the new electric ranges stay cleaner during cooking and are designed to be easy to clean.

BICYCLE IS FUN AND EXERCISE

A family vehicle! The bicycle has become a favorite with every member of the family. It's more fun than walking and good for the figure and general fitness. Last year, more than 1,000,000 American-made two wheelers contributed to the joy of the holiday.

Ideal Time To Start A Musical Pastime

Christmas is an ideal time to start an adult on a musical pastime. Since it is never too late to learn, the gift of a musical instrument can be the beginning of an interesting spare-time activity or the stimulus for a more time - consuming hobby for retirement years.

Music - making provides an outlet for creative abilities, and a musical instrument offers adults direct opportunity for self - expression, whether they are beginners or once studied music.

Judging from the 23.5 million adults now playing musical instruments in this country, musical interest is reaching an all-time high among the over-30 set.

One reason for the increasing popularity of music-making is the current appeal of easy-to-learn, easy-to-play instruments.

Consider gift possibilities of fretted instruments . . . guitar, banjo, mandolin and ukelele . . . all easily adaptable to beginners' efforts.

Organs, accordions and recorders are becoming favorites among adult musicians. The organ, in particular, is enjoying great popularity as families across the nation make this instrument the center of their musical gatherings, singing along while Mom or Dad accompanies.

Along with ease of learning, these so - called "recreational" instruments have other virtues. Most of them are portable, relatively inexpensive and ideal for vocal accompaniment. Interestingly enough, the strumming of three different chords on a fretted instrument such as the guitar provides all the accompaniment necessary for hundreds of songs.

Prices of these instruments range from $4 for a ukelele to $4,000 for an organ. In between these extremes, of course, there is a wide range of prices for good-quality instruments . . . and for all family budgets: a ukelele costs from $4 to $50; portable chord organ from $75 to $300; 12-bass accordions from $100 to $150; recorders from $5 to $80; that folk-music favorite, the guitar, $20 to $800.

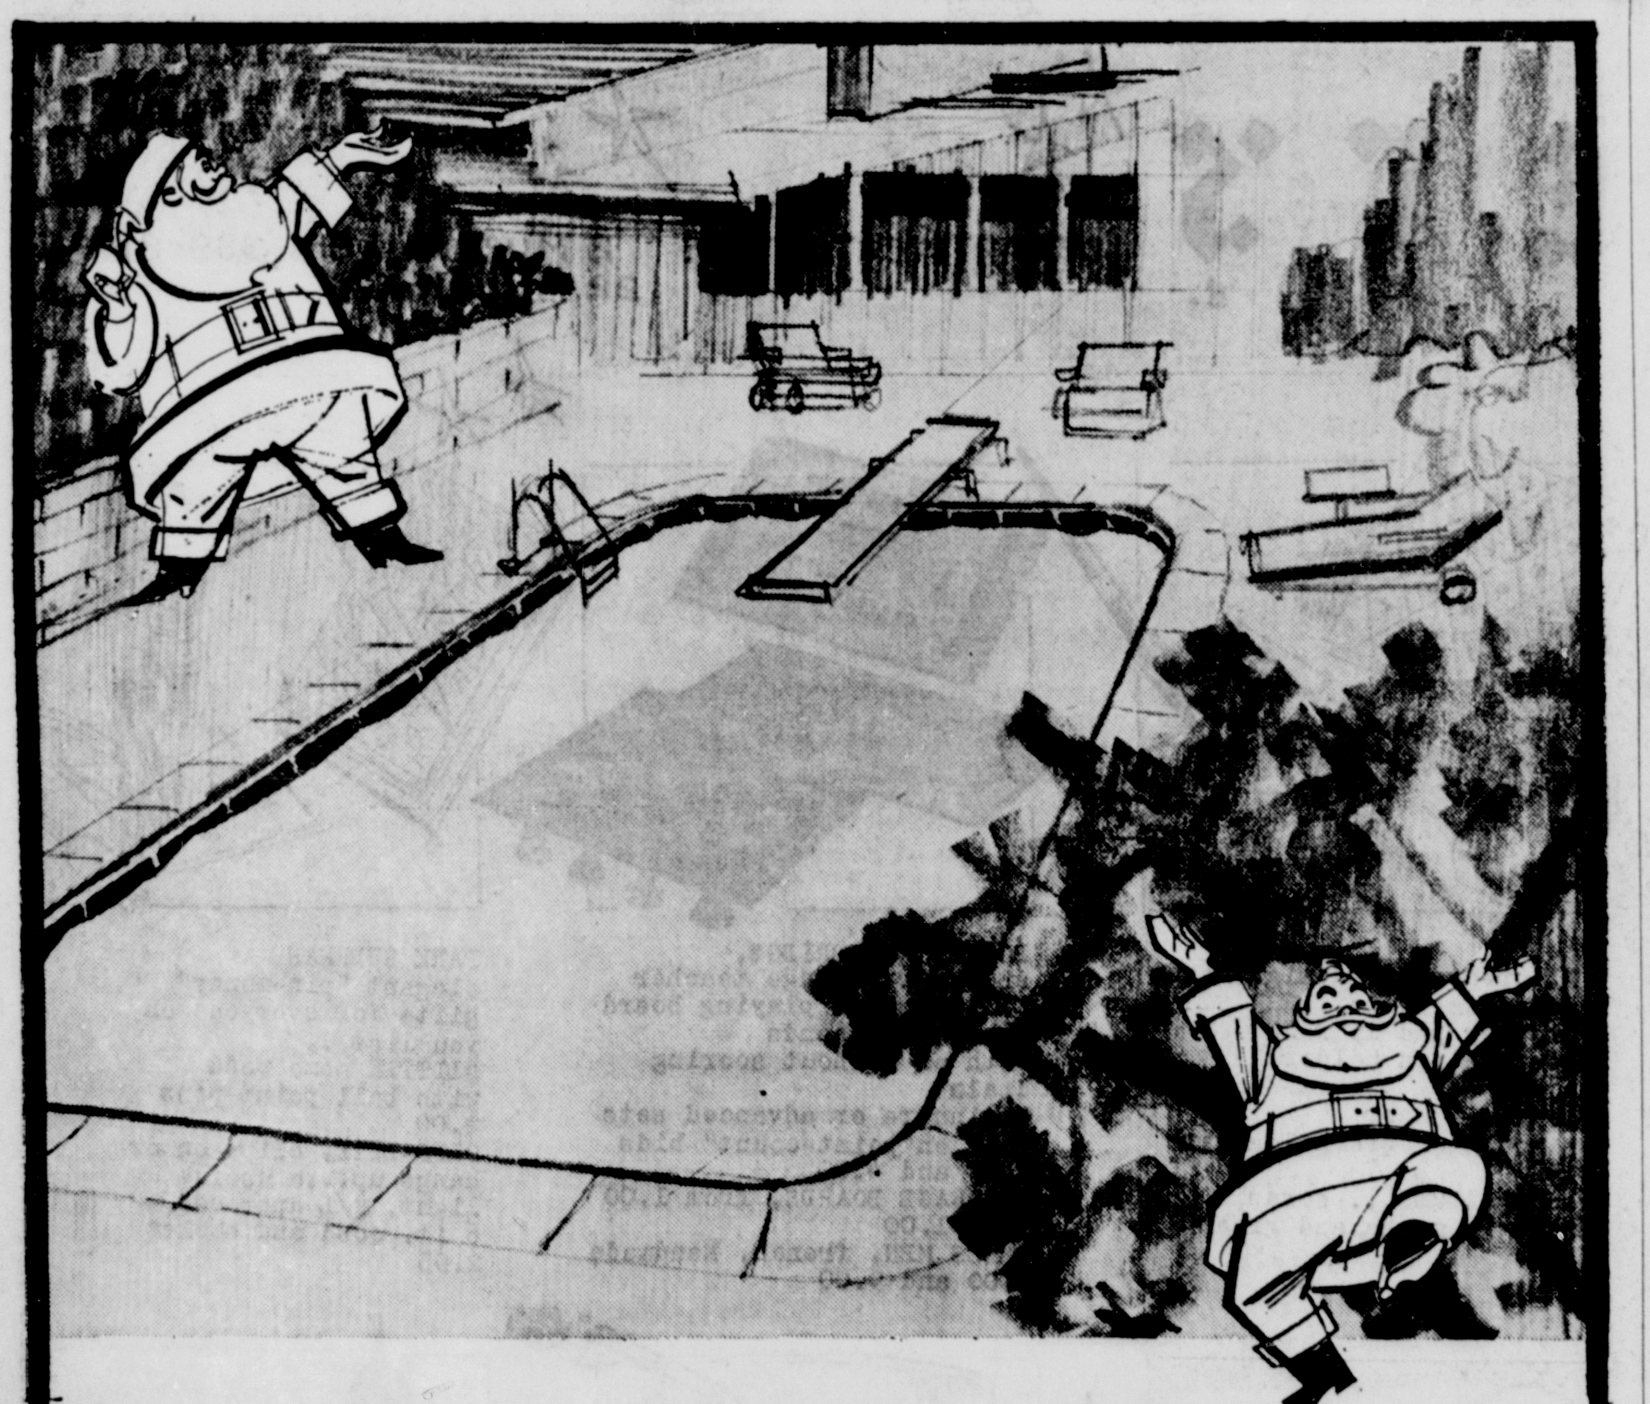
New, lower-priced console organs now on the market make it possible for more people to own these major instruments. The price range is now $495 to $4,000.

Brush Those Costly Wigs

Wigs are expensive enough to be classed as valuable possessions.

And whether or not they're high style, owners have invested enough in these extra coifs that they're going to take good care of them.

Like human hair, wigs look best when free from dust and oily matter. So why not consider giving a wig brush as a novel Christmas gift?



Dad: Give them a swimming pool for Christmas

Parnow Bros.-Custom Pools of San Rafael will provide you with a color sketch of your future swimming pool, in your size and design selection, and picturing it as it will be integrated into your own site, to put on the Christmas tree as your present to the family. We will then install the pool at your convenience in time for summer fun.

- We will engineer and design the site.
- We will design and build the pool, complete with all necessary accessories.
- We will arrange financing.

Tomorrow's World Is Seen In Many Of Today's Toys

Space Age Catches Imaginations Of Youngsters Around Country

For years, toys used to be miniatures of things used in the adult world. This Christmas, many are scaled-down versions of the world of tomorrow.

On a stroll through toyland for example, you'll see the "Wing Thing." This bat-like flying device has a 52-inch wingspread and is 36 inches long. Children can fly it like a kite, or under power from its small gasoline engine. It climbs to about 300 feet, and when the engine runs out of fuel, it continues to swoop and soar before returning gently to earth.

The "Wing Things" is actually the smaller version of something called a flexwing, which will help return our astronauts from outer space in Project Gemini. The toy version is available for children before the astronauts have the real thing.

If your imagination has been captured by predictions of automated highway systems, take a look at Autorama. Little cars travel on complex highway systems with turn-offs and cloverleafs — all by remote control.

And there's even a remote control car thrill show with the "Fly-Over Chicane." The little cars race up a ramp, hurtle off into space, change lanes in mid-air, land safely on the other side, and keep on going.

Even that old standby, the Erector set has turned toward the future in 1963. Redesigned for the first time in 50 years, the perennial favorite now boasts a motor that can be pre-programmed to perform several different functions in sequence.

The addition of streamlined girders, solid-color panels and plastic domes make it possible for boys to build working models of planetary probes, lunar vehicles and other space exploration devices still on the drawing boards of space engineering firms.

And if science fascinates you, there's a new chemistry set called "Chemistry of the Space Age." It provides for growing plants space-ship style, without soil, using artificial plant nutrients.

It also contains atomic-irradiated bean seeds for would-be Jacks-in-the-Beanstalks. While the bean plants may never get quite that tall, they will give you a sample of what may develop into whole new varieties of plants.

With these and many more playthings, it's the Spirit of Christmas Future that's making fantasy come true in toyland this year.

COAT FOR WALKING

If she wants mink (and what woman doesn't), give her a coat in the newer easy-going elegant manner. This "walking coat," for example. It's a longer-than-jacket-shorter-than-coat length, with squared off collar, long side vents and calf tie-belt which gently gathers the waistline. Fashioned of Autumn Haze, Emba natural brown mink.

Plant From Heaven

Mistletoe was known to the ancient Druids, who thought it was a plant brought from heaven by the missel thrush.

Christian, Pagan

Christmas in the United States is a blend of Christian, pagan, seasonal and national traditions.

Toyland In Full Step With World

Science Plays Role For Yule

This year's toyland is fully in step with the fast pace of the contemporary world. Under the Christmas tree, junior will be building a sky scraper with a helicopter landing and monorail facilities. Space play has matured from science fiction to science fact.

Besides a variety of play items keyed to the latest developments in rocketry, a whole new array of science - oriented kits are keyed to study of the earth and atmosphere in up-to-the-minute research terms, reports Mel Freud, president of Toy Guidance Council.

Even the computer age has impact on 1963 toylands. A digital computer that solves problems is being featured for under five dollars to provide basic training for tomorrow's expert in critical path scheduling.

The affluent American home is reproduced in faithful miniature down to a well designed dog house and a power mower. Among the ingenious playroom off-shoots of dad's do-it-yourself hobbies is a kit of miniature power tools geared for purposeful activity by junior and safe against cutting hazards, according to Toy Guidance Council.

A new thrill for homemaking play is a magnetized doll house in which an entire family and pets can be moved around realistically by manipulation of a magnetized wand placed under the floor of the doll house. This will give Junior and his sister a chance to order the family routine at will. There's an automatic can opener and a spin dry washing machine for the well equipped playroom kitchen.

A resurgence of interest in military material is evident, too, in the new toy showings, Toy Guidance Council reports. An army engineer's set of heavy gauge steel provides purposeful equipment for building airfields or army encampments and military highways.

GIVE STURDY TOYS—Child psychologists say give sturdy toys because children become emotionally attached to them and will find much more satisfaction in the toy that lasts. One material that can be depended upon to withstand the rough treatment all toys receive is steel. Look for toys such as the steel truck shown here when shopping for Christmas gifts.

And, there's an operating sand hopper. This set includes working models of the latest style in road construction equipment.

New in the military lineup is a cannon that fires only when a command is spoken. New ideas in planes and missiles closely follow the newest equipment of the U. S. armed services.

Toyland abounds in new playroom equipment beamed to interest junior and his sister in basic training for professions or business, Toy Guidance Council notes.

Incentive for the young automotive engineer is provided by an ingenious Cub Set of heavy gauge steel which gives junior the opportunity to custom design a number of smart looking cars by interchanging parts.

There's a station wagon produced by inserting a special roof. Without the roof and doors a racing car emerges. Another switch and junior has a pick up truck ready for service.

The amazing world of plastics has been translated into purposeful playroom operation, too. Extrusion molding, for example, can be carried out purposefully by the junior businessman.

Side by side with highly practical replicas of the latest developments in science and industry is a wide variety of toys keyed to history and fantasy.

Although the hurdy gurdy has almost disappeared from city streets, there are intriguing new hurdy gurdy toys. The newest version of this classic music maker encourages the youngsters to compose their own tunes on a music roll by inserting pegs. The roller activates small hammers that tap out notes on colorful metal bars.

A novel addition to toyland's musical toy array is a razz-ma-tazz piano which enables any youngster to play a dozen familiar tunes immediately. Interchangeable music rolls, each with six different songs, are placed in the back of the instrument. A lever in front of the keyboard permits selection of the tunes. Then each time the keyboard is struck, a different note sounds. Continuous action produces a complete tune. Keys are exposed for viewing.

Among the surprises keyed to science is a novel car which demonstrates solar energy. This comes in kit form, planned for easy assembly without glue or soldering. When assembled, the battery powered car can be started, stopped and speed controlled by tracking the beam of an ordinary flashlight on the vehicles built in solar cell.

New in the home equipment sector is a hair dryer that can be used by little girls themselves or their dolls. The dryer which blows cool air safely, operates on flashlight batteries.

For the juvenile hobbyists there are kits that provide the makings of the Statute of Liberty or the Taj Mahal. A series of ingenious kits makes it easy for the juvenile contingent to produce a whole series of primitive masks, all decorative additions to home decor.

To help every young lady experiment with good grooming techniques there is a new cover girl bar with a plastic face for use as a base for experiments. The face can be wiped clean and made up repeatedly. Cosmetics are non-toxic.

Modern Wives Saving Time With Dryers

Four or five minutes in a gas or electric dryer does the work of one hour on the line. That's how efficient automatic clothes dryers can be. What's more it is year 'round efficiency . . . as helpful in spring and summer as the cool fall and wet winter months.

Just how much time does a clothes dryer save? This varies, of course, depending on the size of your family and your typical home laundry needs. It's safe to say, however, that up to 20 complete eight-hour working days can be saved per year with an automatic dryer.

This figure doesn't include the time savings you'll realize on your ironing when you own a dryer. The new models permit you to damp-dry clothes; you don't have to sprinkle at all. Then, of course, towels and corduroys come out so fluffy and soft that little or no ironing is needed. And wash and wear articles are wrinkle-free and ready to use or wear with only a touch of the iron.

To Remove Gum

Someone drop gum on your new slipcover? Harden the gum by rubbing it with ice. Scrape off as much as possible. Then sponge with trichloroethane (non-flammable Energine). Rinse and launder the item in your automatic washer.

Popular Gift Is The Talking Bird

Want to give relatives and friends an extra surprise this Christmas? Then plan on giving a parakeet, the third most popular pet, right behind puppies and kittens.

This suggestion comes from a pet firm in Rochester, N. Y., which reports that for the last several years these clever little birds have become increasingly popular as gift items.

They suggest, too, that the bird be taught a Christmas greeting for an added touch. "Parakeets learn from constant repetition of words and phrases," a spokesman points out. "It's merely a matter of time and patience." You may not get your parakeet to learn "Silent Night" between now and Christmas, but chances are he'll reward you with a cheery yuletide greeting if you spend just a few minutes a day on his education.

Mom can probably do the best job, say the experts because it's easier for birds to mimic the high tones of a woman's voice. In any case, only one person should be elocution coach to the bird.

For new parakeet owners, here are some tips:

1. Don't expect too much of your pet right away. It takes a few days for him to adjust to new surroundings and he may act dull and drowsy. At first, it's wise to keep his cage covered for several hours during the day. Before long, your pet will feel settled and will be his usual playful, friendly self.
2. Try not to frighten or excite him. Move quietly when near the cage and talk to him in a soft, calm voice.
3. Keep the cage out of direct sunlight and drafts and in a spot where the bird will not be subject to sudden, extreme changes in temperature.
4. Feed your bird daily And don't mistake a dish of empty seed hulls for a full cup of seed. His diet should consist of seed, treat, conditioning food, cuttle bone, and gravel, plus fresh water. Add spray millet or a treat bell from time to time for extra enjoyment.
5. Keep the bird cage clean. The food and water cups should be emptied and cleaned daily. Change the paper liner on the cage bottom and sprinkle with fresh gravel every few days. Scrape, do not wash, the perches when necessary.

The care and feeding of a parakeet are really so simple that a child can be given the complete responsibility. As a matter of fact, parakeets are more and more frequently found in nursery schools, kindergartens, and lower grades, where they become classroom projects.

Parakeets, noted for their companionship and humorous antics, will brighten any household not only at Christmas but for years afterward.

1,000's OF ITEMS

Gifts Shouldn't Block Vision

Whether you're driving in town or on the highway, check to see that your vision is not obstructed by a large pile of gifts or luggage that should be in the trunk.

These items on the back seat or on the package shelf by the rear window can easily fly forward during a sudden stop, causing serious injury to passengers.

Most important: always allow yourself enough time to get where you're going. Hurrying from one place to another only adds to the hazards of holiday driving.

CANDLES HAVE MUCH CHARM

Permanent beauty! Here are candles with the age-old charm of wax candles, but without the unpleasant odor, smoke, messy drippings, and safety hazards. These butane fueled candles offer a world of modern advantages and come in five lovely colors.

Santa's Assistant Is Often Jeweler

Even if your budget doesn't stretch quite far enough to put diamonds in every stocking you plan to fill this Christmas, you shouldn't overlook your jeweler as one of Santa's best assistants.

Watchbands for people who already own fine watches are expected to be popular gift items at around $10.

Cultured pearls at $20 to $35 will probably lead the popularity parade in gifts for teen-age girls. Prices for grown - up styles will be slightly higher. Rings set with rubies, hematite or onyx are expected to be big items for men at $20 to $30.

The jewelry store shopper will find stores less crowded than others even at Christmas. Merchandise isn't "picked over," employees are less harried, and there are fewer temporary helpers behind the counters. Style-color-size selections are good, too, and the early shopper can usually get special orders from manufacturers if he wants them.

Here are a few other ideas that may help you fill Santa's sack with quality jewelry gifts this season: AM - FM transistorized radios; bronzed baby shoes or barometers; candelabra, cameras, cameos or cuckoo clocks; dinnerware or desk sets; electronic watches or engraving on almost any kind of jewelry. Also there are fraternity pins, good luck pieces and hors d'oeuvre trays including new musical types.

Or you can get identification bracelets, irons, ivory items, ice buckets and Indian jewelry; jade or jeweled jam jars; knives, key-rings, knick-knacks and knife sharpeners; lockets, lamps, luggage and other leather items; military rings, mugs, memory books and motion picture equipment.

Perhaps you are looking for novelties or special watches for nuns or nurses; opera glasses; pens, pencils, pins or portable phonograph (including stereophonic models) and radios.

Quartz, rosaries, skin divers' and other types of sports timbers and stop-watches; as well as trays, telescopes, thermometers, typewriters and tape recorders including transistorized types so tiny they can be tucked into a briefcase are some other suggestions.

Still more possibilities include ultrasonic cleaning of precious jewelry; vacuum bottles; or weather forecasters, woodenware and wall clocks of all sorts are among other possibilities. And, there are many more, of course.

Winter Window Box

Empty window boxes are settings for winter greenery. Strips of chicken wire in the boxes will help evergreen branches stand up straight.

POUNDS GALORE

Succulent Dishes Tempt The Palate

The juicy turkey . . . the flaming plum pudding . . . the Christmas cookies of many kinds . . . the hors d'oeuvres that are served wherever you go — all these tempting taste treats are a threat to your waistline throughout the holiday season. And how can you enjoy the fun and food without putting on too many pounds of fat that nobody wants to have when starting the New Year?

This question is sure to come up in the chit-chat at the gay gatherings you go to, for more and more people are becoming concerned about being overweight. Not wanting to be haunted by post - Christmas bulges, they know that using a little will power to resist an extra helping of dessert may be a good New Year's resolution.

Planning holiday menus for your family and guests so they can eat what they want at parties and still keep a check on calories is now possible, thanks to today's formula diets. One approach, for example, is a liquid dietary for breakfast and perhaps a can of dietary soup for lunch, while enjoying a delicious dinner of favorite foods.

Your between-party menus can allow a full measure of taste delights while still watching the caloric count. On a cold winter day, a bowl of piping hot, dietary cream-of-tomato soup provides a tasty satisfying lunch. Or, to add the traditional holiday colors of red and green to your luncheon menu, try serving split pea soup with tomato aspic salad.

When eating-on-the-run during the holiday whirl, a liquid dietary containing only 225 calories provides all the essential nutrients while helping you avoid "empty," weight-producing calories.

Extra calories add up to unwanted inches. By cutting your intake at one or two meals during the day, you can enjoy your favorite Christmas treats without fear of adding that hard-to-lose Santa Claus contour.

LACY GOWN IS NICE

Lady like is the look of this full length robe with embroidery and lace trim. It's a wonderful fashion for the woman who loves luxury at every hour of the day. The fabric of Enka nylon is soft to the touch and outstandingly wash-and-wear. This exquisite robe can be worn belted or flowing. It's a gift that's sure to please any one of the ladies on your list.

YOU'LL RATE RAVES from the ski buffs on your Christmas list if you give the latest thing in ski fashions: the Tow Coat is 100 per cent nylon; the stretch pants are in Acrilan and nylon. According to Maytag, both can be washed and dried automatically.

FOR SNOWY SLOPES

Half The Fun Of Skiing Is Wearing New Fashions

Something in ski wear — that's the guaranteed-to-please Christmas gift for any skiing enthusiast. After all, half the fun of skiing is wearing the dramatic fashions designed especially for the snowy slopes.

But up till now, stretch pants that looked so sleek when new, lost their shape after a few tumbles in the snow. Worse yet, light colors, though high in fashion, were extremely hard to keep clean.

That's all over. The latest thing in stretch pants, available just in time for Christmas giving, are made of acrylic and nylon fibers that dry in no time —no matter how many spills you take.

And best of all, they can be machine washed and dried automatically, according to the Maytag Home Laundry center. So those light-colored pants are now as practical as they are pretty.

For best results, wash for five minutes with regular agitation and cold water. However, if they're heavily soiled, better use warm water and gentle washing action.

The wash-and-wear setting on your dryer provides just the right temperature to relax the fibers and minimize wrinkles. Maytag experts recommend steam pressings every four or five launderings to rejuvenate "permanent" creases and pleats.

Stretch pants are so comfortable and smart-looking, they've been adopted by many who have never been near a ski-lift. And now that they can be washed, they're practical for growing youngsters, too.

Stocking Attributed To Saint Nicholas

The hanging of the Christmas stocking is attributed to Saint Nicholas, who provided dowries for the daughters of an impoverished nobleman.

As the saint threw presents of gold into the house, they fell into a stocking that had been hung near the chimney to dry.

Bedding Breeze In New Dryer

The wet, windy days always are most unpleasant when there's a big wash to hang outside, especially if blankets, sheets and other bedding are involved.

A new gas or electric clothes dryer eliminates the foul weather problems and largely reduces the mandhandling of heavy items fresh from the washer. Here are some ideas on the best ways to dry bedding in the automatic clothes dryer.

Nylon, muslin and percale sheets should be slightly underdried. When sheets retain some natural moisture they are less apt to wrinkle or fold at the edges. Contour sheets will dry smooth and tight if replaced on the bed as soon as they come out of the dryer.

Sugar Plum Tree Adds Nice Note To Celebration

Be a sugar plum fairy this holiday season. For a Christmas gift any family will enjoy, make a sugar plum tree. It will add a warm, festive note to the yuletide celebration.

Use a real or artificial tree about two feet tall and hang it with brightly frosted Christmas cookies, garlands of cranberries and tinted popcorn, fruit candies tied with ribbon, and candy-dotted popcorn balls. Top it with a star-shaped cookie a-gleam with silver candies.

Home economist Alice Hutchinson suggests that a cookie tree be used as a decoration for the front hall during the holidays. Guests can be invited to nibble on the decorations. Keep extra cookies on hand to replace disappearing ones, she suggests.

The "goodie tree" is so easy to make that even the children can help. In fact, they'll probably want to. Put them to work stringing the cranberries and popcorn, which go on first.

Next come the popcorn balls. Roll them in cake decorettes while still sticky, insert colored pipe cleaners and hook the ends over the tips of the branches.

Next, fix your fruit candy balls. Here's how: grind together one-half pound each of pitted prunes, seedless raisins soaked five minutes in warm water, seeded dates, and figs or apricots. Add 1 cup of chopped nuts, one-half teaspoon of salt and 1 teaspoon of cinnamon.

Shape into small balls. Roll in a mixture of one-half cup sugar, and 1 teaspoon cinnamon. Wrap balls in squares of colored cellophane and tie the ends with red or green ribbons and loop to tips of branches.

Now for the cookies and here you can let your fancy roam. Use cookie cutters or make your own cardboard patterns by tracing whimsical animals from children's books or magazines. Place cardboard patterns on the dough and cut around them with a sharp knife.

Before the cookies are popped into the oven, make a hole in each one large enough for the string which will be used to hang it on the tree. When cookies are done, let your artistic talents take over. Decorate them with confectioners' sugar frosting and cake decorettes and make them as gay and colorful as your Christmas mood.

Chances are you have your own favorite Christmas cookie recipe, but if you'd like to try something different, here's a kitchen tested one.

OLD FASHIONED PEPPARKAKOR

(phonounced "peppar-cock-er")

Sifted together:
3½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1½ teaspoons ginger
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves

Cream:
½ cup butter or margarine
Add gradually ¾ cup sugar, creaming until light and fluffy.

Add:
1 unbeaten egg
¾ cup molasses
1 teaspoon orange peel

Stir in the dry ingredients, gradually mixing until well blended. Cover. Chill overnight. Roll out on well floured pastry cloth to one-eighth inch thickness or less. Cut into shapes and place on greased baking sheet. Bake in 375-degree oven 8 to 10 minutes. Decorate seven to 10 dozen.

MOUTH INSTRUMENT HAS KEYBOARD

Two popular names in the musical world are Steve Allen and the Melodica. Both are shown here. The melodica has been increasing in popularity with professionals such as Mr. Allen, Jan Garber and Carmen Lombardo, as well as with very young music students. This mouth instrument with its piano-like keyboard belongs in the Christmas stocking along with the harmonica.

This Year Santa Digs Down Deep And Comes Up With Leather Bag

This year Santa digs down deep and comes up with the bag—a handsome leather handbag to warm the heart of any woman on Christmas morning.

Whether it's a tote, satchel, clutch or box, a fashionable leather handbag is always a welcome gift. And in this year of leather, the selection is greater than ever.

Best of all, the new handbags have a rich look, thanks to fresh new colors and a variety of leather tannages—grained, smooth, waxy, suede and antiqued, among others.

With larger sizes making handbag headlines, a thoughtful gift would be a spacious leather satchel, pouch or box bag with room for all the paraphernalia essential to the modern woman.

Grained, brushed, antiqued and the new waxy leathers are seen most often in this style, with fashion touches leaning toward brass hardware, single or double leather straps, and multi-color combinations.

If you would rather your Christmas gift had a dressy touch, in keeping with the festive season, there are trim smooth and suede leather handbags with a slimmer, smaller silhouette.

Highlighted with brushed gold closings, flat little bows or chain handles, these dressy daytime bags are a cinch to be put to immediate use for some special holiday event.

You'll find a full palette of colors from which to choose, with many brown tones and deep greens and reds most prominent. Neutral shades such as taupe and fog gray, and the natural look of waxy and antiqued leather tannages, are also popular and sure to please.

For cocktail and evening wear, she'll cherish a pretty clutch or small envelope with a soft, wrinkle-free leather lining. These after-dark handbags of smooth, lustre and suede leather are sometimes starkly simple, and may be sparked with a touch of jeweling.

If she thinks you've been extravagant, you can magnanimously point out the lasting qualities of leather, and how easily she can clean smooth, grained, antiqued and waxy leathers with a damp cloth — making your gift a "practical luxury."

Music For Christmas

The first Christmas music came on the first Christmas — when the Heavenly Host of angels rang out with "Glory to God on the highest."

'Jingle Bells'

A churchman, John Pierpont, composed the gay Christmas song, "Jingle Bells," which has been popular for over a century.

Time, Labor Savers Make Good Gifts For Housewife

Leisure time is a most-prized possession and it's the lucky mother who receives this very precious Christmas gift in the shape of a 1964 washer and dryer, which are most efficient time-and-labor savers.

It has been estimated that an automatic dryer can save the homemaker 40 miles of walking — to and from the clothes line — each year. She can also save the energy required to lift the clothes basket and stretch to the line to put the clothes up and take them down.

Automatic dryers not only dry clothes, leaving them soft, fluffed, and sweet-smelling but can be used in other ways that save mother time and effort.

"Freshening up" is a very useful function for this dryer with a "no-heat" setting.

Draperies, curtains, spreads, blankets, pillows, light rugs and stored clothes being brought from storage can all be treated to the lively air currents that circulate so effectively in a dryer.

This is an age in which the whole family wears clothes containing synthetic fibers. In addition to doing a throughly efficient job on cottons, linens, and such staples, the new washers and dryers are geared to do a fine job for all those wash-and-wear clothes that play such an important role in our modern wardrobes.

One new washer has six settings, including one for "sturdy wash-and-wear" and one for "delicate wash-and-wear." The machine also features a "tempering" action which adds cool water towards the end of the wash cycle to help prevent wrinkles in clothes.

The dryer also has a special setting for "wash-and-wear"— one of four drying selections, and provides a cooling-off period which tumbles the clothes without heat at the end of the cycle. This also does its part in reducing wrinkling which is a very important feature for our modern wash-and-wear clothes.

To provide even more leisure time for mother some new machines wash twelve pounds of regular loads, and fourteen pounds of certain selected loads.

Automatic washers are very versatile. They can be used to wash feather pillows, electric blankets, plastic boots, sneakers, with complete directions provided by the manufacturer. A mesh bag is useful to have as you can place small items such as gloves and belts in it, and make recovery from the machine easier.

The new machines allow the homemaker to vary the water level to suit her special load, and she can also vary the temperature of the wash water and of the rinse water. There's even a dispenser in this machine to introduce the bleach, and the fabric conditioner into the water at precisely the right time to achieve the very cleanest sparkling wash.

Yuletide Enhances Desire For The Sparkling Jewels

Women have an affinity for diamond jewelry, especially at Christmas. Of all the jewelry forms, pins are the most practical and "safe" gift choices because they are adaptable to most apparel.

The classic gold pin lavished with a diamond spark keeps company with all ages: on the wool suit of a college girl, on her mother's velvet cocktail hat, or on grandmother's silky holiday dress.

Best-liked designs for pins are nature forms — leaves, flowers, birds and even butterflies. Golf leaf pins with engraved veins emerging from diamond-tipped stems look freshly fallen. Half blown buds and floral sprays come in realistic or stylized versions. Solitary sunburst pins are studies in contrast, with alternating petals of polished and Florentine-finished gold.

Free-form and abstract pin designs, dramatized with diamonds, are reminiscent of famous sculptures and paintings. Earrings come in designs to match pins to complete the jeweled ensemble.

"Occasional" rings for right-hand wear are true high-fashion gifts. Domes of polished gold are punctuated with starry diamonds; strands of 14-karat gold are twisted into flower silhouettes and spirals which seem to soar off the finger.

What looks like a mound of silver branches is a ring design of platinum leaves embracing a bunch of diamond and creamy pearl berries. Criss-crossing leaves at the top of a ring literally "grow" around a diamond-set vine which encircles the finger.

Pendants continue to be popular, especially the single diamond-droplet first made famous by television personalities. There are three dimensional flowers, four-leaf clovers, and even question mark pendants shimmering with good-luck diamonds, for wear on delicate necklace chains.

Victorian-type lockets of glistening gold are enjoying a revival. Oval, round and heart-shaped lockets have a deep-set center diamond on the cover or are engraved with forget-me-nots.

Necklace clasps are an unusual fashion jewel gift. For the woman who wears a favorite necklase, there are clusters of pearls and diamonds nestled on the topside of a clasp in several designs. Not only is the jeweled clasp practical, it's beautiful and meant to be worn in the center front hollow of the neck.

Jeweled clasps accommodate anywhere from one to five strands of beads in a necklace. Before selecting a gift necklace clasp, it's imperative to know how many strands of beads there are in a woman's favorite necklace. After the holidays, the clasp and necklace can be taken to the jeweler for the changing of the old for the new jeweled clasp.

Watches, a time-honored gift, are tailored and dressy to keep tabs on time very fashionably. Watch bracelets, of flexible gold mesh or rigid wristbands, offer variety in widths.

Oval, square, pear-shape and round "faces" are framed with the tiniest of diamonds; numbers are set with gems. Elaborate watchface covers hide the time of day until they are flipped with the touch of a finger.

Enameled and gold lapel watches haloed with diamonds are suspended from bowknot or solid gold bar pins; this timepiece revival recalls when it was fashionable to wear watches on lapels.

WRAP MOTOR IN RIBBON

Fishing for ideas about what to give Dad this Christmas? If he likes fishing, he'll love a gift of an outboard motor. Especially one that's as light in weight as this.

DAZZLING gold beads glitter on the sleeveless over-blouse of this wool jersey two piece dress. The slim skirt is slit high on one side. A perfect choice for the gala season!

Glove M'Lady's Hand With Soft Leather

Here's a tip for Santa: Put fashion at her finger tips this Christmas with a gift of lovely leather gloves.

Fashions in gloves go to every length this winter, so you can't go wrong no matter which length you select. And, you'll find hundreds of styles and colors in smooth or finely grained kid leather, soft suede and doeskin leathers and textured pigskins.

Since most coats end between the wrist and the elbow this year, your gift will be welcome whether it's a six-button kid gauntlet, an eight-button doeskin musketaire or a 12-button elbow-length glove.

Though most leather gloves will depend on their soft, supple elegance for fashion effect, some styles feature a thin strip of fur at the wrists, contrasting leather lacing around the cuffs, or contrasting color stitching on the fingers.

If, after all these years, you still don't know her glove size, get her a pair of the new leather stretch gloves that fit most women.

The leather glove color range covers all the shades in winter's fashion spotlight such as cranberry, winter blue, bright gold, pine needle, and all tones of brown and beige from bitter chocolate to bone.

In the evening, when the full-length glove lends formal grace to an evening ensemble, leather gloves — smooth or sueded — are smart in either white or black. Frequently, a white glove has black beading or other detailing and vice versa.

For the suburbanite and sportswoman, pigskin gloves complete a casual ensemble. For sure, frost-free control of her car wheel, select gloves of smooth or textured leather lined in wool.

'Joy To World'

The Christmas carol "Joy to the World" was written by Isaac Watts in 1719.

Practice Safety At Christmas

NEW YORK (UPI)—Safety for Christmas is the newest wrinkle in stockings hung up for Santa Claus.

For the millions of people who drive cars, a set of seat belts in the fireplace stockings or under the tree might prove to be the most thoughtful gift they've ever received, according to the American Seat Belt Council.

ENTIRE FAMILY CAN PLAY

Lucky family if they receive an organ for Christmas! Every member of the family can soon learn to play this self-contained console electric organ. And, it's a beautiful brown mahogany furniture piece that fits wonderfully well into any decorating scheme.

Have Youngsters Join Preparations

An important part of the fun of Christmas is in preparing for it and since Christmas is for children, you'll want your youngsters to participate as much as possible in all the activities that the Yule season brings.

Not only will it be an excellent opportunity for them to gain a sense of responsibility and to express themselves creatively, it will also afford your family many hours of being together and getting to know each other better.

Don't Discard Those Cards After Holiday

Those gay Christmas cards that decorated mantel and mirror and tree can serve a practical purpose when you take them down.

That is the best time — and they are the simplest means— for making up your 1964 Christmas card list. If the list is revised now, while new names and addresses are readily at hand, the addressing of cards next Christmas will be almost effortless.

For those to whom maintaining a list is a problem in itself, the card maker offers a number of easy solutions, some of which are available in stores and others hand-fashioned at home.

If your list runs to several hundred people and you must of necessity be meticulous about it, then probably the best system is to post the names and addresses on file cards and index them in a small file box. An advantage of this system is that the cards offer ample space to jot down information about the person and his family as it is received during the year.

For those with shorter lists, the personal telephone directory is a handy reference. A tiny check mark beside a name may be used to indicate that you two exchanged cards the previous Christmas. A second indication could be used for those to whom you send gifts.

Many greeting card firms prepare date books each year which are ideally suited for compiling Christmas address lists. The date book is part calendar and part address pad, and here again there's a place on which to note birthdays, anniversaries and other special occasions of the coming year.

Christmas Cards Came Late Like About 19th Century

Today we take the sending and receiving of Christmas cards as a matter of course. Actually, they didn't come into existence until the 19th Century. Prior to that no one thought of greeting friends and family at yuletide through cards.

It remained for a 16-year old English engraving apprentice, William Maw Egley, to design a card in 1842 illustrating scenes of a formal banquet, a party dance and skaters. Below the illustrations was the legend "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to You."

Later another Englishman, Henry Cole, commissioned the artist John Calcott Horsely, a member of the Royal Academy, to paint an illustration which ultimately depicted a Victorian family gathered around the holiday table, in addition to depicting customs of giving to the poor. Cole had lithographed copies of Horsely's work struck off and mailed the cards out in December of 1846.

In 1874, Louis Prang printed the first American greeting cards in his lithograph shop in Boston. These cards were noted for their artistic quality and were sold all over the United States.

Thus was begun a holiday tradition which is now an accepted part of the season . . . receiving warm greetings of love and good will through the mail at Christmas time.

First Sale Of Cards

The first sale of Christmas cards by a commercial firm were made in England in 1862.

DOLL IS LINGUISTIC

If Freezer Is Gift Send It Along Early

Any wife lucky enough to be getting a new electric refrigerator-freezer for Christmas will be extra lucky if it arrives a few weeks early. It'll save her time, trouble, and the frustration of trying to find extra space for the holiday food.

One of the blessings of a new unit is the large zero-zone freezer section which can be stocked well before Christmas with home-made or commercially prepared foods such as pie, soups, sauces and vegetables, and even the Christmas turkey.

Fresh food sections of the new electric refrigerator-freezers not only hold more food, but keep it at top quality longer. This means that for fruit, vegetables, meat and other fresh foods, shopping can be done a week or more ahead of time, instead of during the last-minute rush.

There'll be no problem about fitting the new unit into the kitchen, since today's models provide far more storage space inside without taking up extra floor space. They also fit flush against walls, in corners, or between cabinets, giving a neat, built-in look.

Best of all, many of the new electric refrigerator-freezers never need to be defrosted, since frost never forms in either the refrigerator or the freezer section.

Grownups Take Over Toy Autos

A British toy manufacturer began offering to children a series of scale-model antique cars a few years ago.

But sales to adults became so numerous that the company now is marketing a line of ashtrays on which the cars have been mounted.

These models of bygone days include old locomotives, buses and trolley cars, fire engines and motorcycles, as well as automobiles. The company has another line of miniatures for children.

Takes Patience to Make Own Yule Cards

All you need, to make your own distinctive Christmas cards, is a little artistic talent, lots of spare time, plenty of patience and some scraps of cloth!

If you have these things, then this article is for you.

The first step is to select the envelope. It's much easier to cut your cards to fit the envelopes than to have to make or try to find envelopes to fit your cards.

Start with a nice piece of card-weight paper, folded in half so your message can be written inside.

Next, sketch or trace the design you like (keep it very simple) onto a piece of tracing paper. Then transfer the sketch to your card by means of carbon paper. Try to keep the pencil lines light.

Now you're ready to cut the pieces of fabric that you will paste into position on the card. To do this, use the original design and trace the section you want on the back side of the fabric. Cut out and paste into place.

Small feathers, beads, braids, woven tapes, lace and doilies can be used, too. Just make sure that you use a good glue.

Make Your Door Big Yule Package

You can make your door into a huge Christmas package by pinning wide strips of red satiny material to all four sides, and drawing them together into a great bow, adding ornaments and holly for color contrast.

Whatever the materials you decide upon for your decorations, make sure they are sturdy and can be fastened securely.

If your entrance is unprotected, weatherproof your designs with a coating of clear shellac or use water-resistant materials such as oilcloth.

Yule Folk Music

The ballad type of carol, now considered by musical writers as the true carol, is the folk song type, handed down from generation to generation, as the authentic creation of the people.

Dress Up Home With Tiny Trees

Tiny whimsical Christmas trees that you make yourself can do a great deal to dress up your home during the holidays.

The greatest fun in making these miniature trees is in dreaming up the ideas for them yourself. But, here are a few ideas for trees to get you started thinking in the right direction.

Christmas tree balls in graduated sizes can be stacked one on the other by attaching the balls, Christmas seals, tinsel, picture hanging wire.

Funnel or cone shapes (tin or paper) ranging from large at the bottom to smallest at the top can be stacked for a smart effect, too.

Egg Nog Part Of Christmas

For many of us, Christmas just isn't Christmas without the tasty treat of egg nog.

A welcome holiday sight in the traditional silver punch bowl at Christmas gatherings, and an equally welcome quick refreshment for friends who've dropped in unexpectedly, egg nog is the perfect holiday drink for young and old alike.

If you're planning a party or expecting friends and family over on Christmas Eve, bring out the punch bowl and stock up on bottled egg nog from your favorite dairy. You'll find today's ready - made egg nog better than most home - made versions and it saves so much extra work.

Pipe Dreams Answered With Gift

A most pleasurable solution to your gift-giving problems this Christmas will be found in the wide selection of pipes and smoking tobacco which will fill tobacconists' shelves this year.

Buying a pipe for the man, or men, on your list will not only prove a pleasant surprise for him come Christmas morn, but will give you an interesting and enjoyable shopping experience because of the great variety of shapes, sizes and colors that meet your eye and the attractively packaged smoking tobaccos to accompany them.

According to the Pipe and Tobacco Council, more than half of the pipes sold for gifts are purchased by women. The council suggests that you give careful thought to your pipe purchase and consult with your local tobacconist to help you choose the most appropriate style for the man you are trying to please.

Here are some tips from the Council: If he's a tall man choose a long stemmed, large-bowled pipe. Shorter men look well with a small bowl. Curved stems are popular with students who are heavy readers and sandblast bowls suit the outdoorsman.

In smoking tobaccos, there is a wide selection of aromatic and non - aromatic blends, all attractively packaged in materials which assure freshness. A new smoker or a younger man will usually prefer the aromatic sweet-smelling tobacco, while the older, inveterate pipe smoker will welcome the heavier non - aromatic flavors. There are also blending kits available for those who like to experiment with their own mixtures.

If the man on your list is a pipe collector there are many unusual shapes and specially carved bowls to please him. There is also a large selection of enjoyable corn cobs and aluminum shanked briars.

In addition, buying him a pipe will lead to a variety of accessories to solve your gift problems for a long time to come. While pipe and tobacco hunting in your local shops you will see many beautiful humidors, pipe racks, pouches and other pipe smoking accompaniments which any man will appreciate and value. As you see the man of the house lighting up his new Christmas briar, the feeling of peaceful relaxation seems to epitomize the meaning of the Christmas season.

Don't Hang Little Pup In Stocking

NEW YORK (UPI)—Are you planning to get your children that little doggie in the window for Christmas?

Maybe your camera's all set to record the exciting moment when they first discover their pup dangling from the mantelpiece in a Christmas stocking.

This family tableau looks mighty cute on Christmas cards, but the Pet Food Institute reminds that no one would dream of stuffing a baby into a stocking or letting small children handle an infant like a rag doll.

Yet many well-meaning parents thoughtlessly subject a six or eight week old puppy to this treatment and later wonder why their dog cringes or snaps when strangers approach him.

The institute advises parents to explain to their children that their new puppy isn't like any other new toy, but has feelings like their own. Show them how to lift and hold him with two hands, so both his chest and hindquarters are supported. Make sure everyone who plays with the puppy understands that sudden motions and loud noises will frighten him and he'll snap or run away to hide. Either response can become a life-long habit.

LONG RECORD OF SERVICE

Christmas Seals Mark 57 Years Of Help In U.S.

When an institution is as old as Christmas Seals, its beginnings tend to become obscured. To many adults, as well as children, Christmas Seals seem simply to appear in the mail this time of year—like they always have and probably always will.

Christmas Seals are 57 years old this year, which gives them considerable seniority over Marin's populace whose median age is 30.6. And not as simple as they may seem are the Seals' mailbox appearances, present or past.

For example, this year's design was finally selected in October, 1961 by a committee representing staffs of Tuberculosis associations throughout the nation. Previously, a committee of representatives from both the graphic arts and the voluntary health agency had screened entries from artists all over the country. Designs competed for the $1,000 cash prize offered annually by the National Tuberculosis Assn.

A young free-lance artist from South Bend, Ind., created the seals which reached Marin homes this month. At the time she was Judith Campbell. She is now Mrs. Pietro Piussi of Florence, Italy, where her husband is a university professor.

Of her design, submitted in college, Mrs. Pietro said: "I tried to portray peace, wonder and well-being. It's Christmas. The kids have finished their snowman, whose scarf waves in the wind and around whom snowflakes fall through the blue twilight. In the other panel a warm light shines from the cheerful little house where the children have joined their parents."

Already selected and in production is the 1964 Christmas Seal design, destined to be reproduced billions of times. However, local artists are urged by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. to enter 1965 designs, due in New York this summer.

A woman also designed the first U.S. Christmas Seal, in 1907. She wasn't an artist and the money she hoped for, less than a third of the annual design prize, was not for herself. She was Emily Bissell, a Red Cross worker in Delaware, and she was desperately trying to raise $300 needed by her doctor cousin to keep open one of the first tuberculosis sanitoriums, descriptively called the Brandywine Shack.

Searching for means to aid a cause most people, even physicians, considered lost because "consumption" was believed fatal, she remembered a magazine article. In it Danish-American writer Jacob Riis told of a Christmas stamp Danish postal worker Einar Holboell originated in 1904 to raise money for sick children. Sold in Danish post offices, the world's first Christmas seals soon paid for a children's tuberculosis hospital.

In his article Riis pleaded for someone to borrow the idea to fight the disease in this country. His heart was in his plea; six of his brothers had died from TB.

Miss Bissell recalled the plea and responded. She first went to the Red Cross. They would not sponsor a seal, but she could use their name. Two friends loaned her money; a printer gave her credit on 50,000 stamps she had designed with holly and a Red Cross; volunteers put the seals in envelopes, as they have continued to do for 57 years.

The Wilmington postoffice was the scene of America's first Christmas Seal sales. After three days, she knew sales must be stimulated if the Shack were to be saved.

She turned for help to a large Philadelphia newspaper. The editor could see no connection between Christmas and the worst of all diseases. But Leigh Mitchell Hodges, a staff writer she visited, could. He interceded with the managing editor, the paper wholeheartedly supported the seals, and Miss Bissell collected not $300 but $3,000 to save the Shack and provide her country with a weapon to fight the disease that had taken more lives than any other.

Slowly, physicians changed their opinion. One who was already certain something could be done for TB victims was Edward Livingston Trudeau, who had been stricken by the disease shortly after graduating from medical school in 1871.

Resigned, after the first shock, he went to the mountains to die. Instead, peace and rest cured him, and he returned to wage a life-long battle against TB. His was the first TB hospital in the U.S., a 14 by 18 foot cottage at Saranac Lake, N.Y. And he was the first president of the National Tuberculosis Assn., organized in 1904.

Two years later, the association adopted as its symbol the familiar double-barred cross—the same emblem selected by the International Conference on Tuberculosis in Berlin in 1902.

The TB cross closely resembles the Lorraine Cross which dates back to the Patriarchal or Jerusalem Cross carried by the patriarchs of Jerusalem and Constantinople. It became familiar to Europe during the crusades of the 11th through 14th centuries. Godfrey, Duke of Lorraine and a leader in the first crusade, saw the cross in Jerusalem and adopted it as his own standard.

Although the TB cross was adopted nationally a year before Miss Bissell's stamp appeared, it was not used on Christmas Seals until 1919. The frequently forgotten reason is that the American Red Cross sponsored the seals in 1908 and 1909. For the next 10 years they co-sponsored them with the young Tuberculosis association.

The 1919 Christmas Seal, a stamp highly prized among the world's seals collectors, bears both the TB cross and the Red Cross, the latter for the last time.

Over the years Christmas Seals have financed other health projects, but always their primary and as yet uncompleted purpose has been to eradicate tuberculosis.

Christmas In Austria Is Family Affair

VIENNA (UPI)—Christmas in Austria is a family affair celebrated on Christmas Eve.

The children receive presents, not from Santa Claus or St. Nikolaus, who comes to them on Dec. 6 filling their socks with nuts, candy and fruit, but from the "Christkindl" or Christ child.

The children are sent to their room about 7 p.m. Christmas Eve and told to stay there until father rings the Christmas bell, usually made of tinkly glass.

Rushing into the living room, the children see the gayly decorated tree for the first time.

After the presents have been opened, it's time for the traditional Christmas dinner which, in Catholic Austria, consists of a fish main course with various side dishes. Then everybody goes to midnight mass.

Christmas Day is highlighted by a large goose dinner for the immediate family and other relatives who come visiting.

Belgian Children Get Early Gifts

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Belgian children will not find any gifts when they awake on Christmas.

The gift-giving day was St. Nicholas' Day, Dec. 6, when children woke to discover presents and sweets.

But the habit of exchanging gifts on Christmas Eve has increased since the war and customs now are similar to those observed in most countries.

GEM STORE GIFT HEADQUARTERS

Has Exciting Selections That Will Kindle Fond Memories Over Years

For centuries the jewelry store has been traditional gift headquarters at Christmas, carrying the most exciting selection of memorable gifts to be cherished through the years.

Gift-buyers, the Jewelry Industry Council reports, welcome the taste, trained fashion sense, good judgment and integrity that are synonymous with jewelers. This year, you will find an even greater assortment from which to make your selections.

When shopping for a watch, for instance, handsome styling and individuality are likely to be as important as accuracy to the wearer. And so great is the variety in watches this Christmas that only the trained jeweler can point out the merits and suitability of each one.

Utility watches, for out-of door wear and sports; pocket watches and chains for formal wear and wrist watches designed especially for professional business people are found to be in striking attractive styles.

Silver holloware — tea sets, bowls, dishes, trays — reflects the good taste of the giver as few gifts can. Because today's silverware is the focal point of fashion in the home, the factor of style judgment in selection can make for the most happiness all around, regardless of intrinsic value or price alone.

A glance at the showcases in your jewelry store will show you that each age group has been studied by designers with an eye to fashion and appropriateness. The jeweler offers gifts for infants such as: bent-handle spoons, silver rattles or teething rings with silver bells, brush and comb sets, pearls for starting a necklace, cups, bib holders, porringers and tiny gift rings.

For older boys, and men for that matter, the right tie tack, tie clip, cuff links, key chain or penknife are to be found at the jewelers.

A wide variety of gift suggestions for young girls includes a piece of sterling in her chosen pattern, her first piece of precious jewelry in the form of a pin, bracelet, locket or sterling picture frame.

Young women's gift choices are sure to include compacts, jeweled earrings and pins, clips and rings. Gifts of jewelry make any woman seem prettier—and younger.

Santa is linked in the minds of many with the fashions of today. That means jewelry and more of it. Again the jeweler can be helpful, for he makes it his business to know the fashion trends, whether it emphasizes longer waistlines, shorter sleeves, distinctive necklines, or whether the jewel accent is to be near the face, lapel, waist or elsewhere.

Sterling identification bracelets are worn early today by young men in their teens; their pen and pencil sets, leather wallets and desk accessories will tend to reflect personal tastes as well as future professions or occupations.

Rings may assume the importance of fraternal insignia, the dignity of initial or signet design. Perhaps the birthstone ring has become significant in the young man's life as a gift ring worth having and wearing for its symbolic meaning and proof of someone's lasting affection and regard.

LIGHT CAMERA HANDY; DURABLE

His first camera and a memorable Christmas! The small, light camera shown here is a good choice because a pre-loaded film cartridge is simply dropped in and clicked into position. A child can load, aim and shoot in just seconds. It takes color prints and slides as well as black-and-white. Tag junior's camera gift "Open Me First"!

GIVE HER ROSES that bloom on this Rose Noire print slip. It has fitted bodice held by adjustable straps of fabric-lined Val. Bodice and hemline are outlined in white imported Val beaded with black satin ribbon which rises into a fake slash.

CENTER THEME OF CANDLES

A lovely holiday hostess knows that an attractive table plays an important part in the festivities. Here, figurines serve as the centerpiece theme with candlesticks in two different sizes offering an interesting effect. For the flower holder, a silver compote; fine china in red and green motif; sterling silver place settings; a silver bowl; fine "mist tone" crystal—all adding up to beautiful entertaining.

Promise To Shop Early Is Always Scuttled By Virus

Two things always happen in the week before Christmas. 1) you promise faithfully to do your holiday shopping earlier than last year, to avoid last-minute buying and giftwrapping. 2) one of the children gets bedded down with the virus or flu.

A giftwrap stylist says, "Instead of just reading comic books, coloring or watching television while ill, a child can be given an enjoyable and creative crafts experience. Showing him or her how to make beautiful fluffy bows will be fun . . . and will help you when Christmas comes.

"Like many other simple crafts projects, this one can be learned quickly and easily — even by seven year olds," an expert asserts from experience.

The child-tested instructions are simple to follow. Demonstrate them once and then supervise the making of one big bow. You'll be surprised how readily the unwillingly confined patient gets the knack of it . . . and enjoys the pretty results.

With only half an hour's concentration a day, a dozen bows can be made easily in a week's time and stockpiled against the holiday giftwrapping rush.

A creator says, "I guarantee that no loving aunt, or doting grandparent will ever notice an imperfection in the gaily decorative bow when told who created it."

The only supplies necessary are a selection of ribbon; white paste (safe to use in bed because its container is unbreakable); and a pair of scissors with safely blunted edges.

The reason for providing several kinds of colors of ribbon is so your "artiste" can use imagination in creating many attractive combinations.

To make a wide, fluffy bow:

1. Cut six-inch lengths of ribbon in the colors and styles you and your youngster prefer. As a base for the bow, cut off the round end piece from the ribbon reel.

2. Fold one length of ribbon in half. Paste the tips together to form a loop. (To get just the right amount of white paste, make a cardboard spreader about the width of a pencil.)

3. Start first level of bow by pasting loops around rim of cardboard circle. Continue procedure until there is a full circle of ribbon loops radiating out from cardboard.

4. To make the second level, paste a ribbon loop over each space between ribbon loops on the first level. A full bow is achieved by adding several levels, in smaller and smaller circles, toward the cardboard's center.

Romantic Gift

For a romantic-looking gift, paste a paper doily in center of package that has already been wrapped; cut second doily to fit corners of box.

How Christmas Charity Began

The tradition of alms-giving at Christmas began with a legend, as did so many other holiday customs. It was believed at one time that the Christ Child went from door to door during the holiday season, disguised as a beggar, and asking alms, in search of kind and deserving souls.

Since no one knew when or where He might appear, Christians feared to turn beggars from their door lest they unknowingly turn away the Christ Child.

Never Fear If Man At Top Of List Problem: Give Bag

If the man at the top of your gift list is a problem, pack up your troubles in a new leather bag and he'll smile, smile, smile on Christmas morning.

Practical and elegant, leather luggage is a sure-fire man-pleasing gift this Yule season. The odds are he'll take a business trip, a long weekend or a full vacation this winter and need spacious, durable and lightweight leather bags.

With a great variety in size and style available, masculine leather luggage can be found to fit most any purse. In the luxury class, there are matched sets of soil-and scratch resistant smooth leather bags which include an overnighter, a two-suiter and a 26-inch case. You can add other matched pieces like a club bag — which packs at the top — as the need or occasion arises.

If his job calls for short trips to distant points, you'd be wise to select a leather "carryon," a compact bag designed to fit under the seat of a plane or tuck into the trunk of a compact car.

One practical new piece called a "shuttle bag" is a soft-sided combination of an overnight bag in the middle with two side pouches for papers and flat articles.

Modern flyway leather cases add almost nothing to the weight of his clothes — an asset at the airlines weighing-in counter. And with the shortage of porters at train stations and airports, he'll bless your thoughtfulness when he lifts the balanced weight of a modern lightweight leather case.

At his destination a bright, elegant leather bag will underscore a successful appearance. New developments in leather manufacture keep modern leather bags free of stains and scratches, and scar-resistant longer. A damp sponge or even a paper towel will restore his leather case to brand new freshness.

An attache case in suntan, saddle or black leather is a smart traveling companion for any man. There are dozens of different styles to fit his needs. Many have a side compartment for a clean shirt or an accordion file for papers. The busy executive who works as he runs will find an attache case flipped on its side makes a satisfactory portable desk on plane or train.

You Can Make Inexpensive Doll Furniture

You can give a little girl doll furniture for Christmas and spend almost no money.

Use a cigar box to make her a "cedar chest." Cover it carefully inside and out with wallpaper or gift wrap paper.

Make a wardrobe to match by covering a shoe box. Stand the "wardrobe" upright and make a hole on each side in the center of the box about an inch from the top. Insert a piece of yarn through the holes, knot at each end. Then cut hangers for doll dresses from pasteboard and hang on the pole.

You can glue together several large match boxes and cover with the same decorative paper, making a chest of drawers.

Once you start making furniture, you'll probably be able to think of uses for lots of boxes you've been saving "to use some day."

Ceramic Figurines Favorite Gift Item

Authentic ceramic figurines have been top-ranking collector's items among fans of all ages for nearly a quarter-century and a favorite gift item.

The Hummel made by the W. Goebel Co. of West Germany are instantly recognizable by the craftsmanship, subtle coloring, and the indented "M. I. Hummel" seen on the base of every piece.

The secret of these figurines' appeal lies in their unaffected, childlike, caught-in action feeling. Be it a little girl clutching a few wilted posies, a young boy merrily on the way to market, or a child frolicking with pets, their moods and manners are typical of tiny people the world over, and reflect the timeless dreams of eternal childhood.

This charm emanates from the artist's deep love and understanding of children. Berta Hummel, whose original sketches have been the basis for these ceramic figurines was one of six children who grew up in a home in Massing, Bavaria, where music and art were as natural as air and water.

Born in 1909, she demonstrated her talent and imagination at an early age, beginning by sketching and painting portraits of her young school friends.

Throughout her formal art training, including the Academy of Fine Arts in Munich, she continued her warm interest in children, artistically as well as personally.

An outstanding example of the fact that art and religion often go hand in hand, Berta Hummel entered the Convent of Siessen near Salgau and took her final vows as a Franciscan nun in 1934.

In the convent, as Sister M. Innocentia, she continued to make the sketches of children that have since made her and the convent famous throughout the world.

Exclusive rights for reproduction of three-dimensional figurines from the original art were given to the Goebel company, where artists translate sketches into figures.

When first manufactured, every design was approved by Sister Hummel. Now, a duly appointed nun at the convent approves new figurines.

Artist Inspired Spirit Of Christmas Season

The spirit of the Christmas season once flowed throughout the world from the home of a slight, shy English woman who has been all but forgotten by the world to which she gave so much.

Her name was Kate Greenaway, a noted artist of another century whose works inspired the habits, clothing and feeling of her day, not only in England but in America and on the Continent as well.

Miss Greenaway, born in 1846, began copying after her father, a wood engraver, in her early years. By the time she was 17 she won her first art prize — a bronze medal for six ceramic tile designs. Soon to follow were magazine sketches; children's books with both verses and sketches by Miss Greenaway; almanacs and, for six or seven years, a multitude of Christmas cards that vaulted her into great popularity.

Children, and especially their clothing, were Miss Greenaway's favorite art subjects. By 1883, when a "Kate Greenaway Boom" was in full sway, children on both sides of the Atlantic were dressed in styles inspired by her designs, which included ruffles, frills and laces for little girls; and rougher-hewn knickers, jackets and suits for boys.

The designs were so popular that they were reproduced on many items including calendars and carols; in books and on decorative ceramic tiles used to surface the facings and mantels of large English fireplaces, much as decorated American tiles are used on fireplaces today.

Miss Greenaway died in November, 1901, still a quiet and unassuming woman who nevertheless had become England's most famous woman artist. Today there are occasional mentions of her in collectors' and antique journals, but a New York dress shop that sells children's clothing patterned after her designs is the lone "living" reminder of her great talents.
